Fact-Finders To Rush Team To Laos

Probe Voted By U.N. Over Red Protests

Four-Nation Group Meets To Arrange Aggression Inquiry

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The new U.N. fact-finding group set up over Soviet protests hopes to fly a team to Laos by the weekend to inquire into charges of Communist aggression.

The four-nation subcommittee held its first meeting Tuesday, 12 hours after the Security Council had voted at an emergency session to investigate the reported invasions of the Southeast Asian kingdom from neighboring Red North Viet Nam.

Laos had asked for U.N. troops —such as those rallied by the Western powers after the June 25, 1950, invasion of South Korea by the Red North Koreans.

The current inquiry group was offered by the West as a modest compromise which the Soviet Union might not oppose too strongly.

SEATO Remains In Picture

En route here, Laotian Foreign Minister Khamphan Panya told newsmen in New Delhi that Laos may turn to regional organizations—such as SEATO—for help if the U.N. fails to stop troops entering Laos from North Viet Nam.

Asked if the U.N. inquiry group idea is satisfactory, he replied that anything to stop the fighting would suit Laos, and added: "We hope that when the U.N. is convinced there is aggression from abroad, it may send forces."

Ambassador Egidio Ortona of Italy, president of the Security Council, told newsmen here that all four countries on the inquiry subcommittee — Italy, Argentina, Japan and Tunisia—agreed that it was essential to carry out its tasks efficiently and as rapidly as possible.

The aim was to hold a first meeting of the working group here Thursday.

Moral Support

Laotian Delegate Thephathay Vilaihongs said the presence of the subcommittee in Laos will give great moral support to the government. He also expressed belief that no further aggravation of the situation will occur while the group is there.

Vilaihongs said he had a cable from his government denying reports that all North Viet Namese troops had been withdrawn. He said fighting still is going on in many places and that some North Viet Nam forces are still in Laos.

The preparations went on despite the Soviet Union's contention that the council had acted illegally in refusing to recognize Soviet negative votes early Tuesday as a double veto.

Laos Fears Assault On Provincial Capital

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — A government spokesman Tuesday reported widespread Communist troop movements across northern Laos in what might be the prelude to a concerted assault on the provincial capital of Samneua.

Acting Foreign Minister Sisouk Nachmakassak said that a buildup of Communist forces near the villages of Muonghet, Xiengko and Samteua indicated they would be used as staging areas for the all-out offensive against Samneua City.

He told his daily news confernie that Samteua, southeast of Samneua City was the target of a three - pronged enemy advance.

Government troops, he said, had abandoned Samteua and taken up positions in the jungle to conduct guerrilla operations if the Communists attempted to advance farther.

WEDDING DELAYED — D'Lynn Waldron, 22-year-old artist-writer from Pepper Pike, Ohio, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday from Hawaii with word that her planned marriage to a Nepalese prince is being delayed by unsettled conditions in the Far East. Her engagement to Prince Basundhara Bir Bikram Shah was announced last January. She said yesterday they still want to be married but it won't be until the troubled situation in the Far East "stabilizes."

Ike Prods Steel, Union To Settle 9-Week Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told the steel companies and Steelworkers Union leaders Tuesday that "half-hearted bargaining" is not enough. He urged both sides to get together in uninterrupted good faith bargaining to end the 56-day-old strike promptly.

The President addressed a letter to the presidents of the 12 steel companies involved in the strike and to David McDonald, president of the United Steel Workers Union, declaring it was disappointing to him and disheartening to the people that so little apparent progress toward settlement has been made.

He said the strike will enter its ninth week Wednesday.

"This dispute is not a test of power," he added. "The people of the United States do not look to the economic strength of either side to govern the settlement. They will be satisfied only by a just settlement, voluntarily arrived at, that will serve the interests of all our citizens.

"Half-hearted bargaining is not enough. Intensive, uninterrupted good faith bargaining, with a will to make a responsible settlement, is required."

The President said that compromising differences is a process with which he is familiar.

"I have seen far more difficult problems than the steel dispute resolved in far less time by people who spoke different languages and had diverse backgrounds," he declared.

"Everything in my experience leads me to believe that where there is a will to agree on both sides, there is a way to agree. The Steelworkers and the steel companies must find that way expeditiously."

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, who repeatedly has criticized both sides in the steel dispute for "leisurely" bargaining sessions, conferred with Eisenhower for a half hour Tuesday morning.

British Election Set For October 8

Macmillan's Conservatives Seen Favored

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan Tuesday ordered a national election Oct. 8. The Conservative chieftain asked the British to choose a leader who could speak for them at East-West summit talks. He expects that leader to be himself.

"Important international negotiations lie ahead," Macmillan told the nation.

"It is clearly right that the people should have the opportunity of deciding as soon as practicable who are to represent them in these negotiations."

Macmillan's confidence of defeating the Labor party and winning a third term for the Conservatives was reflected at once in the London stock exchange. Share prices soared.

Gaitskell Caught By Surprise

The announcement caught Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell in Moscow. He began to pack for a hurried flight home.

Labor's avowed policy is to swing Britain into a "third force" role in world affairs—nearer the Soviet Union and away from the United States.

Had Macmillan wished, the Conservative government could have stayed in office until next May, rounding out a five-year term.

But a variety of factors led Macmillan to choose the date only a month away.

Air Of Prosperity

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's meetings with President Eisenhower in Washington will have ended. It should be clear by then whether profitable summit talks—on which Macmillan has set his heart—are possible. Macmillan doubtless will repeat his claim during the campaigning that it was he who blazed the trail toward a cold war truce.

At home, there is an atmosphere of prosperity, although some economic warning signals have been spotted. Unemployment is lessening.

The brilliant weather and even the Queen's coming baby have contributed to a summer of contentment such as Britain has seldom known. The pollsters have been freely predicting a Conservative victory.

Bathing Beauty Contest Defended

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI)—Miss America pagent officials replied to Vatican complaints about bathing beauty parades Tuesday by declaring that swimming attire provides the most sensible means of judging a girl's figure.

Lenora Slaughter, executive director of the pageant, said swim suits would be included in the contest until swimming itself was decreed in bad taste for American girls.

Miss Slaughter was asked to comment on a denunciation of bathing beauty contests Monday by Osservatore Romano, the Vatican City newspaper.

Token Integration Begins In Florida Public Schools

ATLANTA (UPI)—Token integration was started in Florida public schools Tuesday, leaving only five states that have not accepted racially-mixed classrooms.

Admission of Negroes to previously all-white schools in Virginia also was expanded, raising to 63 the number of Negroes attending 14 public schools of the state.

This was the day when the big majority of southern schools opened their doors for the fall term and, in contrast to the troubles of recent years, there was scarcely a ripple of opposition to the integrated programs.

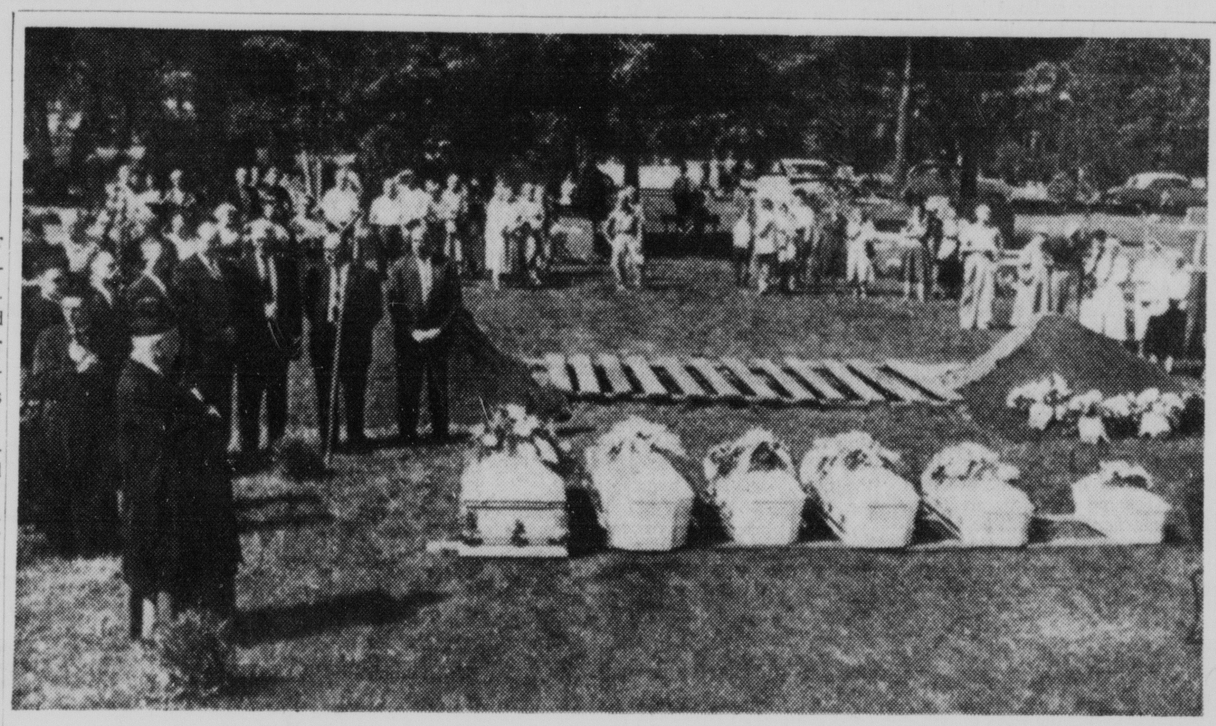

The Florida integration came in the Miami metropolitan area.

At the Orchard Villa School—in a neighborhood that has swiftly changed from white to non-white residences in recent months—four Negroes were admitted to the school with only eight white children. Other Negroes are expected to be assigned later.

At the Homestead Air Force base 20 miles south of Miami, 21 Negroes were admitted to a public school with 732 white children. All are dependents of the air base personnel.

Integration spread to rural Virginia for the first time with the admission of 21 Negroes to Warren County High at Front Royal, along with more than 300 white children. The white pupils had boycotted the school last year, going to private classes and leaving the big high school to the Negroes. The whites abandoned the idea this fall.

The Front Royal integration was accomplished without incident, as was integration of classes in Charlottesville, Alexandria, Norfolk and Porstmouth. The latter city integrated only a parochial school.

Six Victims Of Cottage Tragedy Buried

Graveside rites were held in Iron Mountain (Mich.) Cemetery Park yesterday for Mrs. John Rovge, 32, Milwaukee, and her five children, who were asphyxiated in a cottage tragedy near Townsend, Wis. An unvented refrigerator was believed by authorities to have been responsible for the deaths.

Rights Agency Proposals Stir Dixie Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Civil Rights Commission recommendation that federal registrars be used to assure minority groups the right to vote set off a new round of angry protests from Southerners Tuesday.

It also won vigorous support from various Northerners. There also were new steps to extend the commission's life.

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge (D-Ga) said the commission's report, formally released Tuesday, was "unparalleled for the arrogance and calculation by which it proposes to extend federal power over the intimate lives and inalienable liberties of the American people."

But Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) called it "a well-reasoned, middle-of-the-road document proposing some solid, hard-headed recommendations."

Javits introduced a bill to preserve registration and voting records in line with commission recommendations. He also offered a bill to make local registration officials subject to court injunction if they fail to fulfill their duties impartially.

Javits said he is having drafted for introduction soon a third measure to provide for establishment of federal voting registrars.

Of the six commission members, only former Gov. John S. Battle of Virginia dissented from the recommendation for the appointment of federal registrars. The report said this should be done whenever it can be shown that Negroes and members of other minority groups are being denied the right to vote in elections for U.S. officials, such as president and members of Congress.

Two other Southerners, former Gov. Doyle E. Carlton of Florida and Vice Chairman Robert G. Storey of Dallas, joined in the recommendation.

The three other members — Chairman John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University; the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of the University of Notre Dame; and George M. Johnson, a Negro lawyer—favored a 23rd constitutional amendment to prevent voting discrimination. Since the three Southerners voted against it, this did not take the form of a recommendation.

Mother Kills Two Daughters And Self

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI)—A mother shot and killed her two young daughters Tuesday then turned the gun on herself in what police said was a murder-suicide.

Mrs. Doris Sechrist, 31, of nearby Grinesville, killed her daughters, Deborah Ann, 9, and Diane Linda, 5, as they slept in their beds, then killed herself, police said.

The discovery was made by the husband, Glen, a deputy game warden in the area, when he arrived home late in the day. Police said the shooting occurred around 8 a.m.

$25,000 Reward

Aroused Little Rock Hunts For Bombers

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A $25,000 reward was posted Tuesday for the solution of three bombings linked to Little Rock school integration.

The Chamber of Commerce underwrote the reward. Earlier, a Little Rock consulting engineer proposed raising a $100,000 fund to track down the bombers.

One bomb hit the administrative building of the School Board whose members have been among the chief targets of segregationist ire. Another struck the business office of Mayor Werner C. Knoop. The third battered Fire Chief Gann Nalley's official car.

There were no injuries.

Two of Little Rock's four public high schools were integrated Aug. 12. Faubus closed all the high schools last year in his fight against integration ordered by federal courts.

Police kept a close watch on the two integrated schools, particularly Central High where a segregationist march was turned back by police and firemen on opening day. Two Negroes attend Central, and three are enrolled at once-white Hall High.

Faubus offered the help of state police in the bombing investigation.

The governor told a news conference that if the bombings were the work of segregationists, they were not helping their cause.

But again he struck out at what he called "forced integration."

"Of course, if the cases were removed, there wouldn't be any dynamiting in the first place," Faubus said, adding that the federal government was pressing something on the people against their will.

The Chamber of Commerce, in offering its reward, said the bombings had caused immeasurable damage to Little Rock's reputation.

"It is unthinkable that the criminal or criminals can go unapprehended," its statement said.

Ben W. Dees, the engineer who suggested the larger reward, said he would try to organize a movement to raise $100,000.

Fire Threatens Deadwood, S.D.

DEADWOOD, S.D. (UPI) — A raging Black Hills forest fire sent most of Deadwood's 4,000 residents fleeing Tuesday, but the storied western gold mining town appeared to have been saved.

The fire, which blackened the sky with plumes of smoke and pink clouds of flame above the last home town of Wild Bill Hickok and Calamity Jane, was blown along a high ridge past Deadwood towards Spearfish, S.D.

Howard Lee, the Black Hills, National Forest supervisor, said the fire started at 5 p. m. e.d.t. and "it is assumed to be man-made."

From 12 to 24 homes were blazing on two sides of Deadwood. There were no confirmed casualties, but a man was reported missing after he leaped off a bulldozer in the fire area.

One thousand volunteers fought the flames, which raged in 100-degree temperatures before 30 to 35 mile an hour winds.

Deadwood's evacuation proceeded without panic, except when 35 persons were trapped in a gully leading from a westside hotel to the Theodore Roosevelt Monument on a hill overlooking town.

A helicopter rescued some of the trapped 35, but had to land because the sky was so smoky the pilot couldn't see.

All 35 were reported safe, although one person was injured. Another 15 persons, however, were reported trapped in the area. A bulldozer began cutting a fire line around a beaver dam in the area so that the trapped persons could find safety in the water.

China Reds Step Up Air, Naval Activity

TAIPEI (UPI)—A Taipei newspaper reported Monday that the Chinese Communists were stepping up air and naval activities along the mainland coast opposite the Nationalist - held offshore islands.

The Independent China News said that the Communist air force had intensified its training activities in recent weeks near the Matsu offshore island group.

"Nationalist Air Force patrol planes are keeping constant vigilance in that area as a strictly defensive measure," the newspaper said.

Ike Will Report On His Travels Thursday Night

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will report by radio-TV to the American people Thursday night on his journey to Europe and on some current developments he discussed with Allied leaders.

Announcing this Tuesday, press secretary James C. Hagerty said the 15-minute talk will be carried live from 7:30 to 7:45 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time by the major networks.

This presidential appearance was listed in place of a news conference this week.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's imminent visit to America, Red activities in Laos, the problems of a divided Germany and isolated West Berlin, disarmament, and the NATO alliance were among matters said to have come up in Eisenhower's talks with Western European chiefs.

Hagerty did not specify what Eisenhower would discuss, nor did he say whether Eisenhower will discuss his reasons for inviting Khrushchev.

Eisenhower gave Republican congressional leaders an account of his European travels at their weekly White House meeting. The President was happy with the results which he believes "add up to a better understanding" with America's allies, reported the Senate GOP leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

On arriving home Monday from his 13-day venture in personal diplomacy, Eisenhower told airport welcomers that he had found not only governmental unity but, "far more heartening" deep friendship of West European people for the American people.

Opera Star Maria Callas Says Marriage On Rocks

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Opera star Maria Callas said Tuesday night her marriage definitely has broken up. The stormy soprano recently has been dating shipowner Aristotle Onassis, who was host to Miss Callas and her husband on an August yacht cruise in the Mediterranean.

Miss Callas denied that there was any "sentimental link" between her and Onassis.

Onassis in Venice said roughly the same thing at about the same time—that reports that he was sentimentally involved with Miss Callas were "silly inventions."

The soprano and Onassis commented to newsmen as her lawyers and her husband, along with his attorneys, had a heated, four-hour conference in a Milan hotel.

The singer is 35; her husband, Milan industrialist Giovan Battista Meneghini, is 62; Onassis is 55. The Meneghinis have been married 10 years.

The Onassis-Callas dating came to public attention late last week when they went night-clubbing together. Newspapers since have speculated on the future of her marriage and of Onassis' marriage to his pretty wife Tina, who was along on the August yachting party, as was Britain's Sir Winston Churchill.

There were rapid developments Tuesday night.

Q. What about Meneghini?

A. The breaking is definite. It has been coming for a long time.

Q. What about Onassis?

A. There is no sentimental link between us. He is only a good friend of mine assisting me in a difficult moment.

Public Works Bill Approved As Ike Defied

New Veto Invited; Truce Is Reached In Housing Battle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday night approved a $3,281,813,000 money bill to finance the foreign aid program for another year. The total was $294,982,000 less than the maximum authorized by Congress and requested by President Eisenhower.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lawmakers more interested in asserting themselves than in going home dampened chances Tuesday for an adjournment of Congress this coming weekend.

The House set the pattern of defying the administration during the day with passage of a new public works bill in place of one vetoed by President Eisenhower, refusing to alter it to meet the chief executive's main objections.

The Senate in a long and noisy night session passed a watered-down administration bill calling for interest rate boosts on some federal bonds, after putting a ceiling on any such increases. This move not only was against strong administration opposition but was a departure from the bill passed earlier by the House which accepted the no-ceiling version.

This means another conference before adjournment if the administration is to salvage anything at all of Eisenhower's higher interest rate aims.

Senate Follows House Lead

Then the Senate followed through on the public works bill, passing the House version by a thumping 73-15 vote despite warnings that it was inviting a second veto.

Earlier, one of the barriers to ending the eight-month session of Congress came down when Democrats came to terms with the Eisenhower administration on a housing bill.

But Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said he thought it very unlikely the Senate and House could shut up shop this week, mainly because of the foreign aid money bill.

Aid Bill Hanging Fire

Johnson noted to newsmen that the 3½-billion-dollar foreign aid appropriations bill still must be considered, and he said it cannot be called up in the Senate until Saturday.

The Senate Appropriations Committee, now putting that final money bill of the session into shape, voted 13-7 Tuesday to try to attach to it a rider keeping alive the Civil Rights Commission for two more years.

Southern Democrats are almost certain to fight this move when the bill reaches the Senate, but that fight is expected to stop short of a filibuster.

In major actions Tuesday:

1. The Senate Banking Committee, by a 13-0 vote, approved a billion-dollar housing bill after getting word that Eisenhower would sign it in its compromise form. He vetoed two previous housing bills, but the committee shaped this one to meet his strongest objections.

House OK's Works Bill 302-93

2. The House passed a $1,185,309,093 bill carrying funds for hundreds of rivers and harbors, flood control and other projects around the country, including 67 projects which prompted Eisenhower to reject an earlier version. The vote was 302-93, more than enough to override a veto.

3. The way was cleared for final congressional action on a bill to boost the federal gasoline tax from 3 to 4 cents a gallon. The added billion dollars in revenue would be applied to the financially-ailing highway construction program.

4. The House passed, 371-18, a bill which would authorize denial of passports to Communists and permit the President to forbid Americans to visit any area where their travel might seriously impair U.S. foreign relations.

Death Ruled Homicide

TANEYTOWN, Md. (AP) — The death of a 65-year-old farmer whose body was found Labor Day was described by the medical examiner Tuesday as a homicide.

State police identified the victim as Santo Roccella, who lived alone on a farm near Taneytown. They said he had died of a gunshot wound.

Strike Threat Layoff Case Growing More Complicated

BALTIMORE (AP) — The complex question of whether employes laid off because of a strike threat, even though it has not been fulfilled, are entitled to jobless compensation became even more complicated Tuesday.

The question is going to be decided ultimately by a court, but the procedure setting that stage was even subject to dispute.

The case involves about 1,000 workers at Bethlehem Steel. The company laid them off and objected to their applications for unemployment compensation.

The Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America had been authorized to strike when a contract at Bethlehem expired July 31. However, it did not strike and its members have been willing to work while negotiations continued.

The company, however, claimed that shipowners aware of the strike threat would not send their vessels ot the Bethlehem yard for fear of having them tied up. The resultant loss of business prompted the layoffs, the company claimed.

It is arguing that under Maryland law this makes the furloughed personnel ineligible for jobless pay. The wording of the law is that persons idle because of a "labor dispute" may not receive the weekly benefits financed by employers.

Representatives of labor tried unsuccessfully at the 1959 session of the Legislature to rewrite the law to spell out that only actual strikers or others who refused to report for work would be ineligible.

The company outlined its case last Wednesday to a hearing officer of the Department of Employment Security. The Board of Appeals then announced it would take over the hearing since both parties had disclosed they were going to court for ultimate decision.

H. Kemp MacDaniel, an attorney for the union and a state delegate for Baltimore County, declined Tuesday to submit an outline of his case to the Board of Appeals unless the company repeated its side.

MacDaniel argued that the previous outline was no longer valid since a new forum was established. John H. Mudd, attorney for Bethlehem, disagreed.

J. Robert Brown, counsel for the board, asked for another preliminary hearing Sept. 21. At that time, another effort will be made to have both sides agree to certain facts to be entered in the record and ignore others on which there are no contest.

If that can't be accomplished, Brown said "we might just as well eliminate the preliminary hearing and go into the final presentation sometime during the week of Sept. 28."

Heroic Father Dies Of Burns

BALTIMORE (AP) — A father who saved his two sons by dropping them to a neighbor from a second story window died Tuesday of burns suffered in a fire Friday at their home.

Lloyd Stitt, 37-year-old guard at the State Penitentiary, succumbed in the South Baltimore General Hospital.

His 30-year-old wife and the two boys 7 and 5 still are in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Stitt were evacuated from the burning second floor by firemen.

Patuxent Draws Fire Of Probers

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Baltimore County grand jury report on the Patuxent Institution has criticized "the erratic and confused condition in which we find this institution being run."

The jury reported on its findings after a study recommended because of the April 5 escape of 34 inmates at Patuxent. It is a pioneer facility for the diagnosis, treatment and confinement of defective delinquents — prisoners found to be mentally or emotionally incapable of curbing criminal tendencies.

The Howard County Grand Jury, two gubernatorial commissions and a legislative committee are also conducting studies of Patuxent.

As the Baltimore County jury report was issued, Patuxent officials asked the state to nearly double the $962,000 budget allotment for the institution. They requested $1,904,000 — most of the increase to be used for increasing its personnel staff from 170 to 233.

"In view of the erratic and confused condition in which we found this institution being run," said the Baltimore County jury, "we strongly recommend that a public semi-annual progress report be submitted to the governor . . . on the complete overall operations of the Patuxent Institution."

Janitor Jailed, Fined In Wake Of Wild Chase

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP) —A school janitor was fined $1,100 and sentenced to 14 months in jail Tuesday on eight traffic charges filed after a wild 40 mile chase in Prince Georges County.

Police Court Judge William H. McGrath imposed the penalties on Henry A. Nolin, 47, of Pawtucket, R. I. The hour-long chase through holiday traffic occurred Sunday after Nolin refused to pay the $1.25 toll on Chesapeake Bay Bridge, police said.

Nolin ran two State Police roadblocks and was stopped when he collided with a county police car used as a barricade on U. S. 301 near Upper Marlboro.

Nolin's only explanation was that he was in a hurry to return home for a family wedding. He was not represented by an attorney and did not testify.

"I was just tired and wanted to go home," he told the judge.

Nolin contradicted police testimony once. He said he struck a State Police car, not a county cruiser.

Two members of Nolin's family said they would try to have Nolin undergo a mental examination. They said he had never acted that way before and apparently "had snapped."

McGrath fined Nolin $500 and sentenced him to one year in jail for trying to run down a State trooper; $200 and 60 days on two charges of reckless driving; $50 for driving in the wrong lane, $100 for speeding, $50 for driving on a closed portion of the highway and $100 or 30 days in jail on each of two charges of failing to obey a policeman. Nolin pleaded innocent to all charges except one of reckless driving.

State Police said a doctor tried to give Nolin a mental examination shortly after the accident but the motorist was too upset.

Labor Dispute Hits Detroit Newspaper

DETROIT (UPI)—A dispute between the Detroit News and Local 13 of the pressmen's union blocked publication of Tuesday's editions of the News and also delayed publication of the Detroit Times for 5½ hours.

The dispute was termed an illegal work stoppage by the city's two afternoon newspapers. It apparently grew out of work orders for Labor Day publication.

Neither the News nor Times published any scheduled editions during the forenoon. About 2:30 p.m., the Times published its early edition and a spokesman said the Times would run off and deliver all five editions in its normal day's schedule, despite the delay.

A spokesman at the News said the News would not publish.

"Flying Duck" Can Hit 50 MPH

NEW YORK (UPI) — A combination land and sea craft that can "fly" over water at speeds up to 50 miles an hour has been developed by the Avco Corp., it was announced Tuesday.

Called the 'Flying Duck," it is a gas turbine-powered, hydrofoil version of the World War II DUKW, an amphibious landing craft.

The DUKW had a maximum water speed of six miles an hour, which made it an easy target. The speed of the Flying Duck could make it difficult to hit while carrying troops or cargo. It can operate for about five hours at top speed, with a sea range of 250 miles.

USS Maryland Silver Service Goes To State

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has agreed to turn over to the State of Maryland a silver service donated to the U. S. Battleship Maryland, Rep. Thomas F. Johnson (D-Md) said Tuesday.

Johnson has introduced a bill which calls for the silver service to be transferred to the Maryland Historical Society. The battleship has been decommissioned and is being junked.

Holiday Traffic Toll Set At 438

By The Associated Press

Traffic	438
Boating	29
Nonboating Drownings	62
Miscellaneous	84
Total	613

The death toll from traffic accidents across the country during the three-day Labor Day holiday added up to 438 Tuesday.

The National Safety Council had estimated 450 lives would be lost in traffic during the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday, local time. The total number of deaths this holiday compared with 420 for the same holiday period a year ago.

The council observed that the tragic toll should serve as a grim reminder of the need for greater driving care.

"It is always a shock to learn that a nation dedicated to humanitarianism and to the welfare of its people apparently cannot celebrate a holiday without a heavy and needless loss of life and limb," the council said in a statement.

The record traffic toll for a Labor Day week end is 461, set in 1951, when there were some 20 million fewer cars on the roads. Drownings and miscellaneous accidental deaths that year pushed the over-all toll to 653.

Nomination Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nomination of Henry Endicott Stebbins to be ambassador to Nepal was approved Tuesday by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Stebbins, 54, a career officer from Milton, Mass., testified he is pleased that his first ambassadorial appointment gives him a post "extremely important from the strategic standpoint."

Khrush Sees Self As Quite A Diplomat

Editor's Note—William L. Ryan has observed Nikita Khrushchev closely both on his home grounds and in his favorite role of traveling salesman. To mark Khrushchev's visit to the United States Ryan has written five articles delving into the Soviet leader's background and philosophy. This is the first.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Nikita Sergeyevitch Khrushchev is a sort of human intercontinental missile. When he tours the United States next week, scattering verbal sparks along the way, he will be displaying his best brand of polished diplomacy.

For Khrushchev apparently sees himself as quite the diplomat.

"I got my diplomatic talent from my parents," Khrushchev told admiring Communists recently. "But I picked up some polish from my contact with American, British and Belgian engineers and technicians in my early days as a miner. They taught me the ability to get along with foreigners."

His means of getting along with foreigners as Communist party boss and premier of the U.S.S.R. frequently has been to insult all within earshot.

The prospective visitor to the United States could hardly be described as polished. But he is a prototype of the new Communist proletarian elite, the small and privileged new ruling class which in itself is a distortion of Marxist notions of equality.

The new Khrushchev has tried hard for a bit of polish, however. Gone are the bell-bottom trousers and baggy, shapeless jackets which were the first step away from sloppy cap and drab, dark clothing once affected by members of Stalin's ienrn circle.

The new Khrushchev leans to flashy, colorful clothes and Western styles, like the suits he imported from an Italian tailor shop.

The one-time coal miner and shepherd boy has come a long way. He likes to boast of his humble origins as grandson of a Russian serf. His parents eked out a precarious living at Kalinovka, where he was born April 17, 65 years ago. His birthplace, near the Ukrainian border, accounts for the heavy tinge of Ukrainian accent in his rapid, frequently ungrammatical Russian.

Glorying in the title of "honorary miner," Khrushchev recently told mine workers in Poland he still loves the smell of coal. But he's far removed from it.

Khrushchev never smoked. There are no ashtrays on his desks and he doesn't like visitors to smoke in his presence. He tries to discourage it among young Communists. He once was a two-fisted drinker, but he had tapered off in recent months, probably on the orders of doctors and in deference to some sort of kidney or liver ailment.

The name Khrushchev is derived from a Russian root "Khrushch," meaning a chafer or scarab-like beetle which is described as "large in size and in flight." The way Khrushchev propels his 220 pounds of clumsy energy about could suggest the erratic movements of an agitated beetle. But unlike the beetle, the Soviet boss knows where he's going.

The 5-foot-5 Premier gives the impression of never relaxing the rugged pace that would floor a lesser man.

Most noted for his pungent off-the-cuff remarks, Khrushchev in reality is a ponderous, marathon speaker who perches spectacles on nose and reads hours-long speeches liberally sprinkled with the monotonous cliches of Communist jargon.

Khrushchev also can sit patiently, hands folded on his ample middle, bald head cocked in an attitude of rapt attention, and listen for hours to long, dreary speeches of bureaucrats' about him. Khrushchev loves an argument, but none dares argue with him.

On his road shows, Khrushchev exudes a crude peasant charm which both shocks and captivates the more cultivated in his audiences. But the charm fades when Khrushchev is crossed. Then he roars, and one is aware that beneath the thin layer of personal charm, the man is hard as steel.

If there is any soft side about Khrushchev at all, it is in his family life. His motherly wife Nina pays little attention to her husband's stormy politics as she clucks over a brood of grandchildren.

Khrushchev is believed to have married Nina Petrovna in 1938, when he was vaulting into Stalin's Politburo. Apparently his former wife died. Nina raised Khrushchev's four children and is helping raise his four grandchildren. One of Khrushchev's sons, Leonid, a pilot, was killed early in World War II.

Khrushchev himself, though at the top of the heap, still is no Stalin, nor is there much chance he can be a Stalin. He rules with the consent of others in his powerful Communist political machine. But he apparently is supremely confident of his present position — confident enough to leave the country on frequent long journeys such as his forthcoming one to the United States.

Eggs have the same kind of high quality protein found in meat and milk.

Railroad Runs Through Middle Of Missile Base

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — What will Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev remember most from his train trip from Los Angeles to San Francisco?

A coastline termed the most beautiful in the nation? Fertile fields and herds of fattened cattle? The historic city of Santa Barbara—now the playground of the rich? The multi-colored patterns of flower fields?

Probably not.

A large blue and white billboard—the Russian leader could hardly miss it—stands beside the Southern Pacific tracks on a wind-swept sand dune.

It reads:

"Welcome to Vandenberg Air Force Base. Home of the 1st Ballistic Missile Division of the Strategic Air Command." A Strategic Air Command shield—a mailed fist holding an arrow and a bolt of lightning — is inscribed, "Peace is our profession."

The sign is framed by three 12-story high Atlas missile gantrys—the platforms workmen use to service the missile. War-ready Atlas weapons—capable of hurling hydrygen destruction more than 6000 miles—stand in the gantrys.

Those gantrys and missiles are poised to strike out at any aggressor. The Air Force says their targets are pre-selected and presumably are inside the Premier's country.

The missiles are almost within stone-throwing distance of the railroad tracks. On the other side of the tracks are five launch pads used for the Discoverer research project.

Newsmen covering launchings at the base have often joked to the Air Force:

"Next time I'll buy a train ticket. The passengers on it can see more than we can from the press site. They get the Cook's tour of the base."

The tracks run right through the middle of the base.

While trains pass through the sprawling base—and it probably will be the same with the Soviet group's special—an experimental jet helicopter follows it.

"That's to keep people from jumping off in a security area," explain Air Force officers.

"We don't want anybody poking around out there. And besides there are still some unexploded land mines out there left over from World War II when this was Camp Cooke and a tank center."

Heads For U. S.

Can't Keep Awake

HALIFAX, England (UPI) — Archdeacon Eric Treacy appealed to readers of his monthly newsletter Tuesday to tell him "how to stop nodding off in public." The 52-year-old Treacy said he fell asleep recently while his Bishop Dr. John Ramsbotham, was speaking and was awakened by the applause. "I have tried everything, including pinching myself, asking my neighbors to prod me —all to no avail," he said.

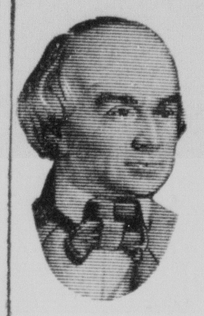

Although the ordinary house moth lives only three weeks, it often deposits more than 200 eggs in that time.

Sickness, Accident and Hospital Insurance

—to help protect you against today's rising cost of medical care
—to help replace income you lose because you're sick or hurt
—to help provide for your family if you're killed in an accident

New Selector Plan lets you choose the exact type and amount of protection that's right for your needs—and your budget!

HOW WOULD YOU MAKE OUT? Hospital rates have gone up 97.6% in the past ten years. Have you increased your protection to match today's high cost of being sick or hurt?

In the few minutes it takes to read this important message, sickness or accident will disable 600 people. Of these, 180 will be admitted to the hospital. Each will face a daily charge averaging $28 for basic care alone. How would you make out?

If you're like most people, you already have some form of sickness, accident or hospital insurance. But inflation may have watered it down to where it would pay only a small fraction of hospital and doctor bills. Just "some insurance" or workmen's compensation may not give you all the protection you need.

Also, you may have overlooked insurance coverages that would protect you against the ruinous costs of a long, lingering illness or a serious accident. Almost anyone can afford to pay for one or two days in the hospital. The "long pull" is exactly when you need insurance the most. Yet it is a tragic fact that only one family in ten is financially prepared to face the costs of a serious disability—costs that can shatter a family's financial security, especially if the breadwinner's earnings are interrupted.

You may have risked going along with the protection you have because you've assumed that rising costs have also priced adequate coverage beyond your reach.

But now Allstate's Accident and Sickness Insurance provides you with a sensible new plan designed to help you solve these problems—at a cost you can afford.

WHAT THIS NEW POLICY BRINGS YOU

Here, in one flexible policy, you will find a broad selection of top-value coverages. You can select exactly the protection you need to close the gaps in your present insurance—at surprisingly little cost. This sensible plan lets you buy only what you need, without waste or duplication—pays in addition to any insurance you may now have. Or if you have no protection, it can be used as a sound basic plan.

Here Are A Few Of The Ways Allstate's New Plan Could Fit Your Needs:

YOU MAY NOW HAVE an employer or group plan that would pay you only for a few months after accident or sickness disables you.
YOU SHOULD HAVE an Allstate coverage that will pay you a monthly, tax-free income so you can provide for your family's living expenses while you are disabled. (Maximum: 5 years if totally disabled from sickness; for life if totally disabled; 6 months if partially disabled due to accident.) You can select the amount of income protection you want up to $400 a month for total disability—up to $200 a month for partial disability.

YOU MAY NOW HAVE a basic hospitalization plan which may pay you for only a few weeks.
YOU SHOULD HAVE an Allstate coverage that will begin paying after your present policy stops, to give you protection against in-hospital expenses of serious, drawn-out illness or disability . . . that pays 75% of hospital expenses for as long as 2 years for each accident or illness for each member of your family. (Maximum payment: $5,000 per person.) Or you can strengthen your basic hospitalization plan with an Allstate coverage that will pay daily hospital expenses in addition to the protection you now have.

YOU MAY NOW HAVE insurance with relatively few benefits—that pays only a small part of the actual costs of a long, lingering disability.
YOU SHOULD HAVE an Allstate coverage to help you with the major expenses of doctor, surgeon (including specialist) care, nursing costs and many other medical services, whether incurred in or out of a hospital.

YOU MAY NOW HAVE savings that could keep your family going for 6 months or a year if you were killed in an accident.
YOU SHOULD HAVE an Allstate coverage that pays $15,000 cash if you are killed in practically any type of accident. Pays in addition to any other payments made by this policy.

Allstate's modern approach to today's most needed, least understood kind of insurance brings you these special advantages:

1. New sensible "Selector Plan." Allstate fits the insurance to your needs. You buy what you need, without waste or duplication. Your Allstate Agent is a thoroughly trained, licensed, professional insurance man who will help you choose the protection that is exactly right for your needs.
2. Sears kind of value—Allstate was founded by Sears and won over five million friends with the same big-volume, low-overhead, quality-for-less way of doing business that made Sears famous.
3. Proven dependability—Allstate revolutionized auto insurance by cutting red tape, and settling claims fast, the modern efficient way. Allstate's Accident and Sickness Insurance is backed by the same considerate approach to claims service.

It's human nature to put it off . . . but don't! The average man is disabled 17 times during his lifetime. Facing odds like these, you owe it to yourself to get the facts.

Suspect In Slaying Admits Stealing Bull

SALISBURY (AP) — A Wicomico timber cutter has been charged with stealing a bull and is being held at the same time for investigation in the fatal shooting of his wife.

Sheriff Samuel A. Graham said Oscar Griffin, 50 of nearby Quantico, underwent a lie detector test Monday with a companion, Clete Jolly, 50, during the probe of the death of Mrs. Myrtle Lee Griffin, 45.

During the test, Griffin said he had stolen the bull last Aug. 12 from Herbert Harris of the Quantico section. The animal valued at $120 was slaughtered and sold.

Graham is awaiting the report of an autopsy in the death of Mrs. Griffin. She was found lying across a bed in the home where the couple and Jolly resided.

Policeman Faces Homicide Charge

BALTIMORE (AP) — Police Sgt. John Pumphrey's superior officer said Tuesday the 36-year-old policeman would be charged with homicide in the death of a man whom he hit with a nightstick.

Capt. Wade Poole of the Western District said Pumphrey, a member of the force for 11 years, would be charged with the fatal beating of Paul Clingenpeel, 25, who was injured in resisting arrest Sunday.

Clingenpeel died about 12 hours after his arrest from a blow on the head.

Pumphrey said Clingenpeel became abusive when he started questioning him about a man found lying on a sidewalk nearby. Pumphrey suffered nose and leg injuries in the fight which followed. Police said the dead man had a record that included assaulting an officer, disorderly conduct and drunkenness.

Elderly Woman Is State's 344th Auto Victim Of '59

By The Associated Press

A 76-year-old Eastern Shore woman became Maryland's 344th traffic death victim of 1959 when she was struck by a car Tuesday in Chestertown.

Mrs. Ethel D. Bramble of Chestertown suffered a fractured skull in the accident and was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital.

Cpl. W. E. Kulley of the Maryland State Police said Mrs. Bramble was struck as she stepped off a curb at Washington Avenue and Kent Circle.

The new fatality was recorded shortly after the state closed its books on a Labor Day weekend which took seven lives in traffic accidents and three by drowning.

The latest victim was Gertrude Howard, 72, of Vista, Md. She died early Tuesday in Prince Georges County Hospital an hour after she was struck by a car on Defense Highway.

State Police said Albert W. Turner, 42, of Mitchellville, said she stepped in front of his auto. He was charged with manslaughter and reckless driving.

Khrush Reserves Right To Define "Coexistence"

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

A short time ago Nikita Khrushchev dipped into his apparently inexhaustible supply of what he calls old Russian proverbs and announced that one should "enjoy hospitality, but tell the truth."

This was at Veshenskaya on Aug. 31, when the Communist boss dropped in on novelist Mikahil Sholokov. If, as he hinted, the proverb was supposed to mirror his pure intentions with regard to his United States visit, Khrushchev must have been referring to his own version of what is truth.

Blandly, the Soviet Premier went on to say that, "There never has been any propaganda waged in the U.S.S.R. against the United States." There have been only protests, he explained, against American "militarists."

There has been ceaseless propaganda against the United States, apart from that section of it Khrushchev labels the "ruling circles." For years Soviet propaganda diligently has painted a picture of Americans terrorized by police state measures, of workers denied a voice in their government, of major political parties serving as tools of the "monopolies," and so forth. Khrushchev himself has contributed to all this.

But, says Khrushchev, "We are going to the United States with the best intentions." He is coming to enjoy some American hospitality, and he has given Americans an idea of what is his notion of the truth.

In his article in the current issue of Foreign Affairs, U.S. quarterly, Khrushchev says there are only two choices for the West: peaceful coexistence with the Communist world or war. But Khrushchev reserves completely to himself the right to define what is meant by peaceful coexistence, a term coined by his predecessor Lenin.

If Khrushchev means what Lenin did, he must regard the Communist world as relentlessly and constantly at war with the non-Communist, a war in which peaceful coexistence means merely the absence of shooting so long as shooting is inconvenient.

Khrushchev leaves the impression he believes peaceful coexistence can be achieved only through capitulation to all major Soviet demands. What he seems to have been offering is a take it or leave it package. For example:

On trade: Khrushchev says there can be no peaceful coexistence unless "all barriers in international trade" without exception are eliminated. The West cannot withhold any strategic materials whatever from any Communist world bidder.

On Germany: There can be no peaceful coexistence without a peace treaty with the two Germanys, West and East. The West must accept indefinitely the legality of the division of Germany. It must disarm West Germany and leave it naked before the threat of Communist conventional arms.

On captive nations: There can be no peaceful coexistence, says Khrushchev, unless the West completely abandons the idea of a roll-back of communism. History, says Khrushchev, cannot be reversed. Wherever it holds sway—indeed, wherever it has prospects of holding sway—Communist rule must be accepted as legal and final.

On disarmament: The Soviet Union is prepared to talk about this on its own terms. But when the West asked for controls and guarantees, this, said Khrushchev at Veshenskaya, was "not a case of disarmament, but an ultimatum."

Car Kills Woman, 84

GREENCASTLE, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Etta Poe, 84, R.D. 3, Greencastle, died Tuesday when struck by an automobile as she was walking across U.S. 11 four miles south of this Franklin County Borough.

State Trooper Daniel F. Brennan said Mrs. Poe walked into the side of a car driven by Dorothy B. Kerkhoff, 49, (534 Brown Ave.) Hagerstown, Md.

Idea Of Pigeon Missile Pilots Isn't So Wild

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Ever hear of a determined pigeon piloting a missile in a suicide dive at an enemy battleship?

Well, you almost did, according to a story told recently by Dr. B. F. Skinner, Harvard University psychologist. It was a World War II scheme that never came to fact.

But now there's no reason why pigeons can't be trained to pilot a missile to land on the moon, Dr. Skinner said.

He began his story this way: "This is the history of a crackpot idea—of an idea born on the wrong side of the tracks, intellectually speaking, but that was eventually vindicated."

It began at the University of Minnesota in the late 1930s when psychologists discovered they could train pigeons to recognize some shapes and patterns, he told a meeting of the American Psychological Assn.

World War II gave birth to the idea of letting the pigeon memorize a target and then, by some method, learn to recognize the target again and somehow pilot a missile toward the target.

Researchers built a chamber in which the pigeon was strapped. The pigeon would see the target on a screen in front of him and peck at the target. When the target moved on the screen, the pigeon would peck at its new location.

By using special materials, engineers managed to get a signal out of the pecking—a signal that was fed to the guidance control of the device. If the target moved left, the signal corrected and brought the missile back on course.

The scheme was abandoned in 1944, after the sponsor, General Mills Co. and the University of Minnesota, were unable to convince government sources that it was practical.

MOSCOW (UPI)—A new department of Theory and History of Atheism has been created at Moscow University, the official Soviet news agency tass announced. The department will train cadres of propagandists for the promotion of scientific atheism.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: Now I know what the prisoner of Zenda felt like. I'm locked in my room — and I DO mean locked.

I went steady with this boy for a month. Last week I met another fellow I liked so I told my steady we weren't going steady any more. He got nasty and called me a vulgar name. I lost my temper and slapped his face. His glasses fell off and broke on the cement sidewalk.

He went right to my house, handed the broken glasses to Mother and told her I was a maniac. My mother put the glasses in Daddy's dinner plate and boy did I ever catch it! My father has to pay $18 for new glasses and I can't go anyplace but to church for a month.

You'd think my parents would be proud of me, but instead they're treating me like a criminal. Is this fair? — BEHIND BARS

DEAR BEHIND BARS: The only unfair part of the story is that YOU aren't paying the $18 out of your allowance or money earned.

You should not have slapped the boy's face. If you had turned on your heel and left the cad standing there, you'd have maintained your dignity and been a real lady. And a FREE one — instead of a cooped up chicken.

DEAR ANN: In January, I started to go with a man who said he was divorced. Three weeks ago a woman phoned and said she was Neal's wife. I thought she was a crank so I hung up on her.

That evening I told Neal about the call thinking he'd laugh it off. Instead he told me he was still married but "working on a divorce."

Last night we were supposed to go to the ball game but he phoned at 6:00 to say he had to leave town on business. About 11:00 I got suspicious and phoned his apartment. A woman answered. I asked who it was and she said, I'm Neal's wife. What's so odd about a woman living with her husband?"

I asked if they were splitting up and she said, "He tells that to all the girls. He's a great kidder. Don't take him seriously, Dear." I almost died.

What kind of game are these two slobs playing anyway? — BEE-WILDERED

DEAR B.: Sounds like a game of cat and mouse. The mouse seems to be acting like a rat — and the cat doesn't object. Where'd you find this gem anyway?

Next time check more carefully on your playmates.

DEAR ANN: We live next door to some people who are very difficult to figure out. My husband said last night. Those characters are one for Ann Landers." So—I'm writing to see if Ann Landers can figure them out.

They haven't painted their home in 10 years — won't spend the money. I'm quite sure they don't own a lawn mower because they always borrow ours. They sit in the dark half the time to "save the juice." Yet, get this, Ann, they drive a '58 Chrysler Imperial and last week they bought a boat for $6,000! Are WE crazy or are they? — NO SIG

DEAR NO SIG: Why does anybody have to be crazy? This is merely an example of differences in values. To some people a car is the most important thing in the world. Others put everything on their backs. Still others buy rare books. It has no relation to right or wrong, crazy or sane.

It would be a pretty dull world if everyone's values were the same, wouldn't it?

To Hold Service

TOKYO (UPI)—Prominent Japanese, including civic and government leaders, will hold a memorial service Wednesday for the late John Foster Dulles, known as the "architect of the Japanese Peace Treaty." U. S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II also will attend the service in Hibiya Public Hall in Tokyo.

Will Probated

The will of Walter P. Schlund, city, who died August 29 was admitted to probate yesterday in Orphans Court. His sister, C. Louise Zimmerla, 446 North Centre Street, was named executrix of the estate and along with Mary E. Porter, a niece of the deceased, a beneficiary.

Paid For Launching

PORTSMOUTH, England (UPI)—The wife of British Adm, John Unwin collected shipbuilders' wage for laying the keel of a ship Monday. Mrs. Elizabeth Unwin received five shilling (70 cents) for cutting the ribbon that started the cranes lowering the keel into place. She also checked it with a level. The admiral said the payment "represents the piecework rate for laying a keel."

Recommendation

GENEVA (UPI) — The World Federation of United Nations Association (WFUNA) Sunday recommended staged abolition of nuclear arms and other weapons of mass destruction. WFUNA, a non-government organization with consultative status with the U.N., wound up its week - long 14th session Sunday.

$280,000 Damages Sought In Auto Death

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Damages totaling $280,000 are sought for the death of an Annapolis man in a traffic accident on U.S. 50 in December, 1957.

The suit was filed in Anne Arundel County Circuit Court on behalf of the widow and three children of George R. Ritter Sr., killed in a collision between an automobile and a tractor-trailer.

Defendants are Albert H. Wagner, operator of the auto in which Ritter and his wife were passengers, and Kenneth K. and Harry E. Zechman, operators of the Blue Diamond Co. which owned the truck.

The suit charged that Wagner and Bernard H. Carr, driver of the truck, contributed to the accident which occurred as Wagner's car crossed the eastbound lane of the highway into the service entrance of the Chesapeake Inn, a restaurant near the Bay Bridge.

Obey That Impulse!

That's right — go ahead and splurge on a marvelous, wildly extravagant fashion. Then turn it into the best investment you've ever made, by backing it solidly with wonderful clothes that form the backbone of every well-planned wardrobe.

Would a snow-white polar coat look delicious on you? Buy it! And wear it every day of the week over fall's softened dresses. The new tweeds, plaids, Jacquards, jerseys and flannels are perfect office equipment — and look so right under your furry splurge.

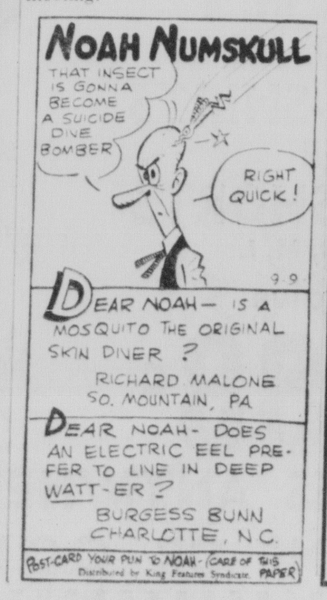

Or give in to fall's new glovery. Invest in a handful of brilliantly hued glace gloves and see how fall's exciting knit fashions take on additional luster. The newest ones tuck and puff at the cuff, come in lengths from wristbone to elbow, to meet every sleeve.

Hats and shoes, the most touted female weakness, can be the greatest impulse buys ever. Take a red leather, ruffle-front shoe (set on a small, shaped heel) and watch it transform classic tweeds into conversation pieces. Or see how a curly white lamb tam adds frosting to an elegant black tailored suit or a simple jersey dress.

K. Of C. To Meet

Amounts (to nearest $50,000) figured on the percentage of all federal taxes collected in each state. Current tax collections used as basis.

Every American is taxed to put the federal government into the electric business, and the cost to people in your state has run into millions of dollars.

This so-called "public power" has already cost the nation's taxpayers $5,500,000,000. And certain lobbyists and pressure groups are trying to boost the total to $15,500,000,000.

Such spending for more federal "public power" is completely unnecessary. For the hundreds of independent electric light and power companies, like this one, are ready and able to provide all the low-price electricity people will need—without depending on your taxes.

Federal "public power" keeps growing because most people don't realize they are paying for it. When enough people understand, you can be sure they'll call a halt to this unnecessary tax spending. Will you help spread the word?

Garbage Collection Pay Change Planned By City

Charter Amendment Resolution 11, which would repeal 1955 charter sections pertaining to wage-hour regulations applying to contractors with the city, went to its first reading before the Mayor and Council yesterday and will be considered again next Monday.

The sections to be repealed pertain to number of working days and hours a week, wage rates to be included in contracts and also the manner in which bids shall be advertised for any public works exceeding $1,000.

The repealed sections will also include the garbage contract. Under the present charter, the garbage contractor is required to pay same wage scales as that of the city to his employes for like or similar work. All other contracts were based on rates established for Cumberland and vicinity by the U. S. Department of Labor, Maryland Employment Security Board, all contractors and/or their subcontractors engaged in any public work.

Sources said that in effect, the proposed resolution will remove the garbage contract will remove city rate requirement. Since new city pay increases went into effect September 1 and the proposed resolution would not be effective until November or later, a legal question might be involved.

The garbage contract goes into effect October 1. The question is whether the contractor goes by the prevailing rate in effect at that time or must abide by the new resolution for the next year.

In that regard, council yesterday approved the bid of Emmett A. Dougherty, a former contractor, for the collection of garbage for one year beginning October 1. Daugherty submitted the low bid of $74,945, with options to renew for the next years.

City Attorney William R. Carscaden was out of town and unable to attend yesterday's session.

One Killed, Nine Hurt In Road Accidents

One person was killed, nine hospitalized and several others injured on highways in the Cumberland area over the long Labor Day weekend.

However, in the immediate Cumberland section, Maryland State Police at LaVale reported a "quiet" weekend with only two personal-injury accidents.

The accidents, one at Rawlings and one at Flintstone, both occurred Monday night and hospitalized two persons.

Mrs. Mary B. Wills, 43, of Piedmont, was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser after being injured along U. S. Route 220, two miles south of Rawlings. Hospital attaches today reported her condition as "satisfactory."

John S. Menefee, 37, of Sandusky, Ohio, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital after being injured in a one-car accident on U. S. Route 40 near Flintstone. He was reported in "fair" condition yesterday at the hospital.

The lone fatal accident occurred Sunday night on U. S. Route 50 in Preston County when Harry Zeil, 53, Youngstown, Ohio was killed instantly.

Lester Leroy Boatright, 37, Homestead, Pa., was admitted Sunday to Bedford County Hospital after the car in which he was riding crashed into a utility pole near Shellsburg, Pa. Hospital attaches today reported him in "good" condition. He sustained lacerations of his left leg and possible rib fractures.

Three other persons were hospitalized Sunday night with injuries sustained in an auto accident on U. S. Route 50 in nearby Mineral County, W. Va.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital here were Keith Painter, 52, of McLean, Va.; Allan Hoye, 41, and his wife, Mrs. Betty Hoye, 19, of Akron. All are listed in "satisfactory" condition at the hospital.

In the first serious accident of the weekend, three persons were hospitalized following a one-car wreck Saturday on Backbone Mountain, two miles west of Bloomington. Hospitalized at Potomac Valley in Keyser were Mrs. Virginia Mae Wilson, 39, of RD 1, Bloomington; her husband, Forrest Raymond Wilson, 39, and Dailey Woodward Shockey, 39, of RD 1, Keyser.

Mrs. Wills was injured Monday night when struck by a station wagon being driven by Robert L. Showalter, 43, McCoole, who was traveling south along U. S. Route 220 at Rawlings.

State Police said Mrs. Wills' vehicle had run out of gasoline and she stopped in the traffic lane along the highway. The Showalter station wagon then rammed into the rear of the woman's car.

Attaches at the Keyser hospital said the woman underwent surgery Monday. She reportedly sustained leg and arm injuries. injuries.

Menefee was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital about 10:30 p. m. Monday after he overturned his vehicle near Flintstone.

State Police said he apparently failed to make a left curve, ran off the shoulder of the roadway and overturned. He sustained lacerations of his head and a dislocated left shoulder.

TO SPEAK HERE — Gladys Aylward whose life story was the subject of "Small Woman," condensed by Reader's Digest magazine and portrayed in a current Hollywood film, "The Inn of the Sixth Happiness," will speak at the new First Methodist Church, 1707 Frederick Street, at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, September 16. A heroine of war-torn China, Miss Aylward has bee making her first American speaking tour for church congregations and civic clubs.

Man Fined $500 On Motor Counts

A 36-year-old Chevy Chase man was fined $500 yesterday by Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt in Trial Magistrates' Court on three separate motor vehicle violations.

Charles Vanson Allen, who is employed as an automobile mechanic in Bethesda, pleaded guilty to counts of operating on a revoked license, altering an operator's license and displaying an operator's license not his own.

He was fined $200 on each of the first two counts and $100 on the third. Magistrate Weatherholt committed the man to the county lockup and gave him 48 hours to pay his fine. He will be committed to the House of Correction for a six-month term if the fine is not paid within that period.

The man was arrested by Trooper C. T. Snow of the State Police on Wineow Street early Saturday morning.

Employe's Salary Correction Is Rejected

The Mayor and Council by a 3-2 vote yesterday rejected a move to correct the salary of one employe to correspond with two others doing similar work and indicated applications for corrections and adjustments would be considered all at one time.

The vote came on an order introduced by Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder to correct the salary of Guy F. Long, watchman and weighmaster at the City Warehouse. Long receives $3,000 annually while two other warehouse watchmen receive $3,122 under the city pay setup. Mrs. Roeder said the request was made on the basis that Long has more responsibility and book work.

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming said he could not see the advisability of correcting the salary now and added it should have been done before. This should be withheld until a job reclassification and constant wage scale is set up, he added. Fleming said there are people working for the city, secretaries and clerks, for example, that aren't leveled out as far as salary is concerned.

Questioned by Street Commissioner John J. Long whether the order could be changed or withdrawn, Mrs. Roeder said she could not see the purpose of doing that. Further, she said, this situation is not related to oth situations, is not an adjustment but a correction. She said that a classification had been attempted during recent budget talks of council but "the rest saw fit to give across-the-board wage increases to individuals in their departments. We are not any nearer to classification," she said.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech pointed out that employes had been told to submit requests for adjustments to their department heads and they would be considered by council. He said he is not opposed to correcting Long's salary but if one is considered all should be considered, even from the standpoint of correction.

Guy Long's position is under the Finance Department.

Fleming said no one in the city is making a wage which is too high and urged that a classification be set up.

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light noted he had a man in his department who received a small increase not in keeping with the type of work he does and he would like an adjustment, too. There ought to be more employes taken into consideration for adjustment, but such a move takes time, Light added.

Commissioner Long said council should keep the Engineering Department in mind when considering adjustments and urged that all be studied at one time.

However, Long said he was going to vote for the Guy Long order "because I know what he does."

Mrs. Roeder said if the city does not have money to revise salaries for a number of people, she wondered how they could consider a whole group. She said she felt in the case of Long, the step is merely a correction.

The 3-2 vote found Mrs. Roeder and Long voting for the correction, Keech, Light and Fleming against.

City Accepts Bid

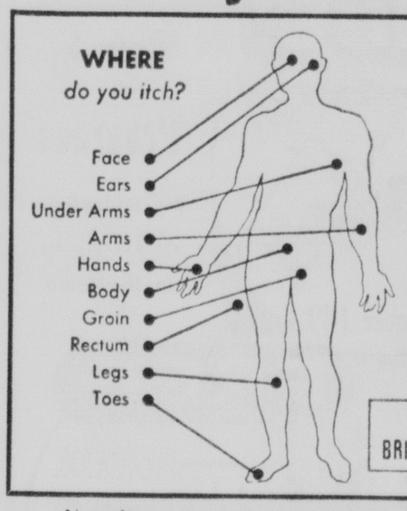

The Mayor and Council accepted the bid of Tri-State Mine and Mill Supply Company for 3,000 lineal feet of eight-inch concrete pipe in the amount of $2.30 a lineal foot. The pipe is for the Water Department.

Getty Praises Officer Gibson

State's Attorney James S. Getty has written Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney to praise the work of Officer Harold E. Gibson for his alert detection work of an attempted robbery August 27 at the Montgomery Ward Store.

Getty said that Officer Gibson's intelligent and candid presentation of evidence at the preliminary hearing held in Trial Magistrates Court on September 2 was also noteworthy.

Officer Gibson's astute handling of this entire matter helped prevent a major crime in Allegany County and his actions are in the highest traditions of efficient and conscientious police work, Getty declared.

"Without his initial discovery, the balance of the investigation that was handled properly and efficiently by the other officers participating would not have been possible," Getty stated.

County Gets Bids On Three Trucks

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday received bids on three heavy duty trucks for the Roads Department.

Apparent low bidder is the St. George Motor Company of this city which offered to furnish three new trucks for a net total of $17,323.50. Next low bidder was the Frostburg Auto Company at $17,700. Light and Decker Company of this city was third at $17,825 and the fourth bidder was the Heiskell Motor Company of Frostburg at $20,808.15.

The commissioners will tabulate the bids with the specifications of the advertisement before deciding on the successful bidder.

Market Handed Its Third Worst Setback Of Year

NEW YCRK (UPI) — Stocks lost more than $4,600,000,000 Tuesday in absorbing their third worst setback of 1959. Volume increased on the decline.

Individual losses ran past 5 points in the main list with the electronics, steels, motors, drugs and rails among the hardest hit groups.

At its lows, the market was off more than $5,400,000,000, but some late demand helped to stem the tide and lift many issues above their worst levels.

Tuesday's setback was exceeded only by the sharp declines suffered on Sept. 3 and Aug. 10. Since Aug. 3, when the market hit its all-time highs, stock valuations have plummeted more than $16,500,000,000.

Lack of support was the key factor behind the decline. Investors are holding to the sidelines pending further developments on the economic and international political scene. Key elements in the over-all picture include the prolonged steel strike, the effects of tight money on the business recovery, the coming Khrushchev visit to the United States and political troubles in Laos and India.

All of these factors combined to keep buyers out of the market. In the absence of support, a moderate amount of selling was enough to depress the market sharply. Brokers noted the market is very thin and that it does not take much selling to trigger a sharp decline.

Sales in Tuesday's session rose to 2,940,000 shares from 2,300,000 shares on Friday.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain prices were irregular Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was off ⅜ to up ¼; corn off ⅜ to 1⅝; oats unchanged; new oats off ¼ to up ⅜; rye up ⅛ to ¾ and soybeans off ½ to 1¼.

Wheat was mixed in a light trade. Scattered commission and commercial house support and a demand by exporters and flour mills boosted some prices above the previous close.

With reports that hot, dry weather was forcing the new corn crop into early maturity, longs sold September. The price dropped as much as 1⅝ cents. Some longs sold September and bought deferred contracts. Other months were easier. Export subsidies were granted on 575,000 bushels of corn, 40,500 bushels of oats and 85,000 bushels of rye.

Oats were quiet and mostly steady. Commission houses were on both sides of December. An export house was a buyer.

Rye was irregularly higher in sympathy with Winnipeg and on stop loss buying.

Soybeans were led by September to a weak level. Some of the early sellers bought at the low points. The extended fair and hot weather prompted some of the selling. Meals were also weak. Formosa was reported to have purchased 375,000 bushels of western wheat.

Outside markets were mixed. The range:

Unions Told To Guard Against Complacency

Union members of the Cumberland tri-state area were warned Monday in a Labor Day talk by Solomon 'Al' Barkin, research director of the Textile Workers Union of America, that they face a battle from opponents of labor and should drop any complacency they feel.

Barkin listed these items as part of the planned campaign against union labor: A conspiracy of erosion in weakening of unions through administration of the National Labor Relations Act, sapping the strength of weaker unions, and state right-to-work laws.

He also said there is a conspiracy to destroy unions by forcing strikes. He said this tactic was started several years ago by the O'Sullivan Rubber Company in Winchester, Va., and later against the TWUA in Henderson, N. C.

Barkin said that there is also a program under which the good name of unions is blackened by focusing attention on "scalawags" in the movement. He pointed to some of the hearings before the Senate committee which brought out instances of corruption in some unions. This is then projected in an attempt to "smear" all unions, he stated.

Then, Barkin said, there is the conspiracy of making labor the scapegoat for inflation. Barkin claims that inflationary trends are caused mostly by bankers, insurance companies and big business.

"They are in for the kill now," Barkin said, "with the Taft-Hartley Act being used as a threat to the Steelworkers Union, the Griffin-Landrum bill, and a program of bleeding unions of their resources."

Barkin likened the current drive against union labor to the program carried out in the early 1920s by big business when it tried to scuttle the union shop. The textile union official said that the complacency of the post-war years since 1946 must be eliminated if labor is to continue its progress.

Barkin was the main speaker at the Labor Day picnic sponsored by the Western Maryland Central Labor Council comprised of AFL-CIO and railroad brotherhoods at Mt. Calvary grounds on Mason Road.

A group of Latin American labor leaders who are attending a labor institute at Front Royal, Va., were guests at Monday's affair. One of them was a top official of the textile workers union in Peru and he brought greetings from fellow trade unionists of that country.

More than 5,000 persons attended the picnic during the day and swimming, games and contests were under the supervision of the Cumberland Recreation Department. The Men of LaSalle had charge of the concession stands and served refreshments.

A number of office holders attended. They included John J. Rowan, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners; State Sen. Charles M See, and Delegates William Walsh, Fred B. Driscoll and Lester Reed of the Maryland House of Delegates from this county.

County Gets Complaint About Drainage

Raymond H. Maun, Avenue E, Potomac Park, appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday to ask a water drainage problem at his property be eliminated.

Maun said that the ditch in the section causes the water during heavy rains to run onto his property. His complaint was referred to Harry Skelly, roads supervisor.

El Fidel Club To Meet

The El Fidel Club will nominate and elect officers at a meeting at Ali Ghan Shrine City Club, Thursday, 7:30 p. m.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting, according to Charles F. Hare, president.

Water Consumption Up

Water consumption for the week ending Monday amounted to 107,510,000 gallons or a daily average of 15,370,000 a day. This compares with an average of 11,528,000 the same period a year ago. Additional water use by Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company was cited last week as the cause. The water level at Lake Koon is eight feet two inches below the crest of the spillway and at Lake Gordon two feet six inches below

Oysters were exported from the Thames estuary to Rome as early as 80 A.D.

The smallest county in the United States is Bristol, in Rhode Island. It has an area of 24 square miles.

County Board Invited To AA Dinner

An invitation was received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to attend a dinner event.

The Cumberland Group of Alcoholics Anonymous wrote the board that they would observe the 12th anniversary of the organization with a dinner October 10 at 6 p. m. at St. Mary's Social Center on Oldtown Road.

Schools Open Today

Potomac River Odor Cited At Council Meet

Odor from the Potomac River on the West Side is "abominable," Commissioner of Streets John J .Long asserted yesterday.

Long told the Mayor and Council that he recognized other members of the governing group had received similar complaints and felt it is time some action is taken.

"We have the Savage River Dam above the city. Couldn't the Potomac be flushed occasionally?

"Cumberland was forced to clean up its sewage problem at considerable cost and hardship on our taxpayers. We, and certainly the people on the West Side more than ever before, deserve some relief as to the odor of the Potomac River.

"I suggest that council request City Attorney William R. Carscaden and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum contact the proper state health and river authorities and request consideration for relief and correction of the unpleasant odors," Long said.

Nuzum said he had been in contact with officials concerning use of the Savage River dam and been told that action such as requested must be decided by the Upper Potomac River Commission.

Nuzum was authorized to contact the commission to see what steps can be taken to clear up the river odor.

In another action indirectly connected with the Potomac, council authorized Mayor J. Edwin Keech and City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery to enter into a contract with the U. S. Corps of Engineers under which the U. S. agency will pay Cumberland $2,000 for certain maintenance of the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection project.

Nuzum said the $2,000 is a liberal amount since work involved will require little equipment or maintenance. Involved is clean-up of brush, weeds and the like.

In event of anything of a major nature, the Engineers said they would pay the city more money, Nuzum added.

Man Sentenced For Petty Theft

A local man, Mervin Kyle, was sentenced to 30 days in Allegany County Jail yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court when he was found guilty of petty larceny by Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti.

The man was arrested on a state warrant by Lt. Det. James Van and Det. Thomas See of the City Police Monday in connection with petty theft from Montgomery Ward's store.

A: "I just can't say enough for Blue Cross!"

"It was a fortunate thing for me that our company, the Harry T. Campbell Sons' Corp., decided to provide its employees with a Blue Cross program. My wife and I have been subscribers for a long time, but until recently, when she was hospitalized, I guess we never really appreciated Blue Cross. Believe me, I just can't say enough for Blue Cross now! Without it, that hospital bill would have been a real setback to us. And what's more, I didn't have to get involved in filing claims; Blue Cross handled the whole thing direct with the hospital."

says Harry E. Hall, Driver
Harry T. Campbell Sons' Corp., Towson

A: "We appreciate the extra advantages of Blue Cross!"

"Years ago we felt the need to provide a hospital care plan that would give broad, realistic protection to our people. It was then we decided Blue Cross would give us a well-rounded program. Since then, we've also come to appreciate the extra advantages of Blue Cross: the ease with which it fits into our employee benefit program, the little time and effort required to administer it and the absence of red tape and claim problems."

says Bruce S. Campbell, Jr., President
Harry T. Campbell Sons' Corp., Towson

The Maryland Blue Cross Plan has only one purpose: to provide Marylanders with the greatest amount of protection against hospital bills at the lowest possible cost.

Blue Cross is non-profit—except for its extremely low operating expenses, the Plan's entire income is used to pay subscribers' hospital bills.

With Blue Cross, you're protected wherever you go —even if you move or change jobs. And as a Blue Cross subscriber you're protected after retirement —regardless of your age—for the rest of your life!

Promotions Announced In Guard Battery

Keyser Enlistees Are Advanced

KEYSER—A number of members of Battery C, local National Guard unit, have received promotions according to Lt. Charles E. Ravenscroft. The promotions were given on the basis of job proficience, passing grades achieved on military aptitude tests and sufficient time-in-grade.

Those receiving promotions include:

Clifton W. Bolyard, the battery's motor sergeant, was promoted from Specialist 5 to staff sergeant. He is a veteran of five years' active duty and three years' National Guard service and was graduated from Wheeled Vehicle Maintenance School, Track Vehicle Maintenance School, and Maintenance Supervision School, all at Fort Sill, Okla.

Corporals James A. Martin and David L. Steiding, along with Specialist Fours Gerald R. Keplinger, Von A. Mosser, and Ronald E. Snyder, were promoted to sergeant.

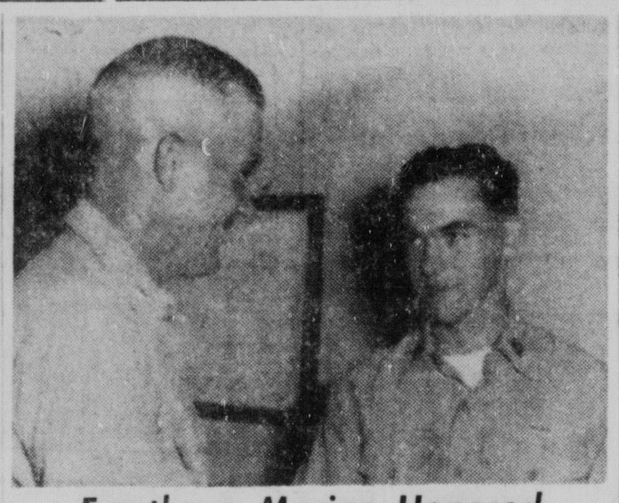

Martin, with three years active service, is a chief of howitzer section in the battery. Steiding is a gunner in a howitzer section and has four years National Guard service. Keplinger and Mosser are products of the six-month active duty training program. Keplinger, another gunner, received advanced artillery training, while Mosser, the battery's communications chief, was trained in artillery communication procedures. Snyder, who has been a member of Battery C for five years, is the battery's wire team chief.

Also receiving promotions are Specialist Fours Leroy S. House Jr., Ray S. Rotruck, and Carrol A. Turner, promoted to corporal. Privates First Class Thurman R. Fike, Berlin F. Moyers, and Lowen C. Spitzer are advanced to specialist four. Privates promoted to private first class are Robert R. Gray, Robert E. Miller, Raymond J. Pritts, Gary O. Rotruck, Galen P. Smith, and Richard M. Snyder.

Mrs. Wm. Harvey Plans Open House

BARTON — Mrs. William Harvey Sr. will entertain with open house at her home this evening in honor of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Harvey Jr. who are visiting with her here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey who were married June 27 at Lakewood Methodist Church, in Ohio now reside in Livingston Manor, New York, where Mr. Harvey is pastor of the Methodist Church and a student at Drew University. Both Mr. and Mrs. Harvey were missionaries in Africa for several years. Mrs. Harvey is the former Nancy Lee Blake of Westlake, Ohio.

Frostburg Marine Honored

Marine Acting Cpl. Fred W. Thomas, (right) son of Mrs. Helen Snyder of RFD 3, Box 161-A, Frostburg, is congratulated by his Squadron Commander, Lt. Col. G. L. Allen, upon receiving his first Good Conduct Medal. Thomas is serving with Air Base Squadron 17, a unit of the First Marine Aircraft Wing at the US Marine Corps Air Facility, Iwakuni, Japan. Before enlisting in July 1956, Thomas attended Beall High School.

WSCS Sponsors Seminar Series On Missions

KINGWOOD, W. Va. — A series of educational seminars will be held throughout the Methodist West Virginia Conference in September by the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Wheeling District, September 15, Thomson Methodist Church, Wheeling.

20 Attend WSCS Meet At Barton

BARTON—The Women's Society of Christian Service of Barton Methodist Church met recently in the church social room with 20 members attending.

Mrs. Cecil Dye was in charge of the program. The meeting opened with the singing of "'Tis So Sweet To Trust In Jesus," and prayer by Rev. Byron Keesecker. Members having part in the program were, Mrs. Mildred Harvey, Mrs. Keesecker, Mrs. Gertrude Broadwater, Mrs. Lola Shuhart, Mrs. Bernetta Clark, Mrs. Ruth Shuhart, Mrs. Virginia Broadwater and Mrs. Dye.

Mrs. Robert Houdersheldt, president, was in charge of the business session. Plans were made for the Zone meeting to be held at the Barton Church on October 1. Announcement was made that World Day of Prayer will be observed October 28 at the church. It was also announced that a United Nations film will be shown on October 6 and 13 at the Lonaconing Methodist Church, and all interested persons are welcome.

Mrs. Mildred Harvey displayed a blanket made by the Kabyle people of Algeria in North Africa. She explained how the Kabyle people card the wool and with moss, berries, herbs and tree bark, dye the wool before weaving it into blankets and material.

The blanket displayed by Mrs. Harvey was a gift from her daughter-in-law, who served as a missionary in North Africa for several years.

Hostesses for the evening included Mrs. Bernetta Clark, Mrs. Gertrude Broadwater and Mrs. Virginia Broadwater.

Survey Party Seeking Oil In Morgan Co.

Begin Prospecting By Seismograph

BERKELEY SPRINGS — An extensive oil survey of this area is being made by the Seismograph Service Corporation of Tulsa, Okla.

The survey party of 18 men is working under direction of A. J. Kochendorfer, a geophysicist.

The Seismograph Service Corporation have been making such surveys all over the world for 25 years. They do not drill for oil but make surveys and pass on the information gained to their clients, usually a major oil company.

Kochendorfer explained that this particular crew uses the seismic method technique. In the case of reflection seismographic prospecting, a sound wave is created by a dynamic explosion. The sound waves created travel downward with a hemispherical wave front until it meets rock boundaries of a considerable difference in elasticity or density.

These reflections are picked up by geophones which are set in the surface of the earth. With a knowledge of the velocity of sound waves from the surface to these reflecting formations, their depth can be computed in feet. From this data maps are made which portray the attitude of rock strata at or near possible oil bearing horizons.

Drilling of holes for the detonation of dynamite charges are made at numerous places throughout the area, sometimes along a road side, in state owned parks or forests and on private property when permission is granted.

Kochendorfer said his party may be in this area for several months but just how long is indefinite. He has headed crews doing this type of work in seven countries which included Africa, South America and the Northwest Territory of Canada.

Examinations for the first semester will be held January 8, 11, 12, 13, and 14. Schools will close on Friday, January 15, the end of the first semester. Second semester begins Monday, January 18.

Easter holidays begin at the close of classes April 13. Classes resume at 9 a.m. April 19.

Final examinations will be held June 3, 6, 7, 8 and 9.

The school term ends June 10.

There has been no change in the faculty for the coming year.

14-Year-Old Girl Bitten By Snake At Westernport

WESTERNPORT — Susan Sively, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sively, 413 Pratt Street, Luke, was bitten by a snake Monday afternoon on the Western Maryland Railway crossing at Washington Street.

She was accompanied by Susan Ritchie, and after being bitten on the top of her left foot she screamed. Jerry Bryan of Luke who was passing by in a car jumped out and put a tourniquet on the foot. A doctor was summoned to the scene of the accident and he took her to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser. She returned home Tuesday night and is recovering.

The snake was killed by mashing its head and it could not be determined if it was poisonous. It was 14 inches long and was said to have the appearance of a copperhead.

Shepherd College Offers Extension Classes In Area

SHEPHERDSTOWN, W. Va. — Two organizational meetings, one at Berkeley Springs, W. Va., and another at Romney, W. Va., will be held Friday, September 11 for the purpose of organizing extension classes for the coming school year, it has been announced by Dr. A. G. Slonaker, dean of Shepherd College.

A representative from Shepherd will conduct the meeting at Berkeley Springs at 7 p. m., DST, at the high school building. The courses to be offered will depend on the wishes of those present at the initial meeting.

Professor Cletus Lowe of Shepherd will be at Romney High School one hour later the same night at 7 p. m., EST, to conduct the organizational meeting there.

Dean Slonaker said that on the basis of a preliminary survey it would appear as though a class in West Virginia History seems certain to be offered. He said also that a number of people indicated an interest in Development of Social Institutions 102, art history and appreciation and an elective course in art. However, he explained that the final selection of courses to be offered will depend on the wishes of the people present at the first meeting at Romney.

Custody Case Opens In W.Va. Supreme Court

Parsons Couple Battle DPA

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A legal battle over the custody of a three - year - old girl was argued in the West Virginia Supreme Court Tuesday.

The Department of Public Assistance and a Tucker County couple each claims custody of the child.

The little girl was placed in the home of Forest and Edith Isner, Parsons, in October, 1956, under a foster home contract by the DPA. However, the Tucker County Circuit Court in June, 1958, voided the contract, which called for the surrender of the child to a qualified adoptive couple, on a technicality. This allowed the couple to keep the girl.

W. Del Roy Harmer, attorney for the Isners, said the contract was illegal because the Isners' were not informed of the child's real name when she was placed under their care.

DPA attorney Harold A. Bangert Jr., Charleston, described the stand as "almost facetious." He said the child was given an alias to maintain the confidence of her mother, who had turned her over to the DPA.

Harmer also maintained that the DPA's petition for a writ of certiorari to force the circuit court to send up records of the case to appeal the custody order was a "fraud on the court."

The writ was granted by the high court after the DPA alleged the circuit clerk had refused to deliver the records. Harmer maintained the clerk was not given sufficient time to prepare and mail them.

Harmer said the little girl has been with the Isners since she was seven days old and "to remove her now would be great injustice to the child."

Cut By Mower

FROSTBURG — Loraine Broadwater, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Broadwater, Lonaconing, was admitted to Miners Hospital Tuesday after cutting his right large toe in a power lawn mower. Eight sutures were required to close the wound.

Mt. Savage PTA Meets Tomorrow

MT. SAVAGE — The Mt. Savage Parent Teacher Association will hold its first meeting of the new school year Thursday at 8 p. m. at the school, followed by a reception for the teachers. A program for the year will be outlined at the business session and new teachers in the school will be introduced.

Hubert L. Radcliff, principal and W. L. Wenrich of Ellerslie, PTA president are urging all parents to attend this opening session.

Keyser PTA Meets Thursday

KEYSER — The Parent-Teacher Association of Keyser will hold its first meeting of the current year Thursday at 7:30 p. m. with Mrs. Graham Pifer, president, presiding.

Program theme for the year will be: "Together We Build." W. E. Michael is program chairman. The group will convene in the auditorium of Keyser High School.

Following the business session, a style show will be held. Anyone interested in children although not parents may become members by paying the small yearly dues, Mr. Michael said.

LaVale Election Helps Clear City Voting Records

The City of Cumberland registered five new voters during August, but the month ended with a net loss of 38 voters.

The new voters included two white males and two white females.

Death erased the names of 25 voters and 18 other names were removed from the rolls after the voters moved outside the city.

The names of the 18 former residents were provided by the Board of Election Supervisors from information secured during plans for the recent LaVale fire tax election.

Total city registration on August 31 was 11,601. Included were 6,007 white males, 5,391 white females, 125 colored males and 78 colored females.

Lodge To Meet

The body is at the Stein Funeral Home where the LaSalle Mothers Club will recite the rosary today at 7:30 p. m.

The SS. Peter and Paul Holy Name Society and Knights of Columbus will recite the rosary today at 8 p. m. at the funeral home.

The family will receive friends at the funeral home from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

Members of Chief Justice Taney Assembly, Fourth Degree, K of C, will act as an honor guard at the funeral service.

Pallbearers will be Sylvester Burke, John Wolfhope, James DeMay, Carl Firlie, Jack Loibel, and Joseph Love.

MRS. ROY RITCHEY

Mrs. Viola (Hiser) Ritchey, 68, wife of Roy Ritchey, of Pittsburgh, Pa., died at a hospital there Monday.

Mrs. Ritchey lived in Cumberland for a number of years with her sister, Mrs. Clarence Borror, of 318 Maryland Avenue. While in Cumberland Mrs. Ritchey attended business college and Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Besides Mrs. Borror and her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Norma Vuckson, of Sunnyside, Calif.; a stepdaughter, Mrs. William Harpster, Altoona, Pa.; three step-sons, James Ritchey, San Francisco, Calif., Monroe Ritchey, Falls Church, Va., and Sheldon Ritchey, Pittsburgh; two other sisters, Mrs. Verna Shockey, Keyser, and Mrs. Retta Dunkle, Franklin, W. Va.

Services and burial will be held Thursday in Altoona.

MRS. TAYLOR JOHNSON

KEYSER — Mrs. Bessie P. Johnson, 67, wife of Taylor H. Johnson, died Sunday in Baltimore where she had resided for the past 17 years. Mrs. Johnson was born in Mineral County.

Besides her husband, she is survived by four children, Mrs. Hazel Stalmaker, Baltimore, Mrs. Annie Zetty, Caloway, W. Va., Jessie and Earl Johnson, both of Baltimore; a sister, Mrs. Mary Amtower, of here, 10 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Services will be conducted today at 2:30 p. m. at Oakdale Church of the Brethren, near Shear, W. Va., by the Rev. Owen Horton. Burial will be in Thrush Cemetery, Antioch, W. Va.

The body is at the Rogers Funeral Home here.

MILLER INFANT

McCOOLE — Margaret Stephanie Miller infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Miller, died Monday in University Hospital, Baltimore, where she had been admitted last Thursday.

Surviving, besides the parents, are three sisters, Nancy, Dorothy and Mary Miller and five brothers, James, Thomas, Michael, John and Francis Miller, all at home; the maternal grandfather, Victor Kalbaugh, Piedmont, and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller, St. Petersburg, Fla., former residents of Westernport.

A requiem mass will be celebrated Thursday at 8:15 a. m. at the Church of the Assumption in Keyser. Burial will be in the parish cemetery. The body is at the residence.

Independent Audit Of W.Va. SRC Continues

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—An independent audit of the State Road Commission apparently will continue despite action Tuesday by the State Board of Public Works, rescinding its recent decision authorizing the commission to use certain funds to pay the cost.

The board had previously authorized the transfer of $10,000 from the State Road Fund to help pay for an audit by an independent Charleston firm under a contract drawn up by the State Tax Department.

State Tax Commissioner Don Carman said his department intends to go on with the contract for the audit and bill the Road Commission. He said it will be up to the commission to determine how to pay its share.

Secretary of State Joe Burdett said he and three other Democrats on the board changed their minds about authorizing the transfer of funds for the audit.

Burdett said they felt the audit would only duplicate one already undertaken by Legislative Auditor Clarence Koontz under orders of a legislative interim committee.

ABL Chorus Plans Meeting Monday

The ABL Chorus will hold its first meeting of the fall and winter season at 8 p. m. Monday, September 14, in Centre Street Methodist Church.

World's Finest Rifle Barrels Come From Tiny W.Va. Village

By CARLO J. SALZANO
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A tiny community on Big Tyler Mountain, near Charleston is considered by some sportsmen, marksmen and gun collectors as the rifle barrel capital of the United States.

Cross Lanes, W. Va., about 10 miles west of here, is the home of custom - made rifle barrel named "Ultrarifled."

G. R. Douglas, an enterprising machinist, started turning out custom - made rifles as a hobby while still working for the Du-Pont Co. in 1939. Seventeen years later, he launched his G. R. Douglas Co. and started producing the rifle barrels.

Buys Special Steel

Two years ago, Douglas stopped buying special heat - treated barrel steel from one producer because its physical properties were not satisfactory. He decided, instead, to buy special steel from Wheelock, Lovejoy and Co. Inc., Cleveland, Ohio, and to heat-treat the 20-foot sections himself.

A machine designed and patented by Douglas and his plant foreman, A. L. Gardner, bores and rifles the length of steel.

The firm makes rifle barrels which include calibers from .45 down to .20, the latter expected to become popular with small game hunters.

Many Commendations

The Remington and Winchester companies also have ordered Ultrarifled barrels for safari and special big game hunting expeditions.

Douglas' files are filled with letters from hunters and sportsmen from countries all over the world. They come from big game hunters in Africa, South America, Alaska and other places.

One of those who can testify to the accuracy of a Douglas barrel is Sam Clark Jr. Clark was using one when he set the 10-shot, 200-yard world record at DuBois, Pa.

H. L. Culver used a similar barrel when he broke Clark's record in 1956 and Harold Hale won the National bench rest championship at Camp Perry, Ohio, in 1957 with a Douglas barrel.

Confused Ohioan Fails To Seek Marriage License

A young man from the state of Ohio was in a state of confusion yesterday afternoon when he applied for a marriage license at the Allegany County Court House.

When told to raise his right hand to take an oath the young man raised his left hand momentarily. Later he asked when he could get the license and was told Thursday.

He said he thought a license could be procured in two days. Then he asked what day yesterday was, and realized it was only two days until Thursday. However he decided not to apply for the license after all.

Sunbeam Party Is Planned At Church

A birthday party for the members of the Sunbeam Auxiliary of Grace Baptist Church will be held at the regular monthly meeting Thursday at 7 p. m. at the church.

Youngsters will bring quarter gifts to be exchanged at the meeting. The girls will bring gifts for girls and the boys will bring boys' gifts.

The program theme will be on Mexico and Mrs. A. L. Rogers, instructor in Spanish at Allegany High School, will show movies of her recent trip to Mexico.

State offering envelopes also will be turned in at this meeting, Sunbeam leaders said. All members and their mothers are invited to attend.

Area Man Jailed In Default Of Fines

Gaylord D. Sullivan, 25, of RFD 1, Mt. Savage, yesterday was committed to Allegany County Jail for 15 days in default of fines imposed on two motor vehicle violations at a hearing in Trial Magistrate Court.

Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti found Sullivan guilty of failing to obey a written promise to appear in Trial Magistrate Court and for exceeding 50 miles per hour.

Sullivan was fined $25 on the first charge and $15 on the second count. Magistrate Carpenti committed Sullivan for 15 and 10 days in default of the fines, but said they may run concurrently.

W.Va. Colleges Ask State For Increased Revenue

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The presidents of state - supported colleges asked the State Board of Education Tuesday for more money for everything from salaries down to repairs and alterations.

The board also turned down revised plans for a new building at West Liberty State College.

Speaking for the Council of College Presidents, West Virginia State President William Wallace said the 1960-61 budget should include a pay raise of at least 20 per cent for administrative personnel and full professors.

Wallace said associate professors should get at least a 15 per cent increase and instructors and non-teaching personnel should receive a 10 per cent pay boost.

Wallace also told the board the council wants a 15 per cent increase for current expenses, equipment and repairs and alterations.

The board opened its two - day meeting with a report by State School Supt. R. Virgil Rohrbough who outlined a plan to "upgrade" West Virginia public school teachers in certain major subjects such as mathematics and science at "institutes" established through state colleges.

The board approved a recommendation by Rohrbough that Ralph D. Purdy, Oxford, Ohio, make a $14,750 study to improve "grossly inefficient" statistical methods used by the State Department of Education.

The board also approved new rules and regulations governing registration of agents of privately - owned correspondence schools and business and trade schools soliciting enrollments in West Virginia.

Revised plans for construction of a combination administration-classroom - science building at West Liberty were rejected because cost estimates exceeded the $1,200,000 allocation.

The board asked West Liberty President Paul N. Elbin to submit alternate plans for the three-story structure that would come within the allocation. According to plans submitted Tuesday, the building would cost nearly $1,300,000.

The board's agenda for Wednesday includes reports and recommendations from the new president of Concord College, Joseph F. Marsh Jr.

The board also will hear representatives of the West Virginia Federation of the Blind discuss West Virginia's rehabilitation program. Officials of the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation will present preliminary plans and cost estimates for construction of shops at the state rehabilitation center at nearby Institute.

Fire Damages Legion Post Home

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (UPI) — An American Legion Post building was gutted by fire here early Tuesday. Damage was unofficially estimated at upwards of $150,000.

The cause of the blaze was not immediately determined. The building housed a supply store on the first floor and the club facilities on the second floor.

Missile Industry Has Its Problems

No doubt aircraft companies would have a short term shock and a later feeling of relief if any appreciable progress were to be made in a disarmament conference in the rumor stage for early next year.

Most aircraft companies, and particularly the larger ones, are dependent for their prosperity primarily on government decisions. And the government, which once gave so lavishly, is now cutting back.

Fully as bad, the government is challenging the profits which the airplane companies made mostly on federal contracts.

The government gives the go-ahead, then reverses the signal. Designs for planes, missiles and other war hardware are becoming so complicated that the contracting company has to farm out more work than it can keep for itself. And the missiles, expensive as they are, do not employ men and materials in anything like the degree bombers and fighters do.

For these reasons the aircraft industry faces a shrinkage of operations and manpower which may be only temporary. After all, munitions makers and ship builders of the past had their ebbs and flows in the government service.

The question still remains: If not the big concentrations of tools and know-how in the aircraft industry that the government has been using for defense, what will the next step be? Will the industry be compelled to draw closer together through consolidations that can service both government and private demand without these ups and downs?

Perhaps the industry would be happier if it were out of the obsolescence phase caused by constant government switches and knew what to expect from one month to the next.

These Days

Khrushchev And Mao

Two views can be taken of the Sino-Indian situation and it is not likely that the truthful explanation will be available for many years. Mao Tze-tung is a complex personality, the product of a mixture of Confucian and orthodox Marxist thinking. He is a pragmatist whose measure of the rightness, the fitness, the propriety of a course of action is its effective implementation.

Obviously, Nikita Khrushchev would not take the trip to the United States and make all the preparations he is making for it, if he anticipated a total failure. It is equally obvious that the support that the United States is giving Laos and the support that Great Britain and the United States must give to India could lead to real trouble. In fact, Nehru fears a war between India and Red China because he would have to call in British and American (or United Nations) protection. India is a member of the Commonwealth of Nations and of the United Nations.

It begins to look as though the troubles in Asia, coming a fortnight before Khrushchev comes to the United States, could spoil the effectiveness of his visit here. The two views on this subject are:

1. That Khrushchev intends to ride into our land with a fanfare of explosion to show his power and his fearlessness. I do not hold to this view because it is self-defeating. It would so stiffen the backs of our people that it would not be long before Khrushchev would discover that we cannot be bullied and Eisenhower would find that his peace program had been defeated not in Moscow or Washington but in the southeast of Asia. Why come at all under such circumstances?

2. The other view is that Mao Tze-tung is making it very tough for Khrushchev. There can be several reasons for this:

First of all, Mao is an orthodox Marxist. He has clearly indicated that he does not approve the middle course (that is, within Marxism) that Khrushchev pursues. Mao was closer to the Kaganovich-Malenkov-Molotov group, which Khrushchev denounced as anti-party and exiled, than he ever was to Khrushchev.

Secondly, in the past Khrushchev's orientation has been eastward and he has supported Mao's empire-building throughout Asia. It will be recalled that Chou En-lai, Mao's Premier, sought to play the leading role at the Bandung Conference (1955). As far back as that Nehru must have suspected that Mao hoped to establish a hegemony over the whole East and South Asia.

What Mao must fear is that Khrushchev will go European on him. He must fear that a prolonged series of Summit meetings, constant personal contacts with heads of Western states, such fraternization as was evident during the Nixon visit, could reorient Khrushchev's position into a westward direction. Without Russian support, Mao could not last in China. He has depended upon Russia since he forsook philosophy for politics sometime about 1925.

Thirdly, it has been a sore point with Mao that despite Russian support, Red China has not been admitted to the United Nations and has not been recognized by the United States. Year after year, the Russians plead with the United Nations to admit Red China, which, as things stand, is an outlaw nation. Just as Khrushchev has recently been advocating two Germanys, so he has been advocating two Chinas, an idea which evoked considerable sympathy among the pro-Russians in the State Department.

Mao understands his own people and he knows that two generations will have to die before the hatred for Russia, long existent in China, dies off. Meanwhile, he is forced to show his dependence upon Russia because he has no voice in international councils. He can only talk through Russian mouths.

And now Khrushchev is coming to Washington and Eisenhower is going to Moscow and one thing can lead to another. Mao is an envious man. I can recall his hatred for Chen Tu-shiu who organized the Chinese Communist Party. Mao disliked in the Peking University such philosophers as Hu Shih and Chiang Monling, his contemporaries. An envious man can only view what Khrushchev is doing with bitterness. He, too, would like to be at a Summit—but how? Only through Khrushchev. It is not good enough.

This is not based on facts. It is a surmise that comes from long residence in China and some experience with Chinese habits of thought.

Eisenhower Beginning To Receive Mail Critical Of Khrushchev Visit

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Though this column bears a Washington dateline, actually it is written from a near-by vacation spot, isolated from the telephone, the irritation of Congressmen and the usual mass of mail, where I can concentrate on what I consider to be the most important news development of the year — Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the USA.

In my opinion, the exchange trips of Khrushchev and Eisenhower will mark a turning point in history from which either we go ahead to a new era of peace or we deteriorate toward war. In this and subsequent columns I should like to set forth the reasons why.

According to latest reports, mail is streaming into the White House critical of Eisenhower for agreeing to the exchange visits. On top of this certain powerful Senators and churchmen have taken public positions in opposition.

Without doubting the sincerity of these objectors, it seems to me that President Eisenhower has just two alternatives. He can either fight or he can talk.

That may sound like an oversimplification of the case, but it isn't.

When any two nations have attained the strength of the USA and the USSR, and have pretty much divided the world into Communist bloc and capitalistic bloc nations, then either they learn to get along with each other, or face an eventual military showdown against each other.

Our Poor Bargaining Position

Let's examine the latter alternative first. Let's ascertain what the outcome would be in case of a military showdown.

Ten years ago, in 1949, the United States had such preponderant air power in Western Europe, that we managed to break a military blockade of Berlin deliberately aimed at forcing us out of that key city. Our military strength in the air was so predominate that the Soviet threw in the sponge.

A year later with the advent of the Korean war, we began building a circle of air bases from the Arctic to North Africa, from the Near East to the Far East, which, studded with bombers and fighters, made us by 1952 easily the world's greatest military power.

But in the six years that have passed since 1952 we have lost that predominance. Taking only the public statements of our military leaders — not their more pessimistic private statements — we have lost the edge necessary for decisive victory.

According to Secretary of Defense McElroy we have no plans for catching up with Russia in the race for the dread, long-range intercontinental ballistic missiles. According to Keith Glennan, head of the space agency, Russia is far ahead of us in the conquest of outer space. According to Adm. Arleigh Burke, Chief of Naval Operations, Russia is far ahead of us in submarines able to launch underwater missiles.

On top of this, if we face the fact that Russia has an army of 175 divisions against our 14 divisions; that Russia now has the second biggest navy in the world; that Russia has an atomic stockpile, perhaps not as big, but fully able to knock out the chief cities of the USA—then you can understa.' why President Eisenhower is talking to Khrushchev, not fighting Khrushchev.

Competition For Capitalism

It is not the purpose of these columns to criticize General Eisenhower for letting us slide into this poor bargaining position, but rather to examine the realities of the situation and see exactly what we face. And the major reality, unpleasant as it may be, is that we have lost the sure ability to win an atomic war. A war today might be a stalemate, with each side suffering atomic fallout for years. Or if taken by surprise, we could lose.

In any event, the sure ability to win which we had during the Berlin airlift 10 years ago, is gone. That is why Khrushchev precipitated the new Berlin crisis with such confidence. And that is why we have steered away from another Berlin airlift and are talking to Khrushchev instead.

The fact that Khrushchev is talking, rather than pulling the trigger, is in itself a healthy thing. It bears out the diagnosis of former Ambassador Charles Bohlen, of Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, and more recently of Vice President Nixon, that the Kremlin wants no war, but is preparing for a long period of competition with the capitalistic world — in trade, propaganda, and the winning of men's minds in Asia, Africa, and Latin America.

If we are afraid of that competition, then we are afraid to practice the basic principle of capitalism which, of course, is competition.

It may well be that Eisenhower and Khrushchev, during their talks, will set out some of the ground rules for this competition.

Khrushchev will be a tough trader. He'll be no pushover. But you can write it down as certain that on the behavior of the American people during Khrushchev's visit will partly depend the success of Ike's talks. If we show Mr. K. the best side of the USA it will strengthen Eisenhower's hand. If there are dangerous demonstrations, the results could be disastrous.

What some diplomats fear is a repetition of Sarajevo, the little Balkan city which the Archduke Franz Ferdinand, heir apparent to the Austro-Hungarian throne, visited in 1914. The bomb that killed him at Sarajevo started World War I.

West Must Take Care Not To Appease Reds

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—On the eve of Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States, he brazenly gives support to a war designed to conquer the remainder of Asian territory not yet controlled by Communists.

Along a front of approximately 3,000 miles, Communist armies and munitions now have been mobilized and small bands of troops have already crossed over to invade various free countries, including Laos, Burma and India.

Americans are unfamiliar with the names of the places where the war is taking place or with the geography of the area. But what has just happened is about the same thing as if the Communists held all of Canada and sent troops across into Idaho, Minnesota, Michigan and New York. Since the military operations are widely separated, the plot is not so readily apparent. But the whole movement is a concerted one and it is aimed at conquering all of the continent of Asia. Presumably as soon as the conquest of the Mainland is completed, the way will be open for the invasion of the Philippines, Japan and Formosa.

This military action, coming as it does in the midst of Khrushchev's protestation of peaceful intent and his advocacy of "peaceful co-existence," is truly startling. For evidently he thinks Americans and the free world generally will acquiesce rather than risk giving any military support to the victims of aggression. This is precisely the view Hitler had when he invaded the Rhineland and Czechoslovakia and when he finally attacked Poland in 1939. He was convinced that the West wouldn't fight.

The facts about the war in Asia have been plainly set forth in an official statement issued on Saturday by the United States government. It says in part:

"It is now clear that the Communist bloc does not intend to permit the sovereign Lao government to remain at peace. The Communist bloc apparently intends to foment and direct a rebellion within Laos and to give extensive support to the attempt to seize important areas and otherwise to prevent the establishment of those peaceful conditions necessary to implement basic economic and social programs. . . .

"That outside Communist intervention exists is demonstrated by the assistance evidently being received by the Communist forces within Laos, including supplies and military weapons that could be provided only from Communist territory. . . . and by the fact that the military outbreak in Laos has followed conferences in Moscow and Peiping between Ho Chi-minh and Soviet and Chinese Communist leaders and also conferences in Moscow between two members of the North Vietnam Politburo and Deputy Prime Minister Anastas Mikoyan. . . . It is appropriate that this matter be thus brought to the world's attention."

The United States is joining with other nations to bring the situation before the United Nations Security Council and—if a Soviet veto is interposed there—a request for a United Nations General Assembly meeting will then be forthcoming. In the case of the military action ordered by the U.N. in 1950 in North Korea, the Soviet government had absented itself from the Security Council, so no Soviet veto was registered. But the General Assembly, too, can authorize any group of member nations to take action or the latter can do so without seeking U.N. permission, simply by utilizing the collective formula provided by Article 51 of the U.N. Charter.

The Communist bloc already has infiltrated sufficiently into Afghanistan to set up a Communist-supported regime there, and efforts are also being made to overthrow the existing government in Iran which is next door to Afghanistan on the west.

The Soviet strategy seems to be to move southward from the Asian territory already held by the Communists, including the Mainland of China and Tibet as well as Northern Vietnam. It will be recalled that at the Geneva Conference of 1954, which was supposed to end the Indo-China war, the Communists agreed to withdraw to North Vietnam and to respect the sovereignty of Laos, Cambodia, Thailand and South Vietnam. But in recent months the Communists not only have invaded most of those same areas with marauding bands but also have sent troops into the provinces bordering on Pakistan and into certain states within India's jurisdiction. Also Burma is being stirred up by the Communists, and there are Communist-inspired riots in Calcutta and other parts of India. The pattern is the same as has been witnessed heretofore prior to an actual invasion by Communist troops.

Will the members of the free world stand up in the United Nations and take steps to repel aggression just as they did in Korea in 1950? Should President Eisenhower politely advise Khrushchev that, in view of the changed conditions in Southern Asia, perhaps it would be better for the Soviet Premier to "postpone" his visit to the United States? These are the questions arising out of the new crisis that the Communists have fomented. It is not a time for cringing but for resoluteness — otherwise, a greater danger could come from the big war that usually ensues when dictators are appeased.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

The steel strike is now beginning to pinch and that is causing constantly increasing pressure on the Eisenhower administration to take action to settle it.

Strikers plus unemployment due to the shut-down total more than one per cent of the nation's labor force. This could mount to two per cent and more in the few weeks ahead. And there is no sign of a settlement in sight.

A faction in Congress is urging the President to take a personal hand in mediation efforts. This group wants Mr. Eisenhower to call in both management and labor to White House conferences on the issues involved.

Another group, primarily industrialists, are beginning to talk about invoking the Taft-Hartley law, which would provide an 80-day cooling off period, during which the steel mills would be reopened.

Thus far, Mr. Eisenhower has declined to intervene directly. He takes the position that his influence should not be brought to bear until there is a bona fide national emergency. At that time, presumably, he will bring the Taft-Hartley law into play.

In Washington, the impasse is looked upon as probably of long duration. The feeling is that there can be no concrete moves toward a settlement until the pressures on management and labor are more severe than at present.

When steel stocks have been drained to the point of creating a national emergency, one will be declared. Then, and only then, will Eisenhower take a personal try at settling the strike by persuasion and the moral force of his high office.

By Jim Bishop

The scene was sickening. He knew it was coming. He braced himself against it. When it came, Joe Walsh's skin paled, the pegs on his violin nerves tightened, and he shook. He kept pleading with her that it wasn't lack of love; it was only that he didn't have the nerve to get married Saturday. That was all.

Later. Six months maybe. Alice stood in the plain living room, shaking her head. "Six months? Why not six years, Joe? It will give you more time to get your nerve up."

"Please," he said softly. "Please hon. I love you. I want to marry you. I don't care for anybody else. Is six months going to kill us?"

"If you say that once more," she said through locked teeth, "I'll scream. My father is not a rich man, Joe. You know this. You know he took every dime he has and put it into this wedding. Fourteen hundred dollars, Joe. The invitations are out. Holy Trinity Church is ready. It's Saturday, Joe. This is Wednesday."

He shook his head and sat. There was no use talking. She wouldn't understand. She didn't want to understand. It was lucky, in a way, that her mother and father were out. Her old man never thought much of Joe. Kept asking pointed little questions like: "What are you going to do with your life?" "Do you think there's any future in a filling station?" "Alice is my only child, Joe . . ."

Good they were out. The old lady would be hysterical by now. She wouldn't even go to a movie unless she got a good cry out of it. Still, Joe Walsh was sincere in the things he was saying. He did love Alice. He did want to marry her. He had gone through a couple of rehearsals at Holy Trinity and he felt his nerve slipping like a tired garter.

He knew that if he could get Alice to postpone this thing, that he could win her back later. She'd be mad. She'd stay mad for weeks. But she loved him as he loved her. She was talking. He picked up the monologue in mid-flight.

". . . but after six years, what can I tell people? I'm thirty, Joe. Who wants me now? It's you or nobody. What girl gets jilted after six years? Not this one," she said, tapping her chest. "Not me."

Joe talked and talked and talked. If necessary, he said, he would run away, but there was going to be no ceremony Saturday. At that point, Alice quit. She sat, a tired girl, looking older than she was.

"I'll tell you what," Joe said. "Let me take the rap for this. It's not so hard on a man if a girl jilts him. I show up at Holy Trinity Saturday with my best man. We wait. You don't show. You send some girl friend with a note. You have examined your conscience and you just don't love me. You feel mixed up. You're sorry for me and sorry for all the guests and all that stuff."

She listened. And nodded. "Okay," she said softly. "Okay. You're the boss. What do I tell my parents?"

"Anything you please," Joe said brightly. "That's your department."

"How about the gifts upstairs?"

"Send 'em back, hon. They can mail them to us again at Easter."

Alice shook her head. "There will be no Easter wedding," she said. "No wedding, period." She said that she would send a messenger to Holy Trinity on Saturday with a note for Joe. Then she asked him to leave. He wanted to kiss her goodbye, but she shoved him away with a vigor that surprised Joe.

On Saturday, Joe and the best man waited in Holy Trinity sacristy. Through the partly closed door, they could see the relatives and friends coming down the aisle, the women in big hats and bouffant dresses, the men exchanging little jokes with the ushers. "Stop figeting," the best man said. "I got the ring. You got the girl." Joe waited. He felt sorry for all these people; sorry most of all for Alice. He waited and waited. Where the heck was that messenger?

Then he heard the organ break into the crashing notes of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. He looked up the aisle like a trapped animal. Here came the attendants and, behind them, the radiant, triumphant Alice . . .

Workers Can Retire Without Undue Strain

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

At the turn of the century, life expectancy for men was in the neighborhood of 50 years. The average man died while actively employed and few companies had need for retirement plans and policies. Nowadays life expectancy for men is over 68, and retirement age 65 is mandatory in most organizations. No one knows why this age was selected because many men are energetic at 65.

Workers who plan ahead are less likely to be jarred by sudden change in habits, environment, and living conditions caused by retirement. Industry usually retires employes with pensions or a lump payment. It may be just as hard on management as it is for the retiree, as the change involves new personnel and costly adjustments all along the line.

Some companies have reached a happy medium on retirement so that neither party suffers. The worker retires with grace and the firm continues to receive the benefit of his know-how without interruption. The anticipation plan is one of the most popular. It allows the individual to orient himself and plan for the future, usually at age 63.

If the man decides to retire at 65, a company program is available to temper the event when it takes place. He is prepared mentally for retirement while still on the job. These two-year programs vary considerably from lectures to company social functions, more vacation periods and learning hobbies.

On the other hand, he may wish at 63 to continue working after age 65. Here he begins at 65 to be partially active and partially retired. The step to full retirement at 67 or 68 is made smoother because the change is not too abrupt. Meanwhile, his successor is allowed to take the initiative and stand on his own feet, with someone to fall back on if necessary.

TOMORROW: Cancer and intestinal polyps.

SCHOLARLY BOY

Mrs. R. writes: My son—an A high school graduate—expects to enter the university in the fall. What worries me is that he never has made friends. He prefers to spend his time studying. Should anything be done to make him more social minded?

REPLY

Many boys this age are serious minded and not particularly interested in the opposite sex or being sociable. Let him alone. Going away to college may be followed by an immediate change, especially if he lives with other students in a dormitory. There may be no change if he is going to live at home and attend a nearby college.

NONSNEEZER

R. P. writes: Can you tell me why I have not been able to sneeze for about two months?

REPLY

You have nothing to sneeze about. A real sneeze is difficult to produce voluntarily except by tickling the nose with a horse hair or by deliberately irritating your nasal passageways with dust or other allergic agents.

EPILEPSY

M. T. writes: Can an epileptic be operated on if he needs surgery?

REPLY

Yes. Most epileptics keep the convulsions under control with medication and the drugs are administered before and after the operation. Should a convulsion develop after surgery, the nurses and physicians will be on hand.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Trying to set a record, a Californian has been perched atop a rock in sultry Mojave desert since July 3. Personally, we'd prefer old-fashioned flag-pole sitting. It was a lot cooler.

Agatha Christie, noted mystery novelist, won more than a dozen prizes at a garden show in England. Swell title for her next book—"The Case of the Green Thumb."

Ohio leads the nation in county fair race tracks, we read. Now, there's a state that has hardly any one-horse towns.

A Detroiter has turned his front yard into a garden of lima beans. A lawn that looks good enough to eat?

Chicago Wins Over Kansas City In Ten Innings, 3-2

Wynn Hands A's Eleventh Loss In Row

Sox Take Five-Game Lead; Yankees Bow Out Of Flag Chase

CHICAGO (UPI) — Luis Aparicio drove in Jim Rivera with a single in the 10th inning Tuesday night to give Early Wynn and the White Sox a 3-2 victory over the Kansas City Athletics and increase Chicago's American League lead to five games.

The victory was Wynn's 19th of the season and his first over the A's this year. The loss stretched the A's losing streak to 11 games and also had the effect of mathematically eliminating the fourth-place New York Yankees from the pennant race.

The White Sox, who led 1-0 on the three-hit pitching performance of Wynn going into the ninth were tagged for two runs.

They tied the score on Sherm Lollar's pinch single, John Romano's sacrifice and Al Smith's double. Wynn retired the side in order in the 10th and Rivera opened the White Sox half of the frame with a bloop double to center field.

Wynn was out bunting on a third strike and Aparicio lined his game-winning single to left field to score Rivera. Wynn, who was coasting to his first victory in four tries against the A's committed an error in the two-run ninth for Kansas City.

Russ Snyder singled, moved to third on Dick Williams' single and scored when Wynn's pitch eluded Romano. Snyder scored on the passed ball and Williams moved around to third when Wynn backed up the play but threw wildly to second base.

Bob Cerv's sacrifice fly scored Williams to put the A's ahead, 2-1 in the ninth.

Mary Ann Downey And Polly Riley Lose In Tourney

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Former champions and a 1959 medalist were ousted in Tuesday's first round of the Trans Mississippi Women's Amateur Golf Tournament at the Hot Springs Country Club.

National Amateur Champion Barbara McIntire of Lake Park, Fla., spilled former Trans Miss titlist Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., 2 and 1 in the day's outstanding match.

Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, Md., also a former Trans Miss champ, bowed to Barbara Williams of Richmond, Calif., 6 and 5.

Shirley Englehorn of Caldwell, Idaho, who shared medalist honors with Judy Eller and Barbara Ann Slobe, was defeated in first-round play by Betsy Cullen of Tulsa, Okla., one up.

Petersburg Little Leaguers Win, 16-1

Jerry Sherman pitched a five-hitter and struck out 14 as the Petersburg (W. Va.) Pepsi-Cola Little Leaguers walloped the Columbia Street Wildcats of the Maryland - West Virginia Little League here Sunday by the score of 16-1.

The visitors collected 13 hits and the attack was sparked by first baseman Trent Veach who had a perfect day at the plate with a homer, triple, double, two singles and eight runs batted in.

Ricky Lynch collected two of the Wildcats' five safeties. Score:

Four New Teams Enter Shuffleboard League

Men's Loop Opens 13th Race Sept. 17

The Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League will open its 13th season on Thursday, Sept. 17, with 20 teams — ten in the National Division and a like number in the American Division.

Four new clubs in the circuit are the Fort Ashby V.F.W., Cresaptown Firemen, Ruth's Tavern of Cumberland and Art Blank's Tavern of Zihlman.

The four 1958-59 clubs that dropped out are the Frostburg Eagles, Mt. Savage V.F.W., Woodmen of the World and Hann's Tavern.

Here's the way the teams will lineup for the approaching campaign:

NATIONAL DIVISION: Frostburg Republican Club, Purple Heart Club, Cresaptown Firemen, Hi-Dee Club, Sweitzer's Restaurant, Cumberland Moose, Ruth's Tavern, Fort Ashby V.F.W., Fisher and Robinette and Golden Nugget.

AMERICAN DIVISION: Owls Club, Frostburg American Legion, Southern Bar, Goodfellowship Club, Cumberland Knights of Columbus, Peck's Cafe, Cumberland D.A.V., Art Blank's Tavern, Cumberland Outdoor Club and Cumberland Eagles.

Shaughnessy playoffs will be conducted at the close of the regular schedule in both divisions and the two teams emerging will battle it out for the overall championship.

The next meeting of the league will be held at the Frostburg Republican Club, Wednesday, Sept. 16, at 8:30 p. m. All teams are requested to have a representative present to receive score books and stationery for the coming season.

Officers of the league are: Lynn Tharp, president; Ed Belfoure, vice president, and Paul Stitcher, secretary-treasurer.

U.S. Ryder Cup Team Is Named

Four Newcomers Among 10 Players

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The PGA Tuesday named four newcomers and six veterans to the United States Ryder Cup team which will meet the British Nov. 7-8 in Palm Desert, Calif.

The newcomers to the international cup competition are Julius Boros, Jay Hebert, Bob Rosburg and Mike Souchak.

Veteran of the team will be Sam Snead, who has been elected to the team seven times. Other veterans are Jack Burke Jr., Dow Finsterwald, Doug Ford, Cary Middlecoff and Art Wall Jr.

Brazilians Believe Athlete Gang Victim

NAPERVILLE, Ill. (UPI) — Brazilian athletes told police Tuesday they believe one of their teammates was robbed and murdered by the Chicago underworld while on a secret gun-buying mission.

Police followed up the report by picking up two members of the 200-man Brazilian squad which participated in the Pan American games at Chicago. The wrappings and case of a gun had been found in their room, police said.

The last words of Ronaldo Duncan Araentes, 26, to his teammates on the Brazilian rowing team were:

"I'm going to meet Al Capone and a beautiful girl."

The words were spoken at midnight Sunday on the campus of North Central College in this Chicago suburb. The next morning, Araentes' body was found on the campus, a revolver near his hand. He was shot through the heart and three pockets were ripped from his jacket.

Odds Makers Favor Giants And Chicago

Frisco 3-1 Choices And White Sox 10-1

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Chicago White Sox and San Francisco Giants have statistics and the oddsmakers on their side in their stretch drives for the major league pennants.

The White Sox went into Tuesday night's game against the Kansas City Athletics leading the second-place Cleveland Indians by 4½ games in the American League race. The Giants, idle Tuesday, lead the second-place Milwaukee Braves and Los Angeles Dodgers by three games in the National League.

In the last 10 years, only one American League team, the 1955 Cleveland Indians, lost first place after holding it on Labor Day. The National League pacesetter on Labor Day has appeared in the World Series seven times in the last 10 season. The three National League outfits that failed to make the series after leading on Labor Day were the 1956 Braves, the 1951 Dodgers and the 1949 St. Louis Cardinals.

And the Broadway oddsmakers, who never allow sentiment to obscure the dollar sign, also feel certain the 1959 series will be decided in Chicago and San Francisco.

In their revised quotations Tuesday, the odds makers made manager Al Lopez's White Sox whopping 10-1 favorites to win the American League pennant. They made manager Bill Rigney's Giants 3-1 choices. They listed the odds against the Braves or Dodgers catching the Giants as 5-1.

Both first-place clubs have 17 more games. Cleveland has 18 more games while Milwaukee and Los Angeles have 17 each.

The Giants have 12 games to go on an 18-game home stand, opening a two-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday. After Tuesday night's home game, the only contest scheduled Tuesday in the majors, the White Sox start an eight - game road swing through the east Wednesday night at Washington.

Mesdames Pinto, Prichard Tie In Maplehurst Golf

Mrs. Robert Prichard and Mrs. Charles Pinto tied for first place yesterday in the blind bogey tournament held by the Women's Golf Association at the Maplehurst Country Club.

Mrs. Prichard posted a net 147-70—77 and Mrs. Pinto turned in a net 114-37—77 for the 18 hole event.

Mrs. Boyd Bolyard was the leader of the nine hole group with a net 75-35—40.

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT

Marty Cook defeated Helen Lacy, 3 and 1; Marie Goebel defeated Dolly Dean, 3 and 2; Ruth Wood defeated Eleanor Zehrbach, 3 and 2; Janet Palm defeated Ethel Adams, 6 and 4; Nellie Hilton defeated Mary Cook, 3 and 1; Melva Via defeated Louise Bampton, 4 and 3; Betty Groves defeated Dru Shriner, 4 and 3; Betty Hanna defeated Mary Pinto, 6 and 4.

(Eight losers make up the first flight.)

SECOND FLIGHT

Aussies Reach Quarter Finals At Forest Hills

Laver And Emerson Defeat Reed, Bond

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Two of Australia's Davis Cup siege guns, Rod Laver and Roy Emerson, shot into the men's quarter-finals and upsets continued to shake the women's division Tuesday in the National Tennis Championships.

Laver, playing with a strained groin muscle and a bruised heel, erased Whitney Reed, the national college champion from Alameda, Calif., 6-1, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

Emerson got a teen-age tiger by the tail in skinny Bill Bond of La Jolla, Calif., and had to call upon all his vast experience and court acumen to beat the 17-year-old youngster, 6-2, 13-11, 6-2.

In the only other fourth-round match in the men's division, Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn, conqueror Monday of former Wimbledon champion Dick Savitt, led seventh-seeded Earl Buchholz of St. Louis 6-3, 7-5, 8-10 in a dramatic battle halted by darkness.

Buchholz, U. S. Davis Cup member and rated one of America's brightest young stars, fought off two match points in the 10th game of the third set and two more in the 12th, then finally broke Holmberg in the 17th.

Holmberg, 21-year-old Tulane University senior, played overpowering tennis for most of the match, dominating it with his rapier-like service returns and slashing net play.

Sally Moore Loses

Meanwhile, Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode of Forest Hills provided the third break in women's seeded ranks by eliminating virus-ridden Sally Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., seeded No. 8. The score was 6-2, 6-2.

Third-seeded Christine Truman of Britain defeated Karol Fageros of Miami 6-1, 6-4 after Miss Fageros led 4-1 and 40-15 on service in the second set.

Sandra Reynolds of South Africa, No. 2, and Ann Haydon of Britain, No. 6, also survived.

Miss Reynolds Scores

Miss Reynolds hitting the back corners with a shotgun forehand, fought off two set points in the second set for a 6-3, 10-8 victory over Donna Floyd of Arlington, Va. Miss Haydon, seeded sixth, whipped past 16-year-old Justina Bricka of St. Louis, 6-0, 6-1.

Chisox Purchase Rookie-Of-Year

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago White Sox announced Tuesday night the purchase of Camilio Carreon of the Indianapolis Indians, this season's rookie of the year in the American Association.

Carreon, a long - ball hitting catcher, will join the White Sox in Washington Sept. 11 or in Baltimore Sept. 17, a club spokesman said.

Carreon, a resident of Colton, Calif., is 22, weighs 200 pounds and is 6-feet tall. In 142 games with Indianapolis, he batted .312, driving in 90 runs with 21 doubles, 5 triples and 10 homers.

Navy crew coach Russell (Rusty) Callow is in his 37th year of coaching. He was born in Olympia, Wash., 68 years ago.

Hemmis, Krantz And Mitzel Score In Cycle Hill Climb

Local Rider Sweeps Both Pro Contests

Win Streak Reaches Ten; 1,500 Witness Holiday Program

Joseph W. Hemmis, Cumberland's 1959 national champion, swept both professional events, while Carlton Krantz, of North Tonowanda, N.Y., and Gordon Mitzel, York, Pa., shared amateur honors in the motorcycle hill climb program staged on Labor Day on the Oldtown Road 19 miles from Cumberland before a gathering of approximately 1,500 persons.

Hemmis, national point scoring champion, who won the national pro title at Muskegon, Mich., in August, won the first event in 6.18 seconds and came back to take the second contest in 5.97 seconds.

Wins Ten In Row

Riding his English Triumph, the Cumberlander extended his number of consecutive wins to ten. In 31 outings this year Joe has finished first 26 times. Points scored in yesterday's events count in the 1959-60 national race that ends prior to the championship events at Muskegon.

Krantz copped the first of the two amateur tests in 7.84 seconds, defeating Harold Werner, of Easton, Pa., who copped the national amateur crown at Muskegon, Mich., last month. Gordon Mitzel, son of the veteran Howard Mitzel, captured the second amateur event in 8.18 seconds.

"Red" Mosser of Altoona, Pa., was the official referee of the program which was run off in good time without any injuries. It was the first hill climb staged in the tri-state area since June, 1957. Thirteen professionals and eleven amateur riders participated.

1,000 Paying Patrons

One thousand persons paid to witness the slant riders perform.

The results:

FIRST AMATEUR EVENT:
1. Carlton Krantz, North Tonowanda, N. Y., 7.84.

3. Gordon Mitzel, York, Pa., 8.10.
4. Joe Mayer, York, Pa., 9.49.

SECOND AMATEUR EVENT:
1. Gordon Mitzel, York, Pa., 8.18.
2. Carlton Krantz, North Tonowanda, N. Y., 8.85.
3. Beese Wendt, York, Pa., 8.89.
4. Joe Mayer, York, Pa., 9.53.

FIRST PRO EVENT:
1. Joseph W. Hemmis, Cumberland, 6.19.
2. Charles Jacobs, Bangor, Pa., 6.46.
3. Willard Bryan, Groveport, Ohio, 6.74.
4. Howard Mitzel, York, Pa., 6.89.

SECOND PRO EVENT:
1. Joseph W. Hemmis, Cumberland, 5.97.
2. Howard Mitzel, York, Pa., 6.61.
3. Charles Jacobs, Bangor, Pa., 7.00.
4. Andy Baycura, Pittsburgh, 7.92.

LASALLE PREPS FOR OPENER — LaSalle High School's Explorers will try for the 27th time to defeat Fort Hill's Sentinels in a football game when the teams launch the 1959 Cumberland season Friday night at the stadium. In the 26 games played by the teams Fort Hill has won 25 and boasts a 23-game winning streak over the Explorer since the scoreless tie of 1938. Both schools have new head coaches this year. Shown above left to right, are: Harold "Buck" Shober, assistant coach, and Don Harden, head coach, of LaSalle. Four LaSalle players expected to see action in the opener shown above standing are: Carl Blake, senior tackle; Carroll Wilt, junior quarterback; Roger Saliga, senior guard, and Ray Mewshaw, senior center. Fort Hill's new head coach this year is Charles E. Lattimer. His assistant is Paul Flick.

Round Table's Next Outing Is Atlantic City

Millionaire Enters U.N. 'Cap, Sept. 19

MAYS LANDING, N. J. (UPI) —Kerr Stable's Round Table, the world's leading money winner who has amassed $1,614,539, heads east Wednesday for the toughest assignment of his illustrious career.

The brilliant four-year - old is scheduled to arrive from Chicago to prepare the Sept. 19 running of the $100,000 added United Nations Handicap in which he must carry 136 pounds, the highest of his career.

Round Table will be making his third appearance in the mile and three-sixteenth race over a grass course at the Atlantic City Race Track. He scored by a nose over Tudor Era in 1957 and last year was second by half a length to Clem.

During the weekend two owners accepted invitations to send their horses against Round Table, who on Labor Day set the 10th track record of his career in winning the Washington Park Handicap.

Crabgrass Stable elected to start Noureddin, winner of the Olympic Handicap and W. Cam Partee agreed to run Babu, the Brooklyn Handicap winner. Also scheduled to start are Tern, an Irish-bred colt, Amerigo, Grey Monarch and Terra Firma.

Vic Power of the Cleveland Indians and Hector Lopez of the New York Yankees were roommates when they played for the Kansas City Athletics.

William C. Day Retains County Singles Crown

William C. Day Jr., successfully defended his title on Labor Day by defeating Maurice Bernstein, 6-2, 6-3 and 6-1 on the Garlitz courts in the finals of the men's singles division in the Allegany County Tennis Tournament.

The win gave Day a second leg on the S. T. Little Jewelry Company trophy.

Finals in the mixed doubles between Mrs. Gordon L. Bowie and Calvin Hadidian and Betty Flake and Donald Hanekamp, originally set for today, has been postponed until later in the week.

American League managers Casey Stengel of the Yankees and Harry Craft of the Athletics played the outfield for National League teams.

Heavies Matched

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI) — Heavyweight Mike De John of Syracuse and Charlie Powell of San Diego will meet in a scheduled 10-round fight in the War Memorial Friday Sept. 25.

The bout will be televised nationally.

Powell is a former professional football player.

CCC To Host Maplehurst Club Sunday

Ponton Cops Peskin Memorial Tourney

Thirty-eight members of the Men's Golf Association at the Cumberland Country Club have been named for the return match with the Maplehurst Country Club of Frostburg which is scheduled for the local course on Sunday at 10 a. m.

The CCC team has won seven of eight matches and will be concluding its season on Sunday.

Locals Lead 5-0

The CCC-Frostburg series opened in 1957 and Cumberland has won five straight matches played to date. The scores in 1957 were 33½ to 14½ and 25½ to 13½. Last year the Christie Road linksmen won by scores of 50 to 13½ and 29½ to 24½. Maplehurst made its best showing on June 21 when it lost by only four points on its home course, 30½ to 26½ points.

Cumberland is 3-0 at home and 4-1 away this season.

Ponton Is Victor

Russell Ponton won the Morton Peskin Memorial Golf Tournament, a 36-hole handicap test, staged Sunday and Monday with a net 149-10—139. Ben LaNeve, 1958 winner, finished in the runner-up spot with 153-10—143. Third place went to Steve Johnson with a 149-4—145.

Steve Johnson won the Point Tournament with 36 tallies.

Second Flight — Bert Mason defeated Ray Cannon, 2 and 1.

Fifth Flight — Merrill Barnes defeated Lester Deneen, 1 up, 18th, and Dr. Jack Arch defeated Bud Freedman, 1 up on the 18th.

Brown, Kerwin Fight Tonight

Columbus Is Scene Of Non-Title Bout

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Lightweight champion Joe Brown, called by many the best fighter pound for pound in the ring and by others an aging veteran, meets Canadian welterweight champion Gale Kerwin in a 10-round non-title fight here Wednesday night.

The over-the-weight bout will be televised nationally by ABC at 10 p.m. e.d.t. The Columbus area will not be blacked out.

Brown, who won the 135-pound title by beating Bud Smith in August, 1956, ruled as a 4-1 favorite to defeat Kerwin, making his first start in a year due to illness.

Promotion adviser Ben Cowall said "if ticket sales keep going the way they have up until now it will be a sellout—or at least we hope so." It will be the first major fight in Columbus in many years.

Each fighter gets a guarantee of $4,000 from the television money. Brown will receive 30 per cent of the gate and Kerwin 25 per cent.

Yankees' Owned Plane Crashes

SOUTHAMPTON, L.I. (UPI)— A two-engine seaplane, flying to pick up Dan Topping, president and co-owner of the New York Yankees baseball team, crashed Tuesday about two miles west of Southampton.

The state police reported that the pilot and co-pilot were slightly injured. The plane, a Grumman Goose, carried no passengers.

The two injured men were taken to Southampton Hospital in a police car. The pilot, John Wagner, 46, of Huntington, N.Y., was reported in fair condition with lacerations and a chest injury.

The co-pilot, Michael Serriter, 35, of Sayville, N.Y., was treated for a nose injury and released.

Police said one of the aircraft's two engines failed and it crashed on the Shinnecock Indian Reservation about 2:45 p.m.

The plane was owned by the Yankees and was scheduled to pick up Topping, who had been vacationing in Southampton.

Old Exports Score Over Maple Inn

Brelsford Posts 13th Shutout, 4-0

Junior Brelsford recorded his thirteenth shutout victory of the season yesterday as the Homewood Tavern Old Exports defeated Maple Inn by the score of 4-0 and took a 2-1 lead in the best-of-five final playoff series in the County Softball League.

Homewood won the series opener, 5-0, and Maple Inn took the second game, 13-11.

The fourth game is billed for Friday at 6 p. m., at Wellersburg.

Brelsford, winningest pitcher in the league this season, notched his 26th victory against four losses, limited the opposition to two hits and struck out nine. Aided by two snappy double plays, the Homewood ace faced only 21 batsmen in the 7-inning contest.

Walter Basilio accounted for two of the eight hits credited to Homewood and batted in three runs. Brelsford batted in the other run with a sacrifice fly. "Tag" Often excelled at second base and Basilio made a sensational catch in right field.

Maple Inn's hits were credited to Dick Robeson and Darrell Glass. The latter featured in left field. Score:

Maple Inn	000 000 0—0 2 1

Shaffer and L. Morris. Brelsford and Horn.

Rec Loop Series To Resume Today

Playoffs in the Men's Rec Softball League resume today with the Old Germans facing Post's Playground at Naval Reserve Field with the Ridgeley American Legion meeting the Sports Shoppe at Stitcher Field. Both contests will get under way at 6 p. m.

Post's won the opening game of the best - of - three semi - final playoff series by the score of 11-2 but the Old Germans forced the series to the limit by winning the second contest, 9-6.

Ridgeley Legion captured the first game from the Sports Shoppe but lost the second contest, 5-4.

Ycaza Wins Three

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jockey Manuel Ycaza, who won the riding championship during the recent Saratoga meeting, booted home three winners Tuesday at Belmont Park.

Ycaza boosted his Belmont winner's total to seven for the current stand as he scored with Punic War in the fourth, Bagpipes in the sixth and Laurels in the eighth.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — There hasn't been anyone on the MGM lot as glamorous as George Hamilton in many a year. I hate to use the word "glamorous" in connection with a 20-year-old-all-man star, but George is just that. When he was 17, he was engaged to marry Wendy Vanderbilt, daughter of Alfred Vanderbilt, but she was sent to Europe and he was shipped out to military school.

Now George has been signed for Cherokee Kid, the role Buster Collier created in the original "Cimarron." Glenn Ford, of course, has the lead, and as I told you, it's practically set for Susan Hayward to play opposite him. Sol Siegel has been trying to get John Fobhirector for this tale, which producer Edmund Grainer says will be filmed in its entirety in Oklahoma.

In 1945 before Lerner and Loewe got into a rut writing nothing but hits, they presented a short-lived show on Broadway called "Day Before Srping." Now all these years later with "My Fair Lady" and "Gigi" to their credit, they've taken "Day Before Spring" off the shelf, and Arthur Freed has persuaded them to do some new numbers so he can make it as a motion picture.

Arthur plans to use Luana Patten and other youngsters on the MGM lot.

Mickey Rooney goes into the Moulin Rouge Sept. 10, just about the time his latest wife, the former Barbara Thomas, expects their baby. He'll have associated with him Joey Foreman, and they have the same act they presented at Cal-Neva.

With all the alimony he has to pay, the Mick has to work hard. He says it's all deductible, but the first Mrs. Rooney and her two sons, the second Mrs. Rooney, (Martha Vickers) and that cute Teddy Rooney, and the last Mrs. Rooney all get sizeable checks, so that leaves Mick very little for himself and his fourth wife.

To the victor belongs pretty blonde Diane McBain—and hereby hangs a love story: Young Miss McBain, sent to Alaska by Warner Bros., for scenes in "Ice Palace," met Denny Victor there. Son of the fur king of Fairbanks, Denny was so smitten with Diane, he took her home to meet his parents. Later Diane wrote a letter to Dr. Richard Mani, of San Francisco, a medical student who had planned to enroll in a Los Angeles College just to be near her. She told him not to be too hasty about moving.

What Dr. Mani told her, I have no way of knowing, but certain it is that letters bearing the Alaskan postmark are reaching her daily. I never before heard of a mink-clad Cupid, but this could be the time.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved Mother Sarah A. Mellott who died September 9th, 1958.
Deep in our hearts lies a picture
Of a loved one laid to rest.
In memory's frame we shall keep it,
Because she was one of the best.
More and more each day we miss her;
Friends may think the wound is healed;
But they little know the sorrow
Lies within our hearts concealed.
Her loving children.

HINES — In loving memory of my dear husband and our father, William C. who passed away September 9, 1958.
We miss him there, such a vacant place
Oft we think we hear his footsteps,
And see his smiling face.
Days of sadness still come o'er us
Tears in silence often flow,
Memory keeps him ever near us
Though he left us one year ago.
Sadly missed by
His loving wife ALLIE,
and loving daughters BETTY
WANDA and PATRICIA.

Clarksburg Gridder Is Player-Of-Week

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Clarksburg Notre Dame halfback Steve Rysmus was named Tuesday as United Press International high school player-of-the-week in West Virginia for the first week of the 1959 season.

Rysmus reeled off touchdown jaunts of 17, 14, 30, and three yards as the Irish trounced Huntington High 46-21 last Saturday. He also scored one extra point.

Lightweight braces of titanium, as strong as steel but only half as heavy, are being used by polio victims.

Warriors Sign Beck, Sellari

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Warriors basketball team announced Tuesday that Ernie Beck, five - year veteran from Penn, and Tommy Sellari, backcourt rookie prospect from Lenoir-Rhyne College, have signed for the 1959-60 season.

Beck, a two-way performer in the front and backcourt, scored 369 points in 70 National Basketball Association games last season for a 5.3 average. Sellari, of New Kensington, Pa., averaged 10.9 points a game last season as captain of the Lenoir-Rhyne College team at Hickory, N.C.

The compound microscope was invented about 1590.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND
NOTICE TO DEALERS OF BUSINESS MACHINES

Sealed bids will be received by the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland, until the 25th day of Sept., 1959, at 10:30 a. m. (EDST) by its Clerk, the undersigned, whose address is the Court House, Cumberland, Maryland, for the purchase and installation of the following equipment in the office of the Allegany County Tax Collector:

ONE (1) COMPUTING TYPE TAX BILLING MACHINE

Specifications for said machine are as follows:

1. Adding machine type keyboard.
2. Machine must be able to compute assessments of 2 to 10 figures by multiplying two rates of 3 to 5 figures each and print the two separate answers through original and four copies.
3. Must be able to compute discount or interest of one or both answers and give net total.
4. Must be able to compute these operations at a minimum rate of 250 or more per hour.
5. Individual sheet totals of machine entries and results must be given at option of operator and accumulative totals at option of operator.
6. Must be able to print district number and assign each operation a consecutive number and must print in tax rates.

All bids must specify the complete price for the purchase, delivery and installation of said equipment in the Tax Office and shall indicate the delivery date.

The above bid will include maintenance and service of said machine and component parts thereof for a period of one year following date of complete installation and acceptance.

No bid will be received from any dealer unless the said firm or individual has a service representative competent to service said machine living within the confines of Allegany County.

Dealers submitting bids must furnish a performance bond in the amount of One Thousand Dollars for installation and delivery of said machine by March 1, 1960.

All bids shall be submitted in sealed envelopes marked, "BID FOR COMPUTING TYPE TAX BILLING MACHINE" on the outside of the envelope.

Following the installation of said equipment, the sucessful bidder shall be required to instruct selected personnel in the operation and maintenance of said equipment. Said course of instruction shall be furnished without additional cost to the County Commissioners.

The County Commissioners of Allegany County reserve the right to reject any or all bids, and specifically the right to purchase the equipment most suitable for use in the Tax Office.

New Orleans Seeks Berth In New Continental Loop

Group Is Seeking To Join Founding Cities In Circuit

By JOE SARGIS
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — The city of New Orleans made formal application for a berth in the Continental Baseball League Tuesday in a meeting with league president Branch Rickey and William A. Shea, chairman of the circuit's founders group.

Rickey, named president of the Continental League on Aug. 18, said he was satisfied with the application. He said consideration would be given to it along with those of several other cities which are bidding for the three remaining berths in the new major league.

Meeting with Rickey and Shea were Jack Defee, president of the New Orleans Pelicans of the Southern Association; Henry J. Calngne, Pelicans vice president; and Richard R. Dixon, executive secretary to mayor Delesseps Morrison of New Orleans.

Presentation Called Excellent

"They made an excellent presentation," Rickey said.

The group is seeking to join New York, Houston, Toronto, Minneapolis-St. Paul and Denver, the founding cities, in the Continental League. Shea announced formal organization of the circuit in New York on July 27. At that time, Shea said the league planned to begin its first major league season in 1961 with a minimum of eight cities.

Other cities which have evidenced interest in obtaining franchises include Buffalo, Montreal, Atlanta, Miami, Indianapolis, Dallas-Fort Worth, Seattle, Portland, San Diego and San Juan, P.R.

With a population area of 750,000—well over the minimum set by the heads of the American and National Leagues—New Orleans is the sixth largest city in this group. However, 26,000-seat City Park Stadium is the second largest of the current parks in the cities already in the new league or those under consideration.

Set Seating Capacity

At its organizational meeting, the Continental League set a minimum seating capacity of 35,000 for its parks.

City Park Stadium is the largest in the Southern Association—almost twice as big as Ponce de Leon Park in Atlanta, the southern city most often mentioned as likely to gain a berth in the Continental League.

Shea met on Aug. 19 with an Atlanta group seeking a franchise. The group consisted of Robert Chat and Jack Schaeffer, Chicago lawyers, and Lee Stern, an investor.

This group is said to hold an option on the Atlanta franchise in the Southern Association. Earl Mann, who owns the Atlanta club, is seeking to sell it for a reported $1,200,000.

Shea said at that time that there are "several other parties in Atlanta who have to be considered."

Saverine Put On Orioles' Roster

The 18-year-old shortstop was put on the major league roster to protect him against being drafted. Under a new baseball rule, any first year player in the minors may be drafted by a higher classification club for $15,000.

Saverine, to whom the Orioles gave an estimated $72,000 bonus, played his first season in organized baseball with Bluefield in the Class D Appalachian League for rookies.

Saverine, a native of Norwalk, Conn., led the league in batting with an average of .362. He is a switch hitter.

$968 Raised To Send Haiti Athletes Home

CHICAGO (AP) — A group of Chicago businessmen raised $968 Wednesday to finance the return trip to Haiti of an athletic team that took part in the Pan-American Games. The 49-member team ran short of funds to fly from Miami to Haiti.

Skins Get Stits

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Francisco Forty Niners defensive halfback Bill Stits, 26, was traded to the Washington Redskins Tuesday for an undisclosed draft choice, the Forty Niners announced.

Stits, of UCLA, came to the Forty Niners in a trade for John Henry Johnson after playing three years at Detroit.

ORDINANCE NO. 2117

AN ORDINANCE OF THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND, ENTITLED, "AN ORDINANCE TO RESTRICT HEAVY TRUCKS AND HEAVY EQUIPMENT FROM USING CERTAIN STREETS, ALLEYS AND HIGHWAYS LOCATED WITHIN THE CITY LIMITS OF CUMBERLAND; AND PROVIDING A PENALTY FOR THE VIOLATION THEREOF."

WHEREAS, certain streets, alleys and highways in the City of Cumberland were constructed many years ago; and

WHEREAS, many of said streets, alleys and highways in the City are now used by heavy trucks and equipment, for which use said streets, alleys and highways were not designed and great damage has resulted from such use of said streets, alleys and highways by said trucks and equipment; and

WHEREAS, many of the streets, alleys and highways in the City of Cumberland are narrow and were not designed for use by heavy trucks and equipment, which said streets are now being used by such trucks and equipment and as a result thereof traffic on such streets, alleys and highways has become congested and other hazards have resulted, all of which are a danger to life and property; and

WHEREAS many water and sewer lines were placed under the beds of certain streets, alleys and highways in the City of Cumberland prior to usage of the surface thereof by heavy trucks and equipment, which said streets are now being used by such trucks and equipment and damage to said water and sewer lines has been caused thereby.

NOW, THEREFORE:

SECTION 1. BE IT ORDAINED BY THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, That whenever it is necessary for the protection of any street, alley or highway, or the safety of traffic thereon to avoid congestion and other hazards which cause danger to life and property, the Mayor and City Council shall from time to time, by Order, designate and name streets, alleys or highways, or parts thereof within the City Limits of Cumberland, whereon a limitation of load or weight of vehicles using such streets, alleys or highways, or parts thereof, shall be established. All such orders passed by said Mayor and City Council shall be considered as a part of this Ordinance.

SECTION 2. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That where it is necessary to protect the surface and/or bed of streets, alleys and highways, the Mayor and City Council shall from time to time, by Order, designate and name streets, alleys or highways, or parts thereof within the City Limits, whereon a limitation of load or weight of vehicles using such streets, alleys or highways, or parts thereof, shall be established, and all such Orders shall be considered as a part of this Ordinance.

SECTION 3. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That whenever it is necessary for the protection of water and/or sewer lines located under the streets, alleys or highways, or parts thereof within the City Limits, the Mayor and City Council shall from time to time, by Order, designate and name streets, alleys or highways, or parts thereof, whereon a limitation of load or weight of vehicles using such streets, alleys or highways, or parts thereof, shall be established, and all such Orders shall be considered as a part of this Ordinance.

SECTION 4. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That after the erection of said signs, it shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm or corporation to drive or operate upon said streets, alleys or highways, any vehicle, the weight load of which shall be in excess of the limit set by Order and posted on said streets, alleys or highways.

SECTION 5. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That any person, persons, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance, or any order which is passed in accordance therewith, shall be subject to a fine of not less than Ten Dollars ($10.00) nor more than Fifty Dollars ($50.00) and, in default of payment of any fine imposed under this section, the convicted person shall be confined in the City or County Jail for not less than one (1) day nor more than thirty (30) days.

SECTION 6. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That any Ordinance or parts of Ordinances conflicting with the provisions of this Ordinance be and the same are hereby repealed.

SECTION 7. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That this Ordinance shall take effect from the date of its passage.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

What Is Real Charm?

What is charm? Actually the word comes from the Latin "Carmen" meaning "song." But, you cannot define charm in one word, nor can you measure it with a ruler . . . its scope is too wide. Webster says "To charm means to subdue by secret influence; fascinate; captivate; bewitch." A charming woman is pleasing in the highest degree.

All this is what you want to achieve. And it isn't too difficult, nor is it a complicated matter. To make it easy, we have prepared a guide for you . . . to which you are welcome, free of charge. It will help you fulfill your individual talent for charm. Called "Ten Secrets of Charm," it is a reminder card you will want to refer to often . . . or better yet, memorize. If you do, you won't overlook any of the ways needed to impress all who come in contact with you. Send your request to me, today in care of this newspaper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Here is something very important to remember. A charming woman has not only outward beauty but great inner warmth. She must have a combination of both. Outward or surface beauty is that assemblage of qualities in a woman which give pleasure to the eye—like her costume, face and figure—even her grace. While inner beauty is of the spirit and the mind that shines through and makes even the plainest face attractive (now you know why I think there need be no unattractive women). A charmer has great consideration for those around her. I always remember what Shapespeare said: "A woman's kind heart and not her beauteous looks, shall win my love."

Tomorrow: Be Charming On Paper.

Tri-County Fair Opens Today At Petersburg

PETERSBURG—The annual Tri-County Fair will open here today with the premium list amounting to $6,000.

The West Virginia State sheep show will be a feature, with prospects of a bigger show than last year. Entries have been received for exhibits from 14 prominent purebred flocks and a number of junior show exhibitors. This will require housing in addition to the permanent pen facilities on the grounds.

At least six purebred beef cattle herds will be represented in the cattle show. The entries of feeder calves and baby beeves, always a feature attraction in the junior show, will fill the barns to capacity, Fair officials stated.

Justin Arnold, in charge of concessions, reports that the midway will be bigger than ever. A large array of exhibits also will furnish entertainment, he added.

The grandstand program, featuring five acts, the Honeycombs, rock and roll band; Jim Daring's Chimpanzies; Mable Carlson and her Hollywood Dogs and Ponies; the Skating Regals; and the Donnelly Comedy Act will be presented on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and evenings.

Opening day, as usual, will be Childrens' Day when all youth of school age are admitted free. The climax of the day's program will be a fireworks display by the Keystone Fireworks Manufacturing Company.

Thursday will feature the sheep show and the Tri-County Fair firemen's parade. The judges' stand will be located in front of the grandstand.

A bigger and better horse show is indicated by Clay Post, corresponding secretary. This feature will be presented Friday afternoon and evening.

Saturday afternoon will feature the traditional riding tournament which has attracted large crowds during the past two years. The event is sponsored by the Hardy County Tournament Association and a large number of knights from the area will be riding to exhibit their skill and horsemanship.

The crowning of the queen and maids, in front of the grandstand Saturday evening, will be followed by a country music show to conclude the program.

4-H To Meet

ELLERSLIE — 4-H Club will meet Friday evening September 11 at 7:30 at the home of Miss Linda Porter.

Opening lead: Deuce of ♠.

By yielding to the impulse to take a discard immediately, declarer in today's hand placed himself in a position where he had to guess for his contract and unfortunately went wrong.

South made a take-out double after East's third seat opening, since he had too much just to overcall. North responded with two diamonds and South jumped to three hearts, hoping his partner had some smattering of strength with which to carry on. North was happy to oblige.

West opened the deuce of spades and South ruffed East's continuation. When trumps failed to break, declarer left the high heart outstanding and cashed three rounds of diamonds, discarding a club. He then tried the finesse of the club queen, which went to West's king. Declarer subsequently had to give up a trick to East's jack and suffered a one trick set.

North offered the gratuitous information that the play of the ten of clubs would have won the hand. South in self-defense pointed out that, if East who opened the bidding had held the king and West the jack, the finesse of the ten would have been fatal, that he had made the best guess.

Neither of the disputants thought of the superior play. That the odds favor split honors is clear cut; that is to say, the chances favor the king and jack of clubs being in different hands.

In view of this consideration, it is not good policy to seek a discard of one of South's clubs but rather to retain two entries in the North hand to provide two finesses in that suit. By leading once to the king of diamonds and subsequently overtaking the queen of diamonds, declarer acquires those two entries. He first finesses the ten of clubs, and when this drives out the king he reenters dummy to repeat the finesse by leading the nine and permitting it to ride.

W.Va. Polio Cases Still Increase

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia polio incidence went to 76 last week with the addition of 14 new cases, most of them in Kanawha County, State Health Director N. H. Dyer said Tuesday.

The week's total was one more than the week before but three below the 16 reported during a corresponding week a year ago, Dyer said. At this time last year 79 cases of polio were recorded.

The 14 new cases included nine in Kanawha County, two in Fayette County and one each in Hampshire, McDowell and Marshall Counties.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

City Policemen Will Train School Patrols

Lack Of Women Guards Lamented

The Cumberland Police Department will cooperate with the Allegany County Board of Education in training members of the School Boy Patrol who shoulder the responsibility of assisting children across city streets while they are walking to and from school.

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore F. Fleming wrote a letter to School Superintendent Ralph R. Webster in regards to the women crossing guards, whose jobs were abolished recently.

Financial Problem

Commissioner Fleming pointed out the city was desirous of continuing the service although finances would not permit. Officers will be stationed at most dangerous intersections when possible, according to the commissioner, who said the school boy patrol was very effective.

Mr. Webster, who passed the letter along to the elementary school supervisors to be discussed with the elementary principals, pointed out that the women performed an overall good job and did a "wonderful service" for the children of the city. Personally he is sorry to see the program abandoned.

He said he feels the responsibility of protecting the children falls on the elementary principals who will be expected to step up the protection program.

Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of transportation for county schools, has written a letter to principals of public and parochial schools reminding them to stress certain points in giving instructions to school boy patrol members.

He requests that maximum safety be afforded to students boarding or leaving a school bus, or at a street intersection or on the open highway.

Patrol Duties

Mr. Ramey stressed among other things that at street intersections and at street crossings within any town, the patrolman is to watch approaching traffic. He is to hold pupils on the sidewalk until he can guide them across the street in safety.

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday approved a contribution of $300 to the School Boy Patrol for public and parochial schools in the county.

Mr. Ramey appeared before the commissioners to request that they approve the expenditure for belts and badges for the several hundred members of the patrol. The belts and badges are purchased through the Automobile Association of America.

New Rotary Club Member

Committee Heads Named For Columbia Street PTA

Appointment of committee chairmen for the 1959-60 school year was made by Mrs. Marshall Sowers, president of the Columbia Street PTA, at a recent meeting of the association's executive board.

PTA officers besides Mrs. Sowers are Mrs. Fred Knippenberg, vice president; Mrs. George A. Flynn, secretary, and Mrs. David LaFon, treasurer. Mrs. Flynn, who had not been installed previously, was installed by Mrs. John Saville, chairman of the budget and finance committee.

Named as committee chairmen were Mrs. Perry Ambrose, magazines; Mrs. Jean T. Staggers, teachers' representative; Mrs. John Saville, budget and finance; Mrs. Jess Baker, hospitality; Mrs. Galen Metzger, membership; Mrs. Edward Eyler, home room mothers'; Mrs. Walter Herath, program; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brotemarkle, ways an dmeans; Mrs. William Williams, county council representative; Mrs. Ronald Chapman, librarian; Mrs. John F. Palmer, publicity, and Henry Sauer, cub pack representative.

"Our Home, Our Schools, Our Community" was agreed upon as the PTA theme for the school year.

The first general membership meeting will be held Thursday, September 17, at 7:30 p.m. at the school. A program of interest to all parents will be presented. The Fun Night program has been scheduled for Friday, October 23.

A letter was sent to the Mayor and Council protesting the elimination of the women crossing guards from busy intersections near schools.

City Supports VA Loan Plan

The City of Cumberland yesterday backed the campaign being waged by Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, for direct VA home loans here.

The Legion post has asked the VA to conduct a survey leading to the qualification of the city for direct loans.

The action, the Legion said, would enable many veterans to qualify for home loans before the World War II application deadline next July.

The Mayor and Council also gave permission to the County United Fund to erect a banner across Baltimore Street and a scoreboard at City Hall in connection with the $338,781.50 fund campaign.

Collections at the City Scales totaled $150.91 for the month.

Public Schools Of Maryland Resume Classes

By The Associated Press

Schools in 15 counties and Baltimore City opened their doors for the 1959-60 year Tuesday to about a half-million youngsters.

They joined 15,000 boys and girls already busy with class work in Dorchester, Garrett and Calvert counties, who got an early start last week.

Wednesday, schools in Allegany, Charles, St. Marys and Washington counties start classes for about 48,000 more in grades 1 through 12. Howard County will admit about 7,000 Thursday.

In addition, about 70,000 parochial students return to classes Wednesday in 152 elementary and secondary schools.

State Department of Education statistics show that 27,059 additional children in grade school were expected over the total taught last year.

The reports also added an estimated 2,000 kindergarten pupils to the record enrollment of 561,240 pupils, jumping the total in Baltimore City and the 23 counties to 583,240.

Dorchester, the first to open public schools, enrolled 6,060 a week ago. Garrett County had 4,805 pupils on the opening day last Wednesday. Calvert County had 4,110 pupils reporting on Thursday.

Building Contracts Drop In July

July contracts for future construction in Maryland totalled $69,227,000, a decrease of two per cent compared to July 1958, according to F. W. Dodge Corporation.

A breakdown of contracts by the major construction categories in July, compared to the corresponding 1958 month, showed non-residential at $24,267,000, down five per cent; residential at $31,811,000, up one per cent, and heavy engineering at $13,149,000, down one per cent.

Dodge figures show that contracts for the first seven months of 1959 amounted to $434,594,000, up 11 per cent compared to the corresponding period of 1958.

Local Motorist Fined Following Collision

A local motorist was found guilty of two motor vehicle violations and fined $150 yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court in connection with a collision Saturday afternoon on Thomas Street.

Fred D. Shook, 48, of 449 Columbia Street, was given a suspended $25 on a reckless driving charge and fined $150 on a second count by Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt.

Officers Carl Stouffer and Charles Cubbage arrested Shook following an accident in which he struck a car operated by Paul Martin. Mr. Martin was slightly injured in the crash and was treated at Memorial Hospital.

Area Delegates Plan To Attend EUB Conference

Rev. Dr. E. E. Miller, pastor of the Bethany Evangelical United Brethren Church, will attend a meeting of the Virginia Conference Board of Missions today in Staunton, Va.

It will precede the opening of the 116th annual session of the Virginia Conference which will begin tomorrow at St. Paul's Evangelical United Brethren Church, Staunton. The session ends Sunday.

Mrs. John S. Cook Sr. is the official delegate from the First Evangelical Church here. Rev. George S. Widmyer, pastor of Potomac Park EUB Church, and Rev. Bruce Pfeiffer, pastor of Calvary EUB Church, will represent their congregations. The Bethel EUB Church also will be represented.

Bishop J. Gordon Howard of the Eastern Central area at Pittsburgh, Pa., will preside over the conference session. The Virginia Conference has a constituency of 24,000.

Extinguish Fire

South End Fire Company was called to 17 Oak Street where workers demolishing buildings in the area were burning trash yesterday. The call was placed at 1:40 p. m. when the fire got out of hand and firemen remained at the scene for over an hour. There was no damage reported.

CIDC Directors To Be Elected September 15

Membership Lists Are Being Mailed

Members of the Cumberland Industrial Development Company will elect a board of directors at a meeting to be held in the Fort Cumberland Hotel ballroom Tuesday, September 15, at 7:30 p.m.

Five directors will be elected to serve until June, 1962; five, to serve until June, 1961, and five to serve until June, 1960. In addition to recommendations of a nominating committee, nominations will be received from the floor at the meeting.

Within a few days following their election, the directors will meet to organize and elect officers of the corporation.

CIDC membership lists and proxy forms wil be mailed Wednesday to all known voting members of the corporation.

Others who intend to become members of the corporation and who wish to participate in the election of directors must deliver their pledge cards to the Cumberland Industrial Development Company, 610 Liberty Trust Building, by noon, Tuesday, September 15.

Each subscriber is eligible to cast one vote for each $100 pledged, but no subscriber is entitled to more than 10 votes.

At present, 176 subscribing individuals and firms are eligible to attend and cast ballots in next Tuesday's election.

Members will elect a temporary chairman and secretary to conduct the meeting and the election.

37,371 Now Eligible For Vote

Only 13 Signed During August

During the month of August a total of 13 Allegany County residents registered at the office of the Board of Election Supervisors.

And during the same period the names of 31 persons, who died in August, were removed from the registration ledgers.

John R. Kelly, chief clerk, said yesterday the total number of registered voters in the county as of September 1 was 37,371 including 21,092 Republicans, 16,009 Democrats, 258 who declined to give party affiliation, 10 Socialists and two members of other parties.

Of the 13 who registered during August, 11 are Democrats and two are Republicans. In that month 16 of the deceased persons were Republicans while 15 were Democrats.

Mr. Kelly said four party affiliations were changed and the four persons re-registered as Democrats.

Six persons transferred from one district to another, two changed address only and one name was removed by request, he said.

The board's office in the Court House basement is open for registration from 9 a. m. until noon and from 1 until 4 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Salem Council To Confer Degrees

Salem Council No. 11, Royal and Select Masters, will hold a meeting tonight in the Masonic Temple here.

The meeting will begin at 6:45 p. m. by a special dispensation of the Grand Council, and will include the conferring of the Royal and Select Master degrees on about two dozen candidates.

Present for the ceremony will be Grand Thrice Illustrious Master Pgad Morehouse, Baltimore.

A chicken dinner will be served following the conferring of the degrees. All members are urged to attend.

Youth Missing

Frank White, 16-year-old Valley Road youth, has been reported missing to City Police by his father, Roy White. The boy, described as five feet, six inches tall, 130 pounds with light brown hair and blue eyes, was wearing a red shirt and blue jeans. He is believed in the company of another 16-year-old boy.

75-Year-Old Widow Does Part Toward CUF Drive

She is in her golden years. She is a widow, living on a $60-a-month pension. She is 75 years old.

Last night, she was doing an act of charity, helping to care for a friend who was injured in a holiday accident. She overheard her friend's husband, a Golden Gifts worker in the current campaign to raise $118,000 in advance gifts for the 1959 County United Fund, talking on the telephone.

He was making a report to William E. Crooks, who, with Lewis J. Ort, is co-chairman of the Golden Gifts division.

When he had completed his report, which will be included with others at a Golden Gifts report meeting at the Fort Cumberland Hotel at noon today, the good lady asked him if there would be a house-to-house solicitation for County United Fund in Cumberland this year.

Informed that no such canvass is planned — since most people give where they work—she handed the CUF worker a $5 bill.

"I want to do my part," she said. "Can you take this now? I wouldn't want to be left out."

First School Luncheon Will Be Served Friday

That will be the school lunch menu for children of Allegany County public schools on Friday, the first full day of the 1959-1960 school term which opens this morning at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Gladys M. Eaton, supervisor of cafeterias in county schools, said yesterday that it is not known just how many children will be eating lunch at school cafeterias on Friday.

Last September an average of 9,137 children ate in the cafeterias during that month. The year before 12,366 children ate lunch at the cafeterias during the average September day.

The lunch price will remain the same as last year—25 cents for children of the first three grades and 30 cents for children in other grades.

Cafeteria managers have received menus which will be in effect from the Friday through October 9 and by September 15 the managers will have the October 9-November 6 menus.

This year menus will be the same in all schools with the exception of Allegany, Fort Hill and Beall high schools. Previously each manager made out her menu and it was checked for nutritional content by Mrs. Eaton.

Now the menus for a month will be prepared by Mrs. Eaton and five cafeteria managers. Each manager will be called in twice a year to serve on the board that makes up the meals.

On Saturday, September 26, all school cafeteria managers will attend a demonstration on preparation of various foods by a nationally-known expert in her field.

Miss Gertrude Eckstine, of Standard Brands, will show various ways of using gelatines and puddings in school menus during the demonstration at Columbia Street School.

Md. Commission Will Discuss Nursing Homes

The third meeting of the new State Commission on the Aging will be held on Thursday evening, September 17, in the Baltimore City Hall.

This meeting will be of special interest to all who are concerned with the need of nursing home facilities for the aged, since the major feature of the meeting will be a hearing on the Nursing Home Bill which passed the Maryland Senate last April, but failed of passage in the House of Delegates.

The hearing is scheduled for 8 p. m. in the Baltimore City Council Chamber before the full Commission, with Mrs. Margaret C. Schweinhaut, delegate from Montgomery County and chairman of the Commission, presiding.

The new 16-member Commission, which was created by the first bill signed into law by Governor Tawes, will take a fresh look at the Nursing Home proposal which has been before the last three sessions of the General Assembly without being enacted into law. The Commission is anxious to hear all points of view with reference to the proposal to grant State aid, in addition to Federal aid, toward the construction of public and non-profit nursing homes in Maryland.

The hearing will be open to the public and all who have information on the subject to present to the Commission are invited to be present.

Home Permits Issued Here

Permits for two new homes and an addition to a present dwelling have been issued to Allegany County residents by the assessing department.

Robert L. Dowling, Bedford Road, was issued a permit to build a brick veneer home at a cost of about $7,000. The home which will measure 38 feet by 26 feet, will have a concrete block foundation and a composition shingle roof and a cellar.

Lee W. Hartsock, RD 2, Flintstone, was granted a permit to build a brick veneer dwelling which will measure 26 feet by 48 feet and will cost about $6,500. It will have a concrete block foundation, composition shingle roof and a cellar.

Ray Dom, 912 National Highway, LaVale, was issued a permit to construct a 12 feet by 45 feet addition to his home at a cost of about $3,000. It will be constructed of concrete block with a concrete foundation.

Cancer Society Awards Grant

A grant of $8,750 has been awarded to Dr. Ward B. Allan by the American Cancer Society for research at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine in Baltimore.

The grant will be used for further investigation of "The Methods for the Production of Cough and Sputum in the Early Recognition of Lung Cancer."

Health Workers Await Polio Shot Supply

Vaccine Promised Here By Next Week

Hundreds of persons phoned the Allegany County Health Department yesterday to ask when polio immunization shots will be resumed.

They were told that the shots will be resumed in child health clinics as soon as vaccine supplies, promised by the State Health Department by next Monday, are received.

The Health Department here has kept adequate supplies of vaccine on hand at all times until three weeks ago, when rising polio cases triggered a sudden nationwide demand for the vaccine.

Studies of last year's polio cases indicate that the probability of contracting paralytic polio has been reduced on an average of 75 per cent for those who have received the basic series of three injections of Salk vaccine.

The protection runs as high as 90 per cent for some groups of children, the U. S. Public Health Service reports.

Proof that the protection is not absolute came here Monday with the death here of a 7-year-old Bowman's Addition boy of bulbar poliomyelitis.

When the new vaccine supply arrives, it will be used in child health clinics for the basic course and for booster shots.

The department has no plans at present for polio shots in the schools, which is being discouraged "in favor of immunization of young infants, combined with the efforts of physicians to meet some of the economic obstacles," according to the July bulletin of the Health Department.

Polio Attack Is Fatal To Local Youth

Michael Miller, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Miller, Bowman's Addition, died Monday in Memorial Hospital of bulbar poliomyelitis.

His was the first death of the year in the county attributed to polio.

Young Miller became ill Saturday and was hospitalized Sunday. A portable respirator was brought to the hospital from Altoona and Maryland State Police rushed other equipment here from Baltimore.

The youngster had received three shots of the Salk vaccine and was not yet due for his fourth inoculation.

It was learned through the County Health Department yesterday that only one other death occurred within the county over the last five years. That was Donald Frye, who died at the age of 23 in 1957.

The Miller boy was a first grade student at Northeast Elementary School. He was born June 30, 1952.

His mother was the former Miss Ruth Lee Tucker.

Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers, Mark B. and Robert F. Miller, both at home; his paternal grandfather, Robert W. Miller; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Harry Payne, city, and maternal grandfather, Benjamin Tucker, Moundsville, W. Va.

Services will be conducted today at 12:30 p. m. at the Scarpelli Funeral Home by Rev. Robert Nimon.

Rubber Workers Accept 10 Cent Wage Package

Members of Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, yesterday approved a 10-cent wage package at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant.

A. E. Johnson, president, said the "across the board" wage package was ratified at two membership meetings held yesterday.

Bowling Green Water Meeting Set

Bowling Green representatives will meet with officials of the City of Cumberland September 14 at 7:30 p. m. in the Mayor's Office.

The conference will be one of a series being held with officials of area communities in connection with a new water rate schedule.

Iron Workers To Return To Sugar Grove

Subsistence Issue Will Be Arbitrated

Construction on the big radio telescope being built for the Navy at Sugar Grove, W. Va., will resume today as iron workers report back to the job.

Work on the mammoth project halted last week as a result of a dispute over $5 a day subsistence payments to iron workers employed on the site.

Samuel O. Philip Jr., business agent of Cumberland Local 568, Iron Workers Union, said iron workers were ordered by the International union to resume work while the issue is arbitrated.

He said all 73 members of the local assigned to the project are expected to report to work today with the American Bridge Company and the Penn Southern Construction Company.

The latter firm, he said, has agreed to pay the allowance and negotiations are continuing with the other firm.

Mr. Philip said the dispute erupted last Wednesday and that several meetings were held with contractors on the issue.

The return of the iron workers will be the signal for the resumption of work by Carpenters and Teamster union members, who failed to report for work after the dispute broke out.

The radio telescope, largest of its kind, will have a 600-foot dish antenna and is scheduled for completion in 1962.

Fall Camporee Of Boy Scouts Starts Oct. 2

Polish Mountain Site Selected

Plans have been completed for the fall camporee for Boy Scouts of Nemacolin Trail District which will be held October 2-4 near Flintstone.

The camp site for this year's event is located seven miles east of Flintstone near the eastern slope of Polish Mountain. The exact location will be marked with signs from U.S. Route 40.

The purpose of the camporee is to promote fellowship and for the opportunity for scouts to learn about camping from each other.

Troops from Nemacolin Trail District will report to the camporee site between 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. on Friday, October 2. The event will close at 2 p.m. Sunday, October 4.

A campfire program will be held Saturday, October 3, following the evening meal. Parents of the youths attending the camporee will be invited to the program. Members of troops also may invite their parents to participate in a family picnic style meal on Saturday.

Camporee officials are making arrangements for Catholic and Protestant church services at the camp grounds on Sunday during the event.

City To Buy Police Uniforms

The City of Cumberland plans to purchase new blue uniforms for the Police Department, Chief B. F. Gaffney announced yesterday.

The Mayor and City Council will receive sealed bids until 10 a. m. Thursday, September 24, at the city clerk's office for 53 patrolmen's uniforms.

Chief Gaffney said the blouse and one pair of trousers will be supplied for each member of the department. Officers who need new caps also may purchase them while being fitted for their new uniforms he said.

The chief noted that the single pair of trousers will be bought at this time as many members of the police force already have been issued new trousers this year. The department will buy additional trousers for the patrolmen as they are needed in the future, Chief Gaffney added.

The uniforms will be furnished in accordance with certain specifications which may be obtained at the office of the city clerk. Each bidder will furnish his own specifications as to workmanship with samples of materials to be used in the uniforms.

Adjournment Drive Slowed

Fact-Finders To Rush Team To Laos

Probe Voted By U.N. Over Red Protests

Four-Nation Group Meets To Arrange Aggression Inquiry

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The new U.N. fact-finding group set up over Soviet protests hopes to fly a team to Laos by the weekend to inquire into charges of Communist aggression.

The four-nation subcommittee held its first meeting Tuesday, 12 hours after the Security Council had voted at an emergency session to investigate the reported invasions of the Southeast Asian kingdom from neighboring Red North Viet Nam.

Laos had asked for U.N. troops —such as those rallied by the Western powers after the June 25, 1950, invasion of South Korea by the Red North Koreans.

The current inquiry group was offered by the West as a modest compromise which the Soviet Union might not oppose too strongly.

SEATO Remains In Picture

En route here, Laotian Foreign Minister Khamphan Panya told newsmen in New Delhi that Laos may turn to regional organizations—such as SEATO—for help if the U.N. fails to stop troops entering Laos from North Viet Nam.

Asked if the U.N. inquiry group idea is satisfactory, he replied that anything to stop the fighting would suit Laos, and added: "We hope that when the U.N. is convinced there is aggression from abroad, it may send forces."

Ambassador Egidio Ortona of Italy, president of the Security Council, told newsmen here that all four countries on the inquiry subcommittee — Italy, Argentina, Japan and Tunisia—agreed that it was essential to carry out its tasks efficiently and as rapidly as possible.

The aim was to hold a first meeting of the working group here Thursday.

Moral Support

Laotian Delegate Thephathay Vilaihongs said the presence of the subcommittee in Laos will give great moral support to the government. He also expressed belief that no further aggravation of the situation will occur while the group is there.

Vilaihongs said he had a cable from his government denying reports that all North Viet Namese troops had been withdrawn. He said fighting still is going on in many places and that some North Viet Nam forces are still in Laos.

The preparations went on despite the Soviet Union's contention that the council had acted illegally in refusing to recognize Soviet negative votes early Tuesday as a double veto.

Laos Fears Assault On Provincial Capital

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — A government spokesman Tuesday reported widespread Communist troop movements across northern Laos in what might be the prelude to a concerted assault on the provincial capital of Samneua.

Acting Foreign Minister Sisouk Nachmakassak said that a buildup of Communist forces near the villages of Muonghet, Xiengko and Samteua indicated they would be used as staging areas for the all-out offensive against Samneua City.

He told his daily news confernie that Samteua, southeast of Samneua City was the target of a three - pronged enemy advance.

Government troops, he said, had abandoned Samteua and taken up positions in the jungle to conduct guerrilla operations if the Communists attempted to advance farther.

WEDDING DELAYED — D'Lynn Waldron, 22-year-old artist-writer from Pepper Pike, Ohio, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday from Hawaii with word that her planned marriage to a Nepalese prince is being delayed by unsettled conditions in the Far East. Her engagement to Prince Basundhara Bir Bikram Shah was announced last January. She said yesterday they still want to be married but it won't be until the troubled situation in the Far East "stabilizes." (AP Photofax)

Ike Prods Steel, Union To Settle 9-Week Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told the steel companies and Steelworkers Union leaders Tuesday that "half-hearted bargaining" is not enough. He urged both sides to get together in uninterrupted good faith bargaining to end the 56-day-old strike promptly.

The President addressed a letter to the presidents of the 12 steel companies involved in the strike and to David McDonald, president of the United Steel Workers Union, declaring it was disappointing to him and disheartening to the people that so little apparent progress toward settlement has been made.

He said the strike will enter its ninth week Wednesday.

"This dispute is not a test of power," he added. "The people of the United States do not look to the economic strength of either side to govern the settlement. They will be satisfied only by a just settlement, voluntarily arrived at, that will serve the interests of all our citizens.

"Half-hearted bargaining is not enough. Intensive, uninterrupted good faith bargaining, with a will to make a responsible settlement, is required."

The President said that compromising differences is a process with which he is familiar.

"I have seen far more difficult problems than the steel dispute resolved in far less time by people who spoke different languages and had diverse backgrounds," he declared.

"Everything in my experience leads me to believe that where there is a will to agree on both sides, there is a way to agree. The Steelworkers and the steel companies must find that way expeditiously."

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, who repeatedly has criticized both sides in the steel dispute for "leisurely" bargaining sessions, conferred with Eisenhower for a half hour Tuesday morning.

British Election Set For October 8

Macmillan's Conservatives Seen Favored

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan Tuesday ordered a national election Oct. 8. The Conservative chieftain asked the British to choose a leader who could speak for them at East-West summit talks. He expects that leader to be himself.

"Important international negotiations lie ahead," Macmillan told the nation.

"It is clearly right that the people should have the opportunity of deciding as soon as practicable who are to represent them in these negotiations."

Macmillan's confidence of defeating the Labor party and winning a third term for the Conservatives was reflected at once in the London stock exchange. Share prices soared.

Gaitskell Caught By Surprise

The announcement caught Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell in Moscow. He began to pack for a hurried flight home.

Labor's avowed policy is to swing Britain into a "third force" role in world affairs—nearer the Soviet Union and away from the United States.

Had Macmillan wished, the Conservative government could have stayed in office until next May, rounding out a five-year term.

But a variety of factors led Macmillan to choose the date only a month away.

In the packed international calendar, October is fairly quiet.

Air Of Prosperity

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's meetings with President Eisenhower in Washington will have ended. It should be clear by then whether profitable summit talks—on which Macmillan has set his heart—are possible. Macmillan doubtless will repeat his claim during the campaigning that it was he who blazed the trail toward a cold war truce.

At home, there is an atmosphere of prosperity, although some economic warning signals have been spotted. Unemployment is lessening.

The brilliant weather and even the Queen's coming baby have contributed to a summer of contentment such as Britain has seldom known. The pollsters have been freely predicting a Conservative victory.

Bathing Beauty Contest Defended

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI)—Miss America pagent officials replied to Vatican complaints about bathing beauty parades Tuesday by declaring that swimming attire provides the most sensible means of judging a girl's figure.

Lenora Slaughter, executive director of the pageant, said swim suits would be included in the contest until swimming itself was decreed in bad taste for American girls.

Miss Slaughter was asked to comment on a denunciation of bathing beauty contests Monday by Osservatore Romano, the Vatican City newspaper.

Token Integration Begins In Florida Public Schools

ATLANTA (UPI)—Token integration was started in Florida public schools Tuesday, leaving only five states that have not accepted racially-mixed classrooms.

Admission of Negroes to previously all-white schools in Virginia also was expanded, raising to 68 the number of Negroes attending 14 public schools of the state.

This was the day when the big majority of southern schools opened their doors for the fall term and, in contrast to the troubles of recent years, there was scarcely a ripple of opposition to the integrated programs.

The Florida integration came in the Miami metropolitan area.

At the Orchard Villa School—in a neighborhood that has swiftly changed from white to non-white residences in recent months —four Negroes were admitted to the school with only eight white children. Other Negroes are expected to be assigned later.

At the Homestead Air Force base 20 miles south of Miami, 21 Negroes were admitted to a public school with 732 white children. All are dependents of the air base personnel.

Integration spread to rural Virginia for the first time with the admission of 21 Negroes to Warren County High at Front Royal, along with more than 300 white children. The white pupils had boycotted the school last year, going to private classes and leaving the big high school to the Negroes. The whites abandoned the idea this fall.

The Front Royal integration was accomplished without incident, as was integration of classes in Charlottesville, Alexandria, Norfolk and Porstmouth. The latter city integrated only a parochial school.

Six Victims Of Cottage Tragedy Buried

Graveside rites were held in Iron Mountain (Mich.) Cemetery Park yesterday for Mrs. John Rovge, 32, Milwaukee, and her five children, who were asphyxiated in a cottage tragedy near Townsend, Wis. An unvented refrigerator was believed by authorities to have been responsible for the deaths. (AP Photofax)

Rights Agency Proposals Stir Dixie Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Civil Rights Commission recommendation that federal registrars be used to assure minority groups the right to vote set off a new round of angry protests from Southerners Tuesday.

It also won vigorous support from various Northerners. There also were new steps to extend the commission's life.

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge (D-Ga) said the commission's report, formally released Tuesday, was "unparalleled for the arrogance and calculation by which it proposes to extend federal power over the intimate lives and inalienable liberties of the American people."

But Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) called it "a well-reasoned, middle-of-the-road document proposing some solid, hard-headed recommendations."

Javits introduced a bill to preserve registration and voting records in line with commission recommendations. He also offered a bill to make local registration officials subject to court injunction if they fail to fulfill their duties impartially.

Javits said he is having drafted for introduction soon a third measure to provide for establishment of federal voting registrars.

Of the six commission members, only former Gov. John S. Battle of Virginia dissented from the recommendation for the appointment of federal registrars. The report said this should be done whenever it can be shown that Negroes and members of other minority groups are being denied the right to vote in elections for U.S. officials, such as president and members of Congress.

Two other Southerners, former Gov. Doyle E. Carlton of Florida and Vice Chairman Robert G. Storey of Dallas, joined in the recommendation.

The three other members — Chairman John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University; the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of the University of Notre Dame; and George M. Johnson, a Negro lawyer—favored a 23rd constitutional amendment to prevent voting discrimination. Since the three Southerners voted against it, this did not take the form of a recommendation.

Mother Kills Two Daughters And Self

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI)—A mother shot and killed her two young daughters Tuesday then turned the gun on herself in what police said was a murder-suicide.

Mrs. Doris Sechrist, 31, of nearby Grinesville, killed her daughters, Deborah Ann, 9, and Diane Linda, 5, as they slept in their beds, then killed herself, police said.

The discovery was made by the husband, Glen, a deputy game warden in the area, when he arrived home late in the day. Police said the shooting occurred around 8 a.m.

$25,000 Reward

Aroused Little Rock Hunts For Bombers

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A $25,000 reward was posted Tuesday for the solution of three bombings linked to Little Rock school integration.

The Chamber of Commerce underwrote the reward. Earlier, a Little Rock consulting engineer proposed raising a $100,000 fund to track down the bombers.

One bomb hit the administrative building of the School Board whose members have been among the chief targets of segregationist ire. Another struck the business office of Mayor Werner C. Knoop. The third battered Fire Chief Gann Nalley's official car.

There were no injuries.

Two of Little Rock's four public high schools were integrated Aug. 12. Faubus closed all the high schools last year in his fight against integration ordered by federal courts.

Police kept a close watch on the two integrated schools, particularly Central High where a segregationist march was turned back by police and firemen on opening day. Two Negroes attend Central, and three are enrolled at once-white Hall High.

Faubus offered the help of state police in the bombing investigation.

The governor told a news conference that if the bombings were the work of segregationists, they were not helping their cause.

But again he struck out at what he called "forced integration."

"Of course, if the cases were removed, there wouldn't be any dynamiting in the first place," Faubus said, adding that the federal government was pressing something on the people against their will.

The Chamber of Commerce, in offering its reward, said the bombings had caused immeasurable damage to Little Rock's reputation.

"It is unthinkable that the criminal or criminals can go unapprehended," its statement said.

Ben W. Dees, the engineer who suggested the larger reward, said he would try to organize a movement to raise $100,000.

Fire Threatens Deadwood, S.D.

DEADWOOD, S.D. (UPI) — A raging Black Hills forest fire sent most of Deadwood's 4,000 residents fleeing Tuesday, but the storied western gold mining town appeared to have been saved.

The fire, which blackened the sky with plumes of smoke and pink clouds of flame above the last home town of Wild Bill Hickok and Calamity Jane, was blown along a high ridge past Deadwood towards Spearfish, S.D.

Howard Lee, the Black Hills National Forest supervisor, said the fire started at 5 p. m. e.d.t. and "it is assumed to be man-made."

From 12 to 24 homes were blazing on two sides of Deadwood. There were no confirmed casualties, but a man was reported missing after he leaped off a bulldozer in the fire area.

One thousand volunteers fought the flames, which raged in 100-degree temperatures before 30 to 35 mile an hour winds.

Deadwood's evacuation proceeded without panic, except when 35 persons were trapped in a gully leading from a westside hotel to the Theodore Roosevelt Monument on a hill overlooking town.

A helicopter rescued some of the trapped 35, but had to land because the sky was so smoky the pilot couldn't see.

All 35 were reported safe, although one person was injured. Another 15 persons, however, were reported trapped in the area. A bulldozer began cutting a fire line around a beaver dam in the area so that the trapped persons could find safety in the water.

China Reds Step Up Air, Naval Activity

TAIPEI (UPI)—A Taipei newspaper reported Monday that the Chinese Communists were stepping up air and naval activities along the mainland coast opposite the Nationalist - held offshore islands.

The Independent China News said that the Communist air force had intensified its training activities in recent weeks near the Matsu offshore island group.

"Nationalist Air Force patrol planes are keeping constant vigilance in that area as a strictly defensive measure," the newspaper said.

Ike Will Report On His Travels Thursday Night

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will report by radio-TV to the American people Thursday night on his journey to Europe and on some current developments he discussed with Allied leaders.

Announcing this Tuesday, press secretary James C. Hagerty said the 15-minute talk will be carried live from 7:30 to 7:45 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time by the major networks.

This presidential appearance was listed in place of a news conference this week.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's imminent visit to America, Red activities in Laos, the problems of a divided Germany and isolated West Berlin, disarmament, and the NATO alliance were among matters said to have come up in Eisenhower's talks with Western European chiefs.

Hagerty did not specify what Eisenhower would discuss, nor did he say whether Eisenhower will discuss his reasons for inviting Khrushchev.

Eisenhower gave Republican congressional leaders an account of his European travels at their weekly White House meeting. The President was happy with the results which he believes "add up to a better understanding" with America's allies, reported the Senate GOP leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

On arriving home Monday from his 13-day venture in personal diplomacy, Eisenhower told airport welcomers that he had found not only governmental unity but, "far more heartening" deep friendship of West European people for the American people.

Opera Star Maria Callas Says Marriage On Rocks

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Opera star Maria Callas said Tuesday night her marriage definitely has broken up. The stormy soprano recently has been dating shipowner Aristotle Onassis, who was host to Miss Callas and her husband on an August yacht cruise in the Mediterranean.

Miss Callas denied that there was any "sentimental link" between her and Onassis.

Onassis in Venice said roughly the same thing at about the same time—that reports that he was sentimentally involved with Miss Callas were "silly inventions."

The soprano and Onassis commented to newsmen as her lawyers and her husband, along with his attorneys, had a heated, four-hour conference in a Milan hotel.

The singer is 35; her husband, Milan industrialist Giovan Battista Meneghini, is 62; Onassis is 55. The Meneghinis have been married 10 years.

The Onassis-Callas dating came to public attention late last week when they went night-clubbing together. Newspapers since have speculated on the future of her marriage and of Onassis' marriage to his pretty wife Tina, who was along on the August yachting party, as was Britain's Sir Winston Churchill.

There were rapid developments Tuesday night.

In Milan, Miss Callas went to a bar for a rest between recording sessions at La Scala Opera. Newsmen cornered her. She calmly answered their questions.

Q. What about Meneghini?

A. The breaking is definite. It has been coming for a long time.

Q. What about Onassis?

A. There is no sentimental link between us. He is only a good friend of mine assisting me in a difficult moment.

Public Works Bill Approved As Ike Defied

New Veto Invited; Truce Is Reached In Housing Battle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday night approved a $3,281,813,000 money bill to finance the foreign aid program for another year. The total was $294,982,000 less than the maximum authorized by Congress and requested by President Eisenhower.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lawmakers more interested in asserting themselves than in going home dampened chances Tuesday for an adjournment of Congress this coming weekend.

The House set the pattern of defying the administration during the day with passage of a new public works bill in place of one vetoed by President Eisenhower, refusing to alter it to meet the chief executive's main objections.

The Senate in a long and noisy night session passed a watered-down administration bill calling for interest rate boosts on some federal bonds, after putting a ceiling on any such increases. This move not only was against strong administration opposition but was a departure from the bill passed earlier by the House which accepted the no-ceiling version.

This means another conference before adjournment if the administration is to salvage anything at all of Eisenhower's higher interest rate aims.

Senate Follows House Lead

Then the Senate followed through on the public works bill, passing the House version by a thumping 73-15 vote despite warnings that it was inviting a second veto.

Earlier, one of the barriers to ending the eight-month session of Congress came down when Democrats came to terms with the Eisenhower administration on a housing bill.

But Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said he thought it very unlikely the Senate and House could shut up shop this week, mainly because of the foreign aid money bill.

Aid Bill Hanging Fire

Johnson noted to newsmen that the 3½-billion-dollar foreign aid appropriations bill still must be considered, and he said it cannot be called up in the Senate until Saturday.

The Senate Appropriations Committee, now putting that final money bill of the session into shape, voted 13-7 Tuesday to try to attach to it a rider keeping alive the Civil Rights Commission for two more years.

Southern Democrats are almost certain to fight this move when the bill reaches the Senate, but that fight is expected to stop short of a filibuster.

In major actions Tuesday:

1. The Senate Banking Committee, by a 13-0 vote, approved a billion-dollar housing bill after getting word that Eisenhower would sign it in its compromise form. He vetoed two previous housing bills, but the committee shaped this one to meet his strongest objections.

House OK's Works Bill 302-93

2. The House passed a $1,135,309,093 bill carrying funds for hundreds of rivers and harbors, flood control and other projects around the country, including 67 projects which prompted Eisenhower to reject an earlier version. The vote was 302-93, more than enough to override a veto.

3. The way was cleared for final congressional action on a bill to boost the federal gasoline tax from 3 to 4 cents a gallon. The added billion dollars in revenue would be applied to the financially-ailing highway construction program.

4. The House passed, 371-18, a bill which would authorize denial of passports to Communists and permit the President to forbid Americans to visit any area where their travel might seriously impair U.S. foreign relations.

Death Ruled Homicide

TANEYTOWN, Md. (AP) — The death of a 65-year-old farmer whose body was found Labor Day was described by the medical examiner Tuesday as a homicide.

State police identified the victim as Santo Roccella, who lived alone on a farm near Taneytown. They said he had died of a gunshot wound.

Strike Threat Layoff Case Growing More Complicated

BALTIMORE (AP) — The complex question of whether employes laid off because of a strike threat, even though it has not been fulfilled, are entitled to jobless compensation became even more complicated Tuesday.

The question is going to be decided ultimately by a court, but the procedure setting that stage was even subject to dispute.

The case involves about 1,000 workers at Bethlehem Steel. The company laid them off and objected to their applications for unemployment compensation.

The Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America had been authorized to strike when a contract at Bethlehem expired July 31. However, it did not strike and its members have been willing to work while negotiations continued.

The company, however, claimed that shipowners aware of the strike threat would not send their vessels ot the Bethlehem yard for fear of having them tied up. The resultant loss of business prompted the layoffs, the company claimed.

It is arguing that under Maryland law this makes the furloughed personnel ineligible for jobless pay. The wording of the law is that persons idle because of a "labor dispute" may not receive the weekly benefits financed by employers.

Representatives of labor tried unsuccessfully at the 1959 session of the Legislature to rewrite the law to spell out that only actual strikers or others who refused to report for work would be ineligible.

The company outlined its case last Wednesday to a hearing officer of the Department of Employment Security. The Board of Appeals then announced it would take over the hearing since both parties had disclosed they were going to court for ultimate decision.

H. Kemp MacDaniel, an attorney for the union and a state delegate for Baltimore County, declined Tuesday to submit an outline of his case to the Board of Appeals unless the company repeated its side.

MacDaniel argued that the previous outline was no longer valid since a new forum was established. John H. Mudd, attorney for Bethlehem, disagreed.

J.Robert Brown, counsel for the board, asked for another preliminary hearing Sept. 21. At that time, another effort will be made to have both sides agree to certain facts to be entered in the record and ignore others on which there are no contest.

If that can't be accomplished, Brown said "we might just as well eliminate the preliminary hearing and go into the final presentation sometime during the week of Sept. 28."

Heroic Father Dies Of Burns

BALTIMORE (AP) — A father who saved his two sons by dropping them to a neighbor from a second story window died Tuesday of burns suffered in a fire Friday at their home.

Lloyd Stitt, 37-year-old guard at the State Penitentiary, succumbed in the South Baltimore General Hospital.

His 30-year-old wife and the two boys 7 and 5 still are in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Stitt were evacuated from the burning second floor by firemen.

Patuxent Draws Fire Of Probers

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Baltimore County grand jury report on the Patuxent Institution has criticized "the erratic and confused condition in which we find this institution being run."

The jury reported on its findings after a study recommended because of the April 5 escape of 34 inmates at Patuxent. It is a pioneer facility for the diagnosis, treatment and confinement of defective delinquents — prisoners found to be mentally or emotionally incapable of curbing criminal tendencies.

The Howard County Grand Jury, two gubernatorial commissions and a legislative committee are also conducting studies of Patuxent.

As the Baltimore County jury report was issued, Patuxent officials asked the state to nearly double the $962,000 budget allotment for the institution. They requested $1,904,000 — most of the increase to be used for increasing its personnel staff from 170 to 233.

"In view of the erratic and confused condition in which we found this institution being run," said the Baltimore County jury, "we strongly recommend that a public semi-annual progress report be submitted to the governor . . . on the complete overall operations of the Patuxent Institution."

Janitor Jailed, Fined In Wake Of Wild Chase

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP) —A school janitor was fined $1,100 and sentenced to 14 months in jail Tuesday on eight traffic charges filed after a wild 40 mile chase in Prince Georges County.

Police Court Judge William H. McGrath imposed the penalties on Henry A. Nolin, 47, of Pawtucket, R. I. The hour-long chase through holiday traffic occurred Sunday after Nolin refused to pay the $1.25 toll on Chesapeake Bay Bridge, police said.

Nolin ran two State Police roadblocks and was stopped when he collided with a county police car used as a barricade on U. S. 301 near Upper Marlboro.

Nolin's only explanation was that he was in a hurry to return home for a family wedding. He was not represented by an attorney and did not testify.

"I was just tired and wanted to go home," he told the judge.

Nolin contradicted police testimony once. He said he struck a State Police car, not a county cruiser.

Two members of Nolin's family said they would try to have Nolin undergo a mental examination. They said he had never acted that way before and apparently "had snapped."

McGrath fined Nolin $500 and sentenced him to one year in jail for trying to run down a State trooper; $200 and 60 days on two charges of reckless driving; $50 for driving in the wrong lane, $100 for speeding, $50 for driving on a closed portion of the highway and $100 or 30 days in jail on each of two charges of failing to obey a policeman. Nolin pleaded innocent to all charges except one of reckless driving.

State Police said a doctor tried to give Nolin a mental examination shortly after the accident but the motorist was too upset.

Labor Dispute Hits Detroit Newspaper

DETROIT (UPI)—A dispute between the Detroit News and Local 13 of the pressmen's union blocked publication of Tuesday's editions of the News and also delayed publication of the Detroit Times for 5½ hours.

The dispute was termed an illegal work stoppage by the city's two afternoon newspapers. It apparently grew out of work orders for Labor Day publication.

Neither the News nor Times published any scheduled editions during the forenoon. About 2:30 p.m., the Times published its early edition and a spokesman said the Times would run off and deliver all five editions in its normal day's schedule, despite the delay.

A spokesman at the News said the News would not publish.

"Flying Duck" Can Hit 50 MPH

NEW YORK (UPI) — A combination land and sea craft that can "fly" over water at speeds up to 50 miles an hour has been developed by the Avco Corp., it was announced Tuesday.

Called the 'Flying Duck," it is a gas turbine-powered, hydrofoil version of the World War II DUKW, an amphibious landing craft.

The DUKW had a maximum water speed of six miles an hour, which made it an easy target. The speed of the Flying Duck could make it difficult to hit while carrying troops or cargo. It can operate for about five hours at top speed, with a sea range of 250 miles.

USS Maryland Silver Service Goes To State

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has agreed to turn over to the State of Maryland a silver service donated to the U. S. Battleship Maryland, Rep. Thomas F. Johnson (D-Md) said Tuesday.

Johnson has introduced a bill which calls for the silver service to be transferred to the Maryland Historical Society. The battleship has been decommissioned and is being junked.

The death toll from traffic accidents across the country during the three-day Labor Day holiday added up to 438 Tuesday.

The National Safety Council had estimated 450 lives would be lost in traffic during the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday, local time. The total number of deaths this holiday compared with 420 for the same holiday period a year ago.

The council observed that the tragic toll should serve as a grim reminder of the need for greater driving care.

"It is always a shock to learn that a nation dedicated to humanitarianism and to the welfare of its people apparently cannot celebrate a holiday without a heavy and needless loss of life and limb," the council said in a statement.

The record traffic toll for a Labor Day week end is 461, set in 1951, when there were some 20 million fewer cars on the roads. Drownings and miscellaneous accidental deaths that year pushed the over-all toll to 653.

Khrush Sees Self As Quite A Diplomat

Editor's Note—William L. Ryan has observed Nikita Khrushchev closely both on his home grounds and in his favorite role of traveling salesman. To mark Khrushchev's visit to the United States Ryan has written five articles delving into the Soviet leader's background and philosophy. This is the first.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Nikita Sergeyevitch Khrushchev is a sort of human intercontinental missile. When he tours the United States next week, scattering verbal sparks along the way, he will be displaying his best brand of polished diplomacy.

For Khrushchev apparently sees himself as quite the diplomat.

"I got my diplomatic talent from my parents," Khrushchev told admiring Communists recently. "But I picked up some polish from my contact with American, British and Belgian engineers and technicians in my early days as a miner. They taught me the ability to get along with foreigners."

His means of getting along with foreigners as Communist party boss and premier of the U.S.S.R. frequently has been to insult all within earshot.

The prospective visitor to the United States could hardly be described as polished. But he is a prototype of the new Communist proletarian elite, the small and privileged new ruling class which in itself is a distortion of Marxist notions of equality.

The new Khrushchev has tried hard for a bit of polish, however. Gone are the bell-bottom trousers and baggy, shapeless jackets which were the first step away from sloppy cap and drab, dark clothing once affected by members of Stalin's ienrn circle.

The new Khrushchev leans to flashy, colorful clothes and Western styles, like the suits he imported from an Italian tailor shop.

The one-time coal miner and shepherd boy has come a long way. He likes to boast of his humble origins as grandson of a Russian serf. His parents eked out a precarious living at Kalinovka, where he was born April 17, 65 years ago. His birthplace, near the Ukrainian border, accounts for the heavy tinge of Ukrainian accent in his rapid, frequently ungrammatical Russian.

Glorying in the title of "honorary miner," Khrushchev recently told mine workers in Poland he still loves the smell of coal. But he's far removed from it.

Khrushchev never smoked. There are no ashtrays on his desks and he doesn't like visitors to smoke in his presence. He tries to discourage it among young Communists. He once was a two-fisted drinker, but he had tapered off in recent months, probably on the orders of doctors and in deference to some sort of kidney or liver ailment.

The name Khrushchev is derived from a Russian root "Khrushch," meaning a chafer or scarab-like beetle which is described as "large in size and in flight." The way Khrushchev propels his 220 pounds of clumsy energy about could suggest the erratic movements of an agitated beetle. But unlike the beetle, the Soviet boss knows where he's going.

The 5-foot-5 Premier gives the impression of never relaxing the rugged pace that would floor a lesser man.

Most noted for his pungent off-the-cuff remarks, Khrushchev in reality is a ponderous, marathon speaker who perches spectacles on nose and reads hours-long speeches liberally sprinkled with the monotonous cliches of Communist jargon.

Khrushchev also can sit patiently, hands folded on his ample middle, bald head cocked in an attitude of rapt attention, and listen for hours to long, dreary speeches of bureaucrats' about him. Khrushchev loves an argument, but none dares argue with him.

On his road shows, Khrushchev exudes a crude peasant charm which both shocks and captivates the more cultivated in his audiences. But the charm fades when Khrushchev is crossed. Then he roars, and one is aware that beneath the thin layer of personal charm, the man is hard as steel.

If there is any soft side about Khrushchev at all, it is in his family life. His motherly wife Nina pays little attention to her husband's stormy politics as she clucks over a brood of grandchildren.

Khrushchev is believed to have married Nina Petrovna in 1938, when he was vaulting into Stalin's Politburo. Apparently his former wife died. Nina raised Khrushchev's four children and is helping raise his four grandchildren. One of Khrushchev's sons, Leonid, a pilot, was killed early in World War II.

Khrushchev himself, though at the top of the heap, still is no Stalin, nor is there much chance he can oe a Stalin. He rules with the consent of others in his powerful Communist political machine. But he apparently is supremely confident of his present position — confident enough to leave the country on frequent long journeys such as his forthcoming one to the United States.

Eggs have the same kind of high quality protein found in meat and milk.

Railroad Runs Through Middle Of Missile Base

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — What will Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev remember most from his train trip from Los Angeles to San Francisco?

A coastline termed the most beautiful in the nation? Fertile fields and herds of fattened cattle? The historic city of Santa Barbara—now the playground of the rich? The multi-colored patterns of flower fields?

Probably not.

A large blue and white billboard—the Russian leader could hardly miss it—stands beside the Southern Pacific tracks on a wind-swept sand dune.

It reads:

"Welcome to Vandenberg Air Force Base. Home of the 1st Ballistic Missile Division of the Strategic Air Command." A Strategic Air Command shield—a mailed fist holding an arrow and a bolt of lightning — is inscribed, "Peace is our profession."

The sign is framed by three 12-story high Atlas missile gantrys—the platforms workmen use to service the missile. War-ready Atlas weapons—capable of hurling hydrygen destruction more than 6000 miles—stand in the gantrys.

Those gantrys and missiles are poised to strike out at any aggressor. The Air Force says their targets are pre-selected and presumably are inside the Premier's country.

The missiles are almost within stone-throwing distance of the railroad tracks. On the other side of the tracks are five launch pads used for the Discoverer research project.

Newsmen covering launchings at the base have often joked to the Air Force:

"Next time I'll buy a train ticket. The passengers on it can see more than we can from the press site. They get the Cook's tour of the base."

The tracks run right through the middle of the base.

While trains pass through the sprawling base—and it probably will be the same with the Soviet group's special—an experimental jet helicopter follows it.

"That's to keep people from jumping off in a security area," explain Air Force officers.

"We don't want anybody poking around out there. And besides there are still some unexploded land mines out there left over from World War II when this was Camp Cooke and a tank center."

Heads For U. S.

Can't Keep Awake

HALIFAX, England (UPI) — Archdeacon Eric Treacy appealed to readers of his monthly newsletter Tuesday to tell him "how to stop nodding off in public." The 52-year-old Treacy said he fell asleep recently while his Bishop Dr. John Ramsbotham, was speaking and was awakened by the applause. "I have tried everything, including pinching myself, asking my neighbors to prod me —all to no avail," he said.

Although the ordinary house moth lives only three weeks, it often deposits more than 200 eggs in that time.

Sickness, Accident and Hospital Insurance
—to help protect you against today's rising cost of medical care
—to help replace income you lose because you're sick or hurt
—to help provide for your family if you're killed in an accident
New Selector Plan lets you choose the exact type and amount of protection that's right for your needs—and your budget!

HOW WOULD YOU MAKE OUT? Hospital rates have gone up 97.6% in the past ten years. Have you increased your protection to match today's high cost of being sick or hurt?
In the few minutes it takes to read this important message, sickness or accident will disable 600 people. Of these, 180 will be admitted to the hospital. Each will face a daily charge averaging $28 for basic care alone. How would you make out?
If you're like most people, you already have some form of sickness, accident or hospital insurance. But inflation may have watered it down to where it would pay only a small fraction of hospital and doctor bills. Just "some insurance" or workmen's compensation may not give you all the protection you need.
Also, you may have overlooked insurance coverages that would protect you against the ruinous costs of a long, lingering illness or a serious accident. Almost anyone can afford to pay for one or two days in the hospital. The "long pull" is exactly when you need insurance the most. Yet it is a tragic fact that only one family in ten is financially prepared to face the costs of a serious disability—costs that can shatter a family's financial security, especially if the breadwinner's earnings are interrupted.
You may have risked going along with the protection you have because you've assumed that rising costs have also priced adequate coverage beyond your reach.
But now Allstate's Accident and Sickness Insurance provides you with a sensible new plan designed to help you solve these problems—at a cost you can afford.
WHAT THIS NEW POLICY BRINGS YOU
Here, in one flexible policy, you will find a broad selection of top-value coverages. You can select exactly the protection you need to close the gaps in your present insurance—at surprisingly little cost. This sensible plan lets you buy only what you need, without waste or duplication—pays in addition to any insurance you may now have. Or if you have no protection, it can be used as a sound basic plan.
Here Are A Few Of The Ways Allstate's New Plan Could Fit Your Needs:
YOU MAY NOW HAVE an employer or group plan that would pay you only for a few months after accident or sickness disables you.
YOU SHOULD HAVE an Allstate coverage that will pay you a monthly, tax-free income so you can provide for your family's living expenses while you are disabled. (Maximum: 5 years if totally disabled from sickness; for life if totally disabled; 6 months if partially disabled due to accident.) You can select the amount of income protection you want up to $400 a month for total disability—up to $200 a month for partial disability.
YOU MAY NOW HAVE a basic hospitalization plan which may pay you for only a few weeks.
YOU SHOULD HAVE an Allstate coverage that will begin paying after your present policy stops, to give you protection against in-hospital expenses of serious, drawn-out illness or disability . . . that pays 75% of hospital expenses for as long as 2 years for each accident or illness for each member of your family. (Maximum payment: $5,000 per person.) Or you can strengthen your basic hospitalization plan with an Allstate coverage that will pay daily hospital expenses in addition to the protection you now have.
YOU MAY NOW HAVE insurance with relatively few benefits—that pays only a small part of the actual costs of a long, lingering disability.
YOU SHOULD HAVE an Allstate coverage to help you with the major expenses of doctor, surgeon (including specialist) care, nursing costs and many other medical services, whether incurred in or out of a hospital.
YOU MAY NOW HAVE savings that could keep your family going for 6 months or a year if you were killed in an accident.
YOU SHOULD HAVE an Allstate coverage that pays $15,000 cash if you are killed in practically any type of accident. Pays in addition to any other payments made by this policy.
Allstate's modern approach to today's most needed, least understood kind of insurance brings you these special advantages:
1. New sensible "Selector Plan." Allstate fits the insurance to your needs. You buy what you need, without waste or duplication. Your Allstate Agent is a thoroughly trained, licensed, professional insurance man who will help you choose the protection that is exactly right for your needs.
2. Sears kind of value—Allstate was founded by Sears and won over five million friends with the same big-volume, low-overhead, quality-for-less way of doing business that made Sears famous.
3. Proven dependability—Allstate revolutionized auto insurance by cutting red tape, and settling claims fast, the modern efficient way. Allstate's Accident and Sickness Insurance is backed by the same considerate approach to claims service.
It's human nature to put it off... but don't! The average man is disabled 17 times during his lifetime. Facing odds like these, you owe it to yourself to get the facts.

Suspect In Slaying Admits Stealing Bull

SALISBURY (AP) — A Wicomico timber cutter has been charged with stealing a bull and is being held at the same time for investigation in the fatal shooting of his wife.

Sheriff Samuel A. Graham said Oscar Griffin, 50 of nearby Quantico, underwent a lie detector test Monday with a companion, Clete Jolly, 50, during the probe of the death of Mrs. Myrtle Lee Griffin, 45.

During the test, Griffin said he had stolen the bull last Aug. 12 from Herbert Harris of the Quantico section. The animal valued at $120 was slaughtered and sold.

Graham is awaiting the report of an autopsy in the death of Mrs. Griffin. She was found lying across a bed in the home where the couple and Jolly resided.

Policeman Faces Homicide Charge

BALTIMORE (AP) — Police Sgt. John Pumphrey's superior officer said Tuesday the 36-year-old policeman would be charged with homicide in the death of a man whom he hit with a nightstick.

Capt. Wade Poole of the Western District said Pumphrey, a member of the force for 11 years, would be charged with the fatal beating of Paul Clingenpeel, 25, who was injured in resisting arrest Sunday.

Clingenpeel died about 12 hours after his arrest from a blow on the head.

Pumphrey said Clingenpeel became abusive when he started questioning him about a man found lying on a sidewalk nearby. Pumphrey suffered nose and leg injuries in the fight which followed. Police said the dead man had a record that included assaulting an officer, disorderly conduct and drunkenness.

Elderly Woman Is State's 344th Auto Victim Of '59

By The Associated Press

A 76-year-old Eastern Shore woman became Maryland's 344th traffic death victim of 1959 when she was struck by a car Tuesday in Chestertown.

Mrs. Ethel D. Bramble of Chestertown suffered a fractured skull in the accident and was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital.

Cpl. W. E. Kulley of the Maryland State Police said Mrs. Bramble was struck as she stepped off a curb at Washington Avenue and Kent Circle.

The new fatality was recorded shortly after the state closed its books on a Labor Day weekend which took seven lives in traffic accidents and three by drowning.

The latest victim was Gertrude Howard, 72, of Vista, Md. She died early Tuesday in Prince Georges County Hospital an hour after she was struck by a car on Defense Highway.

State Police said Albert W. Turner, 42, of Mitchellville, said she stepped in front of his auto. He was charged with manslaughter and reckless driving.

Khrush Reserves Right To Define "Coexistence"

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

A short time ago Nikita Khrushchev dipped into his apparently inexhaustible supply of what he calls old Russian proverbs and announced that one should "enjoy hospitality, but tell the truth."

This was at Veshenskaya on Aug. 31, when the Communist boss dropped in on novelist Mikahil Sholokov. If, as he hinted, the proverb was supposed to mirror his pure intentions with regard to his United States visit, Khrushchev must have been referring to his own version of what is truth.

Blandly, the Soviet Premier went on to say that, "There never has been any propaganda waged in the U.S.S.R. against the United States." There have been only protests, he explained, against American "militarists."

There has been ceaseless propaganda against the United States, apart from that section of it Khrushchev labels the "ruling circles." For years Soviet propaganda diligently has painted a picture of Americans terrorized by police state measures, of workers denied a voice in their government, of major political parties serving as tools of the "monopolies," and so forth. Khrushchev himself has contributed to all this.

But, says Khrushchev, "We are going to the United States with the best intentions." He is coming to enjoy some American hospitality, and he has given Americans an idea of what is his notion of the truth.

In his article in the current issue of Foreign Affairs, U.S. quarterly, Khrushchev says there are only two choices for the West: peaceful coexistence with the Communist world or war. But Khrushchev reserves completely to himself the right to define what is meant by peaceful coexistence, a term coined by his predecessor Lenin.

If Khrushchev means what Lenin did, he must regard the Communist world as relentlessly and constantly at war with the non-Communist, a war in which peaceful coexistence means merely the absence of shooting so long as shooting is inconvenient.

Khrushchev leaves the impression he believes peaceful coexistence can be achieved only through capitulation to all major Soviet demands. What he seems to have been offering is a take it or leave it package. For example:

On trade: Khrushchev says there can be no peaceful coexistence unless "all barriers in international trade" without exception are eliminated. The West cannot withhold any strategic materials whatever from any Communist world bidder.

On Germany: There can be no peaceful coexistence without a peace treaty with the two Germanys, West and East. The West must accept indefinitely the legality of the division of Germany. It must disarm West Germany and leave it naked before the threat of Communist conventional arms.

On captive nations: There can be no peaceful coexistence, says Khrushchev, unless the West completely abandons the idea of a roll-back of communism. History, says Khrushchev, cannot be reversed. Wherever it holds sway—indeed, wherever it has prospects of holding sway—Communist rule must be accepted as legal and final.

On disarmament: The Soviet Union is prepared to talk about this on its own terms. But when the West asked for controls and guarantees, this, said Khrushchev at Veshenskaya, was "not a case of disarmament, but an ultimatum."

Car Kills Woman, 84

GREENCASTLE, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Etta Poe, 84, R.D. 3, Greencastle, died Tuesday when struck by an automobile as she was walking across U.S. 11 four miles south of this Franklin County Borough.

State Trooper Daniel F. Brennan said Mrs. Poe walked into the side of a car driven by Dorothy B. Kerkhoff, 49, (534 Brown Ave.) Hagerstown, Md.

Idea Of Pigeon Missile Pilots Isn't So Wild

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Ever hear of a determined pigeon piloting a missile in a suicide dive at an enemy battleship?

Well, you almost did, according to a story told recently by Dr. B. F. Skinner, Harvard University psychologist. It was a World War II scheme that never came to fact.

But now there's no reason why pigeons can't be trained to pilot a missile to land on the moon, Dr. Skinner said.

He began his story this way: "This is the history of a crackpot idea—of an idea born on the wrong side of the tracks, intellectually speaking, but that was eventually vindicated."

It began at the University of Minnesota in the late 1930s when psychologists discovered they could train pigeons to recognize some shapes and patterns, he told a meeting of the American Psychological Assn.

World War II gave birth to the idea of letting the pigeon memorize a target and then, by some method, learn to recognize the target again and somehow pilot a missile toward the target.

Researchers built a chamber in which the pigeon was strapped. The pigeon would see the target on a screen in front of him and peck at the target. When the target moved on the screen, the pigeon would peck at its new location.

By using special materials, engineers managed to get a signal out of the pecking—a signal that was fed to the guidance control of the device. If the target moved left, the signal corrected and brought the missile back on course.

The scheme was abandoned in 1944, after the sponsor, General Mills Co. and the University of Minnesota, were unable to convince government sources that it was practical.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: Now I know what the prisoner of Zenda felt like. I'm locked in my room — and I DO mean locked.

I went steady with this boy for a month. Last week I met another fellow I liked so I told my steady we weren't going steady any more. He got nasty and called me a vulgar name. I lost my temper and slapped his face. His glasses fell off and broke on the cement sidewalk.

He went right to my house, handed the broken glasses to Mother and told her I was a maniac. My mother put the glasses in Daddy's dinner plate and boy did I ever catch it! My father has to pay $18 for new glasses and I can't go anyplace but to church for a month.

You'd think my parents would be proud of me, but instead they're treating me like a criminal. Is this fair? — BEHIND BARS

DEAR BEHIND BARS: The only unfair part of the story is that YOU aren't paying the $18 out of your allowance or money earned.

You should not have slapped the boy's face. If you had turned on your heel and left the cad standing there, you'd have maintained your dignity and been a real lady. And a FREE one — instead of a cooped up chicken.

DEAR ANN: In January, I started to go with a man who said he was divorced. Three weeks ago a woman phoned and said she was Neal's wife. I thought she was a crank so I hung up on her.

That evening I told Neal about the call thinking he'd laugh it off. Instead he told me he was still married but "working on a divorce."

Last night we were supposed to go to the ball game but he phoned at 6:00 to say he had to leave town on business. About 11:00 I got suspicious and phoned his apartment. A woman answered. I asked who it was and she said, I'm Neal's wife. What's so odd about a woman living with her husband?"

I asked if they were splitting up and she said, "He tells that to all the girls. He's a great kidder. Don't take him seriously, Dear." I almost died.

What kind of game are these two slobs playing anyway? — BEE-WILDERED

DEAR B.: Sounds like a game of cat and mouse. The mouse seems to be acting like a rat — and the cat doesn't object. Where'd you find this gem anyway?

Next time check more carefully on your playmates.

DEAR ANN: We live next door to some people who are very difficult to figure out. My husband said last night. Those characters are one for Ann Landers." So—I'm writing to see if Ann Landers can figure them out.

They haven't painted their home in 10 years — won't spend the money. I'm quite sure they don't own a lawn mower because they always borrow ours. They sit in the dark half the time to "save the juice." Yet, get this, Ann, they drive a '58 Chrysler Imperial and last week they bought a boat for $6,000! Are WE crazy or are they? — NO SIG

DEAR NO SIG: Why does anybody have to be crazy? This is merely an example of differences in values. To some people a car is the most important thing in the world. Others put everything on their backs. Still others buy rare books. It has no relation to right or wrong, crazy or sane.

It would be a pretty dull world if everyone's values were the same, wouldn't it?

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

To Hold Service

TOKYO (UPI)—Prominent Japanese, including civic and government leaders, will hold a memorial service Wednesday for the late John Foster Dulles, known as the "architect of the Japanese Peace Treaty." U. S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II also will attend the service in Hibiya Public Hall in Tokyo.

Will Probated

The will of Walter P. Schlund, city, who died August 29 was admitted to probate yesterday in Orphans Court. His sister, C. Louise Zimmerla, 446 North Centre Street, was named executrix of the estate and along with Mary E. Porter, a niece of the deceased, a beneficiary.

Paid For Launching

PORTSMOUTH, England (UPI)—The wife of British Adm, John Unwin collected shipbuilders' wage for laying the keel of a ship Monday. Mrs. Elizabeth Unwin received five shilling (70 cents) for cutting the ribbon that started the cranes lowering the keel into place. She also checked it with a level. The admiral said the payment "represents the piecework rate for laying a keel."

$280,000 Damages Sought In Auto Death

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Damages totaling $280,000 are sought for the death of an Annapolis man in a traffic accident on U.S. 50 in December, 1957.

The suit was filed in Anne Arundel County Circuit Court on behalf of the widow and three children of George R. Ritter Sr., killed in a collision between an automobile and a tractor-trailer.

Defendants are Albert H. Wagner, operator of the auto in which Ritter and his wife were passengers, and Kenneth K. and Harry E. Zechman, operators of the Blue Diamond Co. which owned the truck.

The suit charged that Wagner and Bernard H. Carr, driver of the truck, contributed to the accident which occurred as Wagner's car crossed the eastbound lane of the highway into the service entrance of the Chesapeake Inn, a restaurant near the Bay Bridge.

Obey That Impulse!

That's right — go ahead and splurge on a marvelous, wildly extravagant fashion. Then turn it into the best investment you've ever made, by backing it solidly with wonderful clothes that form the backbone of every well-planned wardrobe.

Would a snow-white polar coat look delicious on you? Buy it! And wear it every day of the week over fall's softened dresses. The new tweeds, plaids, Jacquards, jerseys and flannels are perfect office equipment — and look so right under your furry splurge.

Or give in to fall's new glovery. Invest in a handful of brilliantly hued glace gloves and see how fall's exciting knit fashions take on additional luster. The newest ones tuck and puff at the cuff, come in lengths from wristbone to elbow, to meet every sleeve.

Hats and shoes, the most touted female weakness, can be the greatest impulse buys ever. Take a red leather, ruffle-front shoe (set on a small, shaped heel) and watch it transform classic tweeds into conversation pieces. Or see how a curly white lamb tam adds frosting to an elegant black tailored suit or a simple jersey dress.

K. Of C. To Meet

Amounts (to nearest $50,000) figured on the percentage of all federal taxes collected in each state. Current tax collections used as basis.

Every American is taxed to put the federal government into the electric business, and the cost to people in your state has run into millions of dollars.

This so-called "public power" has already cost the nation's taxpayers $5,500,000,000. And certain lobbyists and pressure groups are trying to boost the total to $15,500,000,000.

Such spending for more federal "public power" is completely unnecessary. For the hundreds of independent electric light and power companies, like this one, are ready and able to provide all the low-price electricity people will need—without depending on your taxes.

Federal "public power" keeps growing because most people don't realize they are paying for it. When enough people understand, you can be sure they'll call a halt to this unnecessary tax spending. Will you help spread the word?

Garbage Collection Pay Change Planned By City

Charter Amendment Resolution 11, which would repeal 1955 charter sections pertaining to wage-hour regulations applying to contractors with the city, went to its first reading before the Mayor and Council yesterday and will be considered again next Monday.

The sections to be repealed pertain to number of working days and hours a week, wage rates to be included in contracts and also the manner in which bids shall be advertised for any public works exceeding $1,000.

The repealed sections will also include the garbage contract. Under the present charter, the garbage contractor is required to pay same wage scales as that of the city to his employes for like or similar work. All other contracts were based on rates established for Cumberland and vicinity by the U. S. Department of Labor, Maryland Employment Security Board, all contractors and/or their subcontractors engaged in any public work.

Sources said that in effect, the proposed resolution will remove the garbage contract will remove city rate requirement. Since new city pay increases went into effect September 1 and the proposed resolution would not be effective until November or later, a legal question might be involved.

The garbage contract goes into effect October 1. The question is whether the contractor goes by the prevailing rate in effect at that time or must abide by the new resolution for the next year.

In that regard, council yesterday approved the bid of Emmett A. Dougherty, a former contractor, for the collection of garbage for one year beginning October 1. Daugherty submitted the low bid of $74,945, with options to renew for the next years.

City Attorney William R. Carscaden was out of town and unable to attend yesterday's session.

One Killed, Nine Hurt In Road Accidents

One person was killed, nine hospitalized and several others injured on highways in the Cumberland area over the long Labor Day weekend.

However, in the immediate Cumberland section, Maryland State Police at LaVale reported a "quiet" weekend with only two personal-injury accidents.

The accidents, one at Rawlings and one at Flintstone, both occurred Monday night and hospitalized two persons.

Mrs. Mary B. Wills, 43, of Piedmont, was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser after being injured along U. S. Route 220, two miles south of Rawlings. Hospital attaches today reported her condition as "satisfactory."

John S. Menefee, 37, of Sandusky, Ohio, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital after being injured in a one-car accident on U. S. Route 40 near Flintstone. He was reported in "fair" condition yesterday at the hospital.

The lone fatal accident occurred Sunday night on U. S. Route 50 in Preston County when Harry Zell, 53, Youngstown, Ohio was killed instantly.

Lester Leroy Boatright, 37, Homestead, Pa., was admitted Sunday to Bedford County Hospital after the car in which he was riding crashed into a utility pole near Shellsburg, Pa. Hospital attaches today reported him in "good" condition. He sustained lacerations of his left leg and possible rib fractures.

Three other persons were hospitalized Sunday night with injuries sustained in an auto accident on U. S. Route 50 in nearby Mineral County, W. Va.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital here were Keith Painter, 52, of McLean, Va.; Allan Hoye, 41, and his wife, Mrs. Betty Hoye, 19, of Akron. All are listed in "satisfactory" condition at the hospital.

In the first serious accident of the weekend, three persons were hospitalized following a one-car wreck Saturday on Backbone Mountain, two miles west of Bloomington. Hospitalized at Potomac Valley in Keyser were Mrs. Virginia Mae Wilson, 39, of RD 1, Bloomington; her husband, Forrest Raymond Wilson, 39, and Dailey Woodward Shockey, 39, of RD 1, Keyser.

Mrs. Wills was injured Monday night when struck by a station wagon being driven by Robert L. Showalter, 43, McCoole, who was traveling south along U. S. Route 220 at Rawlings.

State Police said Mrs. Wills' vehicle had run out of gasoline and she stopped in the traffic lane along the highway. The Showalter station wagon then rammed into the rear of the woman's car.

Attaches at the Keyser hospital said the woman underwent surgery Monday. She reportedly sustained leg and arm injuries.

Menefee was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital about 10:30 p. m. Monday after he overturned his vehicle near Flintstone.

Getty Praises Officer Gibson

State's Attorney James S. Getty has written Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney to praise the work of Officer Harold E. Gibson for his alert detection work of an attempted robbery August 27 at the Montgomery Ward Store.

Getty said that Officer Gibson's intelligent and candid presentation of evidence at the preliminary hearing held in Trial Magistrates Court on September 2 was also noteworthy.

Officer Gibson's astute handling of this entire matter helped prevent a major crime in Allegany County and his actions are in the highest traditions of efficient and conscientious police work, Getty declared.

"Without his initial discovery, the balance of the investigation that was handled properly and efficiently by the other officers participating would not have been possible," Getty stated.

County Gets Bids On Three Trucks

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday received bids on three heavy duty trucks for the Roads Department.

Apparent low bidder is the St. George Motor Company of this city which offered to furnish three new trucks for a net total of $17,323.50. Next low bidder was the Frostburg Auto Company at $17,700. Light and Decker Company of this city was third at $17,825 and the fourth bidder was the Heiskell Motor Company of Frostburg at $20,808.15.

The commissioners will tabulate the bids with the specifications of the advertisement before deciding on the successful bidder.

TO SPEAK HERE — Gladys Aylward whose life story was the subject of "Small Woman," condensed by Reader's Digest magazine and portrayed in a current Hollywood film, "The Inn of the Sixth Happiness," will speak at the new First Methodist Church, 1707 Frederick Street, at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, September 16. A heroine of war-torn China, Miss Aylward has bee making her first American speaking tour for church congregations and civic clubs.

Man Fined $500 On Motor Counts

A 36-year-old Chevy Chase man was fined $500 yesterday by Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt in Trial Magistrates' Court on three separate motor vehicle violations.

Charles Vanson Allen, who is employed as an automobile mechanic in Bethesda, pleaded guilty to counts of operating on a revoked license, altering an operator's license and displaying an operator's license not his own.

He was fined $200 on each of the first two counts and $100 on the third. Magistrate Weatherholt committed the man to the county lockup and gave him 48 hours to pay his fine. He will be committed to the House of Correction for a six-month term if the fine is not paid within that period.

The man was arrested by Trooper C. T. Snow of the State Police on Wineow Street early Saturday morning.

Employe's Salary Correction Is Rejected

The Mayor and Council by a 3-2 vote yesterday rejected a move to correct the salary of one employe to correspond with two others doing similar work and indicated applications for corrections and adjustments would be considered all at one time.

The vote came on an order introduced by Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder to correct the salary of Guy F. Long, watchman and weighmaster at the City Warehouse. Long receives $3,000 annually while two other warehouse watchmen receive $3,122 under the city pay setup. Mrs. Roeder said the request was made on the basis that Long has more responsibility and book work.

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming said he could not see the advisability of correcting the salary now and added it should have been done before. This should be withheld until a job reclassification and constant wage scale is set up, he added. Fleming said there are people working for the city, secretaries and clerks, for example, that aren't leveled out as far as salary is concerned.

Questioned by Street Commissioner John J. Long whether the order could be changed or withdrawn, Mrs. Roeder said she could not see the purpose of doing that. Further, she said, this situation is not related to oth situations, is not an adjustment but a correction. She said that a classification had been attempted during recent budget talks of council but "the rest saw fit to give across-the-board wage increases to individuals in their departments. We are not any nearer to classification," she said.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech pointed out that employes had been told to submit requests for adjustments to their department heads and they would be considered by council. He said he is no opposed to correcting Long's salary but if one is considered all should be considered, even from the standpoint of correction.

Guy Long's position is under the Finance Department.

Fleming said no one in the city is making a wage which is too high and urged that a classification be set up.

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light noted he had a man in his department who received a small increase not in keeping with the type of work he does and he would like an adjustment, too. There ought to be more employes taken into consideration for adjustment, but such a move takes time, Light added.

Commissioner Long said council should keep the Engineering Department in mind when considering adjustments and urged that all be studied at one time.

However, Long said he was going to vote for the Guy Long order "because I know what he does."

Mrs. Roeder said if the city does not have money to revise salaries for a number of people, she wondered how they could consider a whole group. She said she felt in the case of Long, the step is merely a correction.

The 3-2 vote found Mrs. Roeder and Long voting for the correction, Keech, Light and Fleming against.

City Accepts Bid

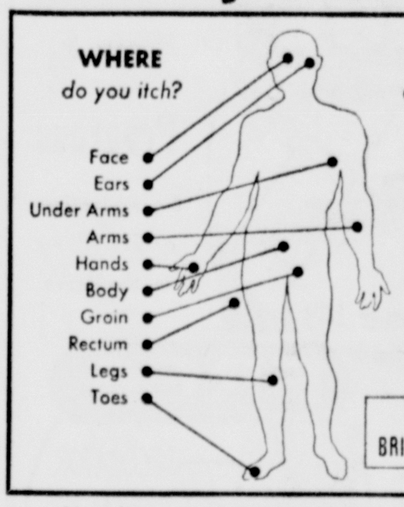

The Mayor and Council accepted the bid of Tri-State Mine and Mill Supply Company for 3,000 lineal feet of eight-inch concrete pipe in the amount of $2.30 a lineal foot. The pipe is for the Water Department.

Market Handed Its Third Worst Setback Of Year

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks lost more than $4,600,000,000 Tuesday in absorbing their third worst setback of 1959. Volume increased on the decline.

Individual losses ran past 5 points in the main list with the electronics, steels, motors, drugs and rails among the hardest hit groups.

At its lows, the market was off more than $5,400,000,000, but some late demand helped to stem the tide and lift many issues above their worst levels.

Tuesday's setback was exceeded only by the sharp declines suffered on Sept. 3 and Aug. 10. Since Aug. 3, when the market hit its all-time highs, stock valuations have plummeted more than $16,500,000,000.

Lack of support was the key factor behind the decline. Investors are holding to the sidelines pending further developments on the economic and international political scene. Key elements in the over-all picture include the prolonged steel strike, the effects of tight money on the business recovery, the coming Khrushchev visit to the United States and political troubles in Laos and India.

All of these factors combined to keep buyers out of the market. In the absence of support, a moderate amount of selling was enough to depress the market sharply. Brokers noted the market is very thin and that it does not take much selling to trigger a sharp decline.

Sales in Tuesday's session rose to 2,940,000 shares from 2,300,000 shares on Friday.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain prices were irregular Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was off ⅝ to up ¼; corn off ⅜ to 1⅝; oats unchanged; new oats off ¼ to up ⅜; rye up ⅛ to ¾ and soybeans off ½ to 1¼.

Wheat was mixed in a light trade. Scattered commission and commercial house support and a demand by exporters and flour mills boosted some prices above the previous close.

With reports that hot, dry weather was forcing the new corn crop into early maturity, longs sold September. The price dropped as much as 1⅝ cents. Some longs sold September and bought deferred contracts. Other months were easier. Export subsidies were granted on 575,000 bushels of corn, 40,500 bushels of oats and 85,000 bushels of rye.

Oats were quiet and mostly steady. Commission houses were on both sides of December. An export house was a buyer.

Rye was irregularly higher in sympathy with Winnipeg and on stop loss buying.

Soybeans were led by September to a weak level. Some of the early sellers bought at the low points. The extended fair and hot weather prompted some of the selling. Meals were also weak. Formosa was reported to have purchased 375,000 bushels of western wheat.

Outside markets were mixed. The range:

Unions Told To Guard Against Complacency

Union members of the Cumberland tri-state area were warned Monday in a Labor Day talk by Solomon 'Al' Barkin, research director of the Textile Workers Union of America, that they face a battle from opponents of labor and should drop any complacency they feel.

Barkin listed these items as part of the planned campaign against union labor: A conspiracy of erosion in weakening of unions through administration of the National Labor Relations Act, sapping the strength of weaker unions, and state right-to-work laws.

He also said there is a conspiracy to destroy unions by forcing strikes. He said this tactic was started several years ago by the O'Sullivan Rubber Company in Winchester, Va., and later against the TWUA in Henderson, N. C.

Barkin said that there is also a program under which the good name of unions is blackened by focusing attention on "scalawags" in the movement. He pointed to some of the hearings before the Senate committee which brought out instances of corruption in some unions. This is then projected in an attempt to "smear" all unions, he stated.

Then, Barkin said, there is the conspiracy of making labor the scapegoat for inflation. Barkin claims that inflationary trends are caused mostly by bankers, insurance companies and big business.

"They are in for the kill now," Barkin said, "with the Taft-Hartley Act being used as a threat to the Steelworkers Union, the Griffin-Landrum bill, and a program of bleeding unions of their resources."

Barkin likened the current drive against union labor to the program carried out in the early 1920s by big business when it tried to scuttle the union shop. The textile union official said that the complacency of the post-war years since 1946 must be eliminated if labor is to continue its progress.

Barkin was the main speaker at the Labor Day picnic sponsored by the Western Maryland Central Labor Council comprised of AFL-CIO and railroad brotherhoods at Mt. Calvary grounds on Mason Road.

A group of Latin American labor leaders who are attending a labor institute at Front Royal, Va., were guests at Monday's affair. One of them was a top official of the textile workers union in Peru and he brought greetings from fellow trade unionists of that country.

More than 5,000 persons attended the picnic during the day and swimming, games and contests were under the supervision of the Cumberland Recreation Department. The Men of LaSalle had charge of the concession stands and served refreshments.

A number of office holders attended. They included John J. Rowan, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners; State Sen. Charles M See, and Delegates William Walsh, Fred B. Driscoll and Lester Reed of the Maryland House of Delegates from this county.

County Gets Complaint About Drainage

Raymond H. Maun, Avenue E, Potomac Park, appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday to ask a water drainage problem at his property be eliminated.

Maun said that the ditch in the section causes the water during heavy rains to run onto his property. His complaint was referred to Harry Skelly, roads supervisor.

El Fidel Club To Meet

The El Fidel Club will nominate and elect officers at a meeting at Ali Ghan Shrine City Club, Thursday, 7:30 p. m.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting, according to Charles F. Hare, president.

Water Consumption Up

Water consumption for the week ending Monday amounted to 107,510,000 gallons or a daily average of 15,370,000 a day. This compares with an average of 11,528,000 the same period a year ago. Additional water use by Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company was cited last week as the cause. The water level at Lake Koon is eight feet two inches below the crest of the spillway and at Lake Gordon two feet six inches below

Oysters were exported from the Thames estuary to Rome as early as 80 A.D.

The smallest county in the United States is Bristol, in Rhode Island. It has an area of 24 square miles.

County Board Invited To AA Dinner

An invitation was received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to attend a dinner event.

The Cumberland Group of Alcoholics Anonymous wrote the board that they would observe the 12th anniversary of the organization with a dinner October 10 at 6 p. m. at St. Mary's Social Center on Oldtown Road.

Schools Open Today

Potomac River Odor Cited At Council Meet

Odor from the Potomac River on the West Side is "abominable," Commissioner of Streets John J Long asserted yesterday.

Long told the Mayor and Council that he recognized other members of the governing group had received similar complaints and felt it is time some action is taken.

"We have the Savage River Dam above the city. Couldn't the Potomac be flushed occasionally?

"Cumberland was forced to clean up its sewage problem at considerable cost and hardship on our taxpayers. We, and certainly the people on the West Side more than ever before, deserve some relief as to the odor of the Potomac River.

"I suggest that council request City Attorney William R. Carscaden and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum contact the proper state health and river authorities and request consideration for relief and correction of the unpleasant odors," Long said.

Nuzum said he had been in contact with officials concerning use of the Savage River dam and been told that action such as requested must be decided by the Upper Potomac River Commission.

Nuzum was authorized to contact the commission to see what steps can be taken to clear up the river odor.

In another action indirectly connected with the Potomac, council authorized Mayor J. Edwin Keech and City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery to enter into a contract with the U. S. Corps of Engineers under which the U. S. agency will pay Cumberland $2,000 for certain maintenance of the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection project.

Nuzum said the $2,000 is a liberal amount since work involved will require little equipment or maintenance. Involved is clean-up of brush, weeds and the like.

In event of anything of a major nature, the Engineers said they would pay the city more money, Nuzum added.

Man Sentenced For Petty Theft

A local man, Mervin Kyle, was sentenced to 30 days in Allegany County Jail yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court when he was found guilty of petty larceny by Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti.

The man was arrested on a state warrant by Lt. Det. James Van and Det. Thomas See of the City Police Monday in connection with petty theft from Montgomery Ward's store.

A: "I just can't say enough for Blue Cross!"

"It was a fortunate thing for me that our company, the Harry T. Campbell Sons' Corp., decided to provide its employees with a Blue Cross program. My wife and I have been subscribers for a long time, but until recently, when she was hospitalized, I guess we never really appreciated Blue Cross. Believe me, I just can't say enough for Blue Cross now! Without it, that hospital bill would have been a real setback to us. And what's more, I didn't have to get involved in filing claims; Blue Cross handled the whole thing direct with the hospital."

says Harry E. Hall, Driver
Harry T. Campbell Sons' Corp., Towson

A: "We appreciate the extra advantages of Blue Cross!"

"Years ago we felt the need to provide a hospital care plan that would give broad, realistic protection to our people. It was then we decided Blue Cross would give us a well-rounded program. Since then, we've also come to appreciate the extra advantages of Blue Cross: the ease with which it fits into our employee benefit program, the little time and effort required to administer it and the absence of red tape and claim problems."

says Bruce S. Campbell, Jr., President
Harry T. Campbell Sons' Corp., Towson

The Maryland Blue Cross Plan has only one purpose: to provide Marylanders with the greatest amount of protection against hospital bills at the lowest possible cost.

Blue Cross is non-profit—except for its extremely low operating expenses, the Plan's entire income is used to pay subscribers' hospital bills.

With Blue Cross, you're protected wherever you go—even if you move or change jobs. And as a Blue Cross subscriber you're protected after retirement—regardless of your age—for the rest of your life!

Promotions Announced In Guard Battery

Keyser Enlistees Are Advanced

KEYSER—A number of members of Battery C, local National Guard unit, have received promotions according to Lt. Charles E. Ravenscroft. The promotions were given on the basis of job proficience, passing grades achieved on military aptitude tests and sufficient time-in-grade.

Those receiving promotions include:

Clifton W. Bolyard, the battery's motor sergeant, was promoted from Specialist 5 to staff sergeant. He is a veteran of five years' active duty and three years' National Guard service and was graduated from Wheeled Vehicle Maintenance School, Track Vehicle Maintenance School, and Maintenance Supervision School, all at Fort Sill, Okla.

Corporals James A. Martin and David L. Steiding, along with Specialist Fours Gerald R. Keplinger, Von A. Mosser, and Ronald E. Snyder, were promoted to sergeant.

Martin, with three years active service, is a chief of howitzer section in the battery. Steiding is a gunner in a howitzer section and has four years National Guard service. Keplinger and Mosser are products of the six-month active duty training program. Keplinger, another gunner, received advanced artillery training, while Mosser, the battery's communications chief, was trained in artillery communication procedures. Snyder, who has been a member of Battery C for five years, is the battery's wire team chief.

Also receiving promotions are Specialist Fours Leroy S. House Jr., Ray S. Rotruck, and Carrol A. Turner, promoted to corporal. Privates First Class Thurman R. Fike, Berlin F. Moyers, and Lowen C. Spitzer are advanced to specialist four. Privates promoted to private first class are Robert R. Gray, Robert E. Miller, Raymond J. Pritts, Gary O. Rotruck, Galen P. Smith, and Richard M. Snyder.

Frostburg Marine Honored

Marine Acting Cpl. Fred W. Thomas, (right) son of Mrs. Helen Snyder of RFD 3, Box 161-A, Frostburg, is congratulated by his Squadron Commander, Lt. Col. G. L. Allen, upon receiving his first Good Conduct Medal. Thomas is serving with Air Base Squadron 17, a unit of the First Marine Aircraft Wing at the US Marine Corps Air Facility, Iwakuni, Japan. Before enlisting in July 1956, Thomas attended Beall High School.

WSCS Sponsors Seminar Series On Missions

KINGWOOD, W. Va. — A series of educational seminars will be held throughout the Methodist West Virginia Conference in September by the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Mrs. Frank B. Everhart of Kingwood, secretary of missionary education, announced the schedule of meetings, designed to promote missionary education and program materials.

The studies to be presented include two interdenominational studies on "Africa," and "The Church's Mission in Town and Country," a spiritual life study on "The Gospel of Luke," a Christian social relations study on "The Role of the United Nations in World Affairs," and a church-wide study on "Medical Missions."

District and conference officers of the WSCS will assist with the programs. Attendants from the churches will include officers of each society responsible for studies and programs, future study leaders and interested members.

Beckley District, September 11, Beaver Methodist Church.

Bluefield District, September 15, Trinity Methodist Church, Bluefield.

20 Attend WSCS Meet At Barton

BARTON—The Women's Society of Christian Service of Barton Methodist Church met recently in the church social room with 20 members attending.

Mrs. Cecil Dye was in charge of the program. The meeting opened with the singing of "'Tis So Sweet To Trust In Jesus," and prayer by Rev. Byron Keesecker. Members having part in the program were, Mrs. Mildred Harvey, Mrs. Keesecker, Mrs. Gertrude Broadwater, Mrs. Lola Shuhart, Mrs. Bernetta Clark, Mrs. Ruth Shuhart, Mrs. Virginia Broadwater and Mrs. Dye.

Mrs. Robert Houdersheldt, president, was in charge of the business session. Plans were made for the Zone meeting to be held at the Barton Church on October 1. Announcement was made that World Day of Prayer will be observed October 28 at the church. It was also announced that a United Nations film will be shown on October 6 and 13 at the Lonaconing Methodist Church, and all interested persons are welcome.

Mrs. Mildred Harvey displayed a blanket made by the Kabyle people of Algeria in North Africa. She explained how the Kabyle people card the wool and with moss, berries, herbs and tree bark, dye the wool before weaving it into blankets and material.

The blanket displayed by Mrs. Harvey was a gift from her daughter-in-law, who served as a missionary in North Africa for several years.

Hostesses for the evening included Mrs. Bernetta Clark, Mrs. Gertrude Broadwater and Mrs. Virginia Broadwater.

Mrs. Wm. Harvey Plans Open House

BARTON — Mrs. William Harvey Sr. will entertain with open house at her home this evening in honor of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Harvey Jr. who are visiting with her here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey who were married June 27 at Lakewood Methodist Church, in Ohio now reside in Livingston Manor, New York, where Mr. Harvey is pastor of the Methodist Church and a student at Drew University. Both Mr. and Mrs. Harvey were missionaries in Africa for several years. Mrs. Harvey is the former Nancy Lee Blake of Westlake, Ohio.

Westernport Briefs

Survey Party Seeking Oil In Morgan Co.

Begin Prospecting By Seismograph

BERKELEY SPRINGS — An extensive oil survey of this area is being made by the Seismograph Service Corporation of Tulsa, Okla.

The survey party of 18 men is working under direction of A. J. Kochendorfer, a geophysicist.

The Seismograph Service Corporation have been making such surveys all over the world for 25 years. They do not drill for oil but make surveys and pass on the information gained to their clients, usually a major oil company.

Kochendorfer explained that this particular crew uses the seismic method technique. In the case of reflection seismographic prospecting, a sound wave is created by a dynamic explosion. The sound waves created travel downward with a hemispherical wave front until it meets rock boundaries of a considerable difference in elasticity or density.

These reflections are picked up by geophones which are set in the surface of the earth. With a knowledge of the velocity of sound waves from the surface to these reflecting formations, their depth can be computed in feet. From this data maps are made which portray the attitude of rock strata at or near possible oil bearing horizons.

Drilling of holes for the detonation of dynamite charges are made at numerous places throughout the area, sometimes along a road side, in state owned parks or forests and on private property when permission is granted.

Kochendorfer said his party may be in this area for several months but just how long is indefinite. He has headed crews doing this type of work in seven countries which included Africa, South America and the Northwest Territory of Canada.

14-Year-Old Girl Bitten By Snake At Westernport

WESTERNPORT — Susan Sively, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sively, 413 Pratt Street, Luke, was bitten by a snake Monday afternoon on the Western Maryland Railway crossing at Washington Street.

She was accompanied by Susan Ritchie, and after being bitten on the top of her left foot she screamed. Jerry Bryan of Luke who was passing by in a car jumped out and put a tourniquet on the foot. A doctor was summoned to the scene of the accident and he took her to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser. She returned home Tuesday night and is recovering.

The snake was killed by mashing its head and it could not be determined if it was poisonous. It was 14 inches long and was said to have the appearance of a copperhead.

Shepherd College Offers Extension Classes In Area

SHEPHERDSTOWN, W. Va. — Two organizational meetings, one at Berkeley Springs, W. Va., and another at Romney, W. Va., will be held Friday, September 11 for the purpose of organizing extension classes for the coming school year, it has been announced by Dr. A. G. Slonaker, dean of Shepherd College.

A representative from Shepherd will conduct the meeting at Berkeley Springs at 7 p. m., DST, at the high school building. The courses to be offered will depend on the wishes of those present at the initial meeting.

Professor Cletus Lowe of Shepherd will be at Romney High School one hour later the same night at 7 p. m., EST, to conduct the organizational meeting there.

Dean Slonaker said that on the basis of a preliminary survey it would appear as though a class in West Virginia History seems certain to be offered. He said also that a number of people indicated an interest in Development of Social Institutions 102, art history and appreciation and an elective course in art. However, he explained that the final selection of courses to be offered will depend on the wishes of the people present at the first meeting at Romney.

Custody Case Opens In W.Va. Supreme Court

Parsons Couple Battle DPA

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A legal battle over the custody of a three - year - old girl was argued in the West Virginia Supreme Court Tuesday.

The Department of Public Assistance and a Tucker County couple each claims custody of the child.

The little girl was placed in the home of Forest and Edith Isner, Parsons, in October, 1956, under a foster home contract by the DPA. However, the Tucker County Circuit Court in June, 1958, voided the contract, which called for the surrender of the child to a qualified adoptive couple, on a technicality. This allowed the couple to keep the girl.

W. Del Roy Harmer, attorney for the Isners, said the contract was illegal because the Isners' were not informed of the child's real name when she was placed under their care.

DPA attorney Harold A. Bangert Jr., Charleston, described the stand as "almost facetious." He said the child was given an alias to maintain the confidence of her mother, who had turned her over to the DPA.

Harmer also maintained that the DPA's petition for a writ of certiorari to force the circuit court to send up records of the case to appeal the custody order was a "fraud on the court."

The writ was granted by the high court after the DPA alleged the circuit clerk had refused to deliver the records. Harmer maintained the clerk was not given sufficient time to prepare and mail them.

Harmer said the little girl has been with the Isners since she was seven days old and "to remove her now would be great injustice to the child."

LaVale Election Helps Clear City Voting Records

The City of Cumberland registered five new voters during August, but the month ended with a net loss of 38 voters.

The new voters included two white males and two white females.

Death erased the names of 25 voters and 18 other names were removed from the rolls after the voters moved outside the city.

The names of the 18 former residents were provided by the Board of Election Supervisors from information secured during plans for the recent LaVale fire tax election.

Total city registration on August 31 was 11,601. Included were 6,007 white males, 5,391 white females, 125 colored males and 78 colored females.

Deaths And Funerals

NORMAN E. CHIRDON

Norman E. Chirdon, 44, of 202 Columbia Street, a salesman for the Buchanan Lumber Company, died Monday at Sacred Heart Hospital.

Born in Gallitzin, Pa. on April 12, 1915, he was a son of the late Charles Chirdon and Gertrude (Conrad) Chirdon, who survives. He is also survived by his wife, Mrs. Jane (Weller) Chirdon.

Mr. Chirdon was a member of Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus, Fourth Degree of the K. of C.; the Alhambra Club; SS. Peter and Paul Church; the Holy Name Society of that church; Men of LaSalle, and the Friars Club. He was district deputy warden for the Knights of Columbus.

Besides his wife and mother, he is survived by two sons, G. William and J. Leo Chirdon, both at home; two daughters, F. Ann and Paula Jane Chirdon, also at home; one brother, Frederick Chirdon, Altoona, Pa., and four sisters, Mrs. Thomas Laing, Cincinnati, Ohio, Mrs. Norman Fowler, Hempstead, N. Y., Mrs. Robert Hudson, Altoona, and Mrs. Frederick Hunter, Altoona.

A requiem mass will be celebrated Thursday at 9 a. m. at SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church and interment will be in the church cemetery.

The body is at the Stein Funeral Home where the LaSalle Mothers Club will recite the rosary today at 7:30 p. m.

The SS. Peter and Paul Holy Name Society and Knights of Columbus will recite the rosary today at 8 p. m. at the funeral home.

The family will receive friends at the funeral home from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

Members of Chief Justice Taney Assembly, Fourth Degree, K of C, will act as an honor guard at the funeral service.

Pallbearers will be Sylvester Burke, John Wolfhope, James DeMay, Carl Firlie, Jack Loibel, and Joseph Love.

MRS. ROY RITCHEY

Mrs. Viola (Hiser) Ritchey, 68, wife of Roy Ritchey, of Pittsburgh, Pa., died at a hospital there Monday.

Mrs. Ritchey lived in Cumberland for a number of years with her sister, Mrs. Clarence Borror, of 318 Maryland Avenue. While in Cumberland Mrs. Ritchey attended business college and Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Besides Mrs. Borror and her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Norma Vuckson, of Sunnyside, Calif.; a stepdaughter, Mrs. William Harpster, Altoona, Pa.; three step-sons, James Ritchey, San Francisco, Calif., Monroe Ritchey, Falls Church, Va., and Sheldon Ritchey, Pittsburgh; two other sisters, Mrs. Verna Shockey, Keyser, and Mrs. Retta Dunkle, Franklin, W. Va.

Services and burial will be held Thursday in Altoona.

MRS. TAYLOR JOHNSON

KEYSER — Mrs. Bessie P. Johnson, 67, wife of Taylor H. Johnson, died Sunday in Baltimore where she had resided for the past 17 years. Mrs. Johnson was born in Mineral County.

Besides her husband, she is survived by four children, Mrs. Hazel Stalmaker, Baltimore, Mrs. Annie Zetty, Caloway, W. Va., Jessie and Earl Johnson, both of Baltimore; a sister, Mrs. Mary Amtower, of here, 10 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Services will be conducted today at 2:30 p. m. at Oakdale Church of the Brethren, near Shear, W. Va., by the Rev. Owen Horton. Burial will be in Thrush Cemetery, Antioch, W. Va.

The body is at the Rogers Funeral Home here.

MILLER INFANT

McCOOLE — Margaret Stephanie Miller infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Miller, died Monday in University Hospital, Baltimore, where she had been admitted last Thursday.

Surviving, besides the parents, are three sisters, Nancy, Dorothy and Mary Miller and five brothers, James, Thomas, Michael, John and Francis Miller, all at home; the maternal grandfather, Victor Kalbaugh, Piedmont, and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller, St. Petersburg, Fla., former residents of Westernport.

A requiem mass will be celebrated Thursday at 8:15 a. m. at the Church of the Assumption in Keyser. Burial will be in the parish cemetery. The body is at the residence.

Independent Audit Of W.Va. SRC Continues

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—An independent audit of the State Road Commission apparently will continue despite action Tuesday by the State Board of Public Works, rescinding its recent decision authorizing the commission to use certain funds to pay the cost.

The board had previously authorized the transfer of $10,000 from the State Road Fund to help pay for an audit by an independent Charleston firm under a contract drawn up by the State Tax Department.

State Tax Commissioner Don Carman said his department intends to go on with the contract for the audit and bill the Road Commission. He said it will be up to the commission to determine how to pay its share.

Secretary of State Joe Burdett said he and three other Democrats on the board changed their minds about authorizing the transfer of funds for the audit.

Burdett said they felt the audit would only duplicate one already undertaken by Legislative Auditor Clarence Koontz under orders of a legislative interim committee.

World's Finest Rifle Barrels Come From Tiny W.Va. Village

By CARLO J. SALZANO
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A tiny community on Big Tyler Mountain, near Charleston is considered by some sportsmen, marksmen and gun collectors as the rifle barrel capital of the United States.

Cross Lanes, W. Va., about 10 miles west of here, is the home of custom - made rifle barrel named "Ultrarifled."

G. R. Douglas, an enterprising machinist, started turning out custom - made rifles as a hobby while still working for the Du-Pont Co. in 1939. Seventeen years later, he launched his G. R. Douglas Co. and started producing the rifle barrels.

Buys Special Steel

Two years ago, Douglas stopped buying special heat - treated barrel steel from one producer because its physical properties were not satisfactory. He decided, instead, to buy special steel from Wheelock, Lovejoy and Co. Inc., Cleveland, Ohio, and to heat-treat the 20-foot sections himself.

A machine designed and patented by Douglas and his plant foreman, A. L. Gardner, bores and rifles the length of steel.

The firm makes rifle barrels which include calibers from .45 down to .20, the latter expected to become popular with small game hunters.

Many Commendations

The Remington and Winchester companies also have ordered Ultrarifled barrels for safari and special big game hunting expeditions.

Douglas' files are filled with letters from hunters and sportsmen from countries all over the world. They come from big game hunters in Africa, South America, Alaska and other places.

One of those who can testify to the accuracy of a Douglas barrel is Sam Clark Jr. Clark was using one when he set the 10-shot, 200-yard world record at DuBois, Pa.

H. L. Culver used a similar barrel when he broke Clark's record in 1956 and Harold Hale won the National bench rest championship at Camp Perry, Ohio, in 1957 with a Douglas barrel.

Confused Ohioan Fails To Seek Marriage License

A young man from the state of Ohio was in a state of confusion yesterday afternoon when he applied for a marriage license at the Allegany County Court House.

When told to raise his right hand to take an oath the young man raised his left hand momentarily. Later he asked when he could get the license and was told Thursday.

He said he thought a license could be procured in two days. Then he asked what day yesterday was, and realized it was only two days until Thursday. However he decided not to apply for the license after all.

Sunbeam Party Is Planned At Church

A birthday party for the members of the Sunbeam Auxiliary of Grace Baptist Church will be held at the regular monthly meeting Thursday at 7 p. m. at the church.

Youngsters will bring quarter gifts to be exchanged at the meeting. The girls will bring gifts for girls and the boys will bring boys' gifts.

The program theme will be on Mexico and Mrs. A. L. Rogers, instructor in Spanish at Allegany High School, will show movies of her recent trip to Mexico.

State offering envelopes also will be turned in at this meeting, Sunbeam leaders said. All members and their mothers are invited to attend.

Area Man Jailed In Default Of Fines

Gaylord D. Sullivan, 25, of RFD 1, Mt. Savage, yesterday was committed to Allegany County Jail for 15 days in default of fines imposed on two motor vehicle violations at a hearing in Trial Magistrate Court.

Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti found Sullivan guilty of failing to obey a written promise to appear in Trial Magistrate Court and for exceeding 50 miles per hour.

Sullivan was fined $25 on the first charge and $15 on the second count. Magistrate Carpenti committed Sullivan for 15 and 10 days in default of the fines, but said they may run concurrently.

W.Va. Colleges Ask State For Increased Revenue

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The presidents of state - supported colleges asked the State Board of Education Tuesday for more money for everything from salaries down to repairs and alterations.

The board also turned down revised plans for a new building at West Liberty State College.

Speaking for the Council of College Presidents, West Virginia State President William Wallace said the 1960-61 budget should include a pay raise of at least 20 per cent for administrative personnel and full professors.

Wallace said associate professors should get at least a 15 per cent increase and instructors and non-teaching personnel should receive a 10 per cent pay boost.

Wallace also told the board the council wants a 15 per cent increase for current expenses, equipment and repairs and alterations.

The board opened its two - day meeting with a report by State School Supt. R. Virgil Rohrbough who outlined a plan to "upgrade" West Virginia public school teachers in certain major subjects such as mathematics and science at "institutes" established through state colleges.

The board approved a recommendation by Rohrbough that Ralph D. Purdy, Oxford, Ohio, make a $14,750 study to improve "grossly inefficient" statistical methods used by the State Department of Education.

The board also approved new rules and regulations governing registration of agents of privately - owned correspondence schools and business and trade schools soliciting enrollments in West Virginia.

Revised plans for construction of a combination administration-classroom - science building at West Liberty were rejected because cost estimates exceeded the $1,200,000 allocation.

The board asked West Liberty President Paul N. Elbin to submit alternate plans for the three-story structure that would come within the allocation. According to plans submitted Tuesday, the building would cost nearly $1,300,000.

The board's agenda for Wednesday includes reports and recommendations from the new president of Concord College, Joseph F. Marsh Jr.

The board also will hear representatives of the West Virginia Federation of the Blind discuss West Virginia's rehabilitation program. Officials of the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation will present preliminary plans and cost estimates for construction of shops at the state rehabilitation center at nearby Institute.

Fire Damages Legion Post Home

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (UPI) — An American Legion Post building was gutted by fire here early Tuesday. Damage was unofficially estimated at upwards of $150,000.

The cause of the blaze was not immediately determined. The building housed a supply store on the first floor and the club facilities on the second floor.

Missile Industry Has Its Problems

No doubt aircraft companies would have a short term shock and a later feeling of relief if any appreciable progress were to be made in a disarmament conference in the rumor stage for early next year.

Most aircraft companies, and particularly the larger ones, are dependent for their prosperity primarily on government decisions. And the government, which once gave so lavishly, is now cutting back.

Fully as bad, the government is challenging the profits which the airplane companies made mostly on federal contracts.

The government gives the go-ahead, then reverses the signal. Designs for planes, missiles and other war hardware are becoming so complicated that the contracting company has to farm out more work than it can keep for itself. And the missiles, expensive as they are, do not employ men and materials in anything like the degree bombers and fighters do.

For these reasons the aircraft industry faces a shrinkage of operations and manpower which may be only temporary. After all, munitions makers and ship builders of the past had their ebbs and flows in the government service.

The question still remains: If not the big concentrations of tools and know-how in the aircraft industry that the government has been using for defense, what will the next step be? Will the industry be compelled to draw closer together through consolidations that can service both government and private demand without these ups and downs?

Perhaps the industry would be happier if it were out of the obsolescence phase caused by constant government switches and knew what to expect from one month to the next.

Eisenhower Beginning To Receive Mail Critical Of Khrushchev Visit

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Though this column bears a Washington dateline, actually it is written from a near-by vacation spot, isolated from the telephone, the irritation of Congressmen and the usual mass of mail, where I can concentrate on what I consider to be the most important news development of the year — Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the USA.

In my opinion, the exchange trips of Khrushchev and Eisenhower will mark a turning point in history from which either we go ahead to a new era of peace or we deteriorate toward war. In this and subsequent columns I should like to set forth the reasons why.

According to latest reports, mail is streaming into the White House critical of Eisenhower for agreeing to the exchange visits. On top of this certain powerful Senators and churchmen have taken public positions in opposition.

Without doubting the sincerity of these objectors, it seems to me that President Eisenhower has just two alternatives. He can either fight or he can talk.

That may sound like an oversimplification of the case, but it isn't.

When any two nations have attained the strength of the USA and the USSR, and have pretty much divided the world into Communist bloc and capitalistic bloc nations, then either they learn to get along with each other, or face an eventual military showdown against each other.

Our Poor Bargaining Position

Let's examine the latter alternative first. Let's ascertain what the outcome would be in case of a military showdown.

Ten years ago, in 1949, the United States had such preponderant air power in Western Europe, that we managed to break a military blockade of Berlin deliberately aimed at forcing us out of that key city. Our military strength in the air was so predominate that the Soviet threw in the sponge.

A year later with the advent of the Korean war, we began building a circle of air bases from the Arctic to North Africa, from the Near East to the Far East, which, studded with bombers and fighters, made us by 1952 easily the world's greatest military power.

But in the six years that have passed since 1952 we have lost that predominance. Taking only the public statements of our military leaders — not their more pessimistic private statements — we have lost the edge necessary for decisive victory.

According to Secretary of Defense McElroy we have no plans for catching up with Russia in the race for the dread, long-range intercontinental ballistic missiles. According to Keith Glennan, head of the space agency, Russia is far ahead of us in the conquest of outer space. According to Adm. Arleigh Burke, Chief of Naval Operations, Russia is far ahead of us in submarines able to launch underwater missiles.

On top of this, if we face the fact that Russia has an army of 175 divisions against our 14 divisions; that Russia now has the second biggest navy in the world; that Russia has an atomic stockpile, perhaps not as big, but fully able to knock out the chief cities of the USA—then you can understa.' why President Eisenhower is talking to Khrushchev, not fighting Khrushchev.

Competition For Capitalism

It is not the purpose of these columns to criticize General Eisenhower for letting us slide into this poor bargaining position, but rather to examine the realities of the situation and see exactly what we face. And the major reality, unpleasant as it may be, is that we have lost the sure ability to win an atomic war. A war today might be a stalemate, with each side suffering atomic fallout for years. Or if taken by surprise, we could lose.

In any event, the sure ability to win which we had during the Berlin airlift 10 years ago, is gone. That is why Khrushchev precipitated the new Berlin crisis with such confidence. And that is why we have steered away from another Berlin airlift and are talking to Khrushchev instead.

The fact that Khrushchev is talking, rather than pulling the trigger, is in itself a healthy thing. It bears out the diagnosis of former Ambassador Charles Bohlen, of Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, and more recently of Vice President Nixon, that the Kremlin wants no war, but is preparing for a long period of competition with the capitalistic world — in trade, propaganda, and the winning of men's minds in Asia, Africa, and Latin America.

If we are afraid of that competition, then we are afraid to practice the basic principle of capitalism which, of course, is competition.

It may well be that Eisenhower and Khrushchev, during their talks, will set out some of the ground rules for this competition.

Khrushchev will be a tough trader. He'll be no pushover. But you can write it down as certain that on the behavior of the American people during Khrushchev's visit will partly depend the success of Ike's talks. If we show Mr. K. the best side of the USA it will strengthen Eisenhower's hand. If there are dangerous demonstrations, the results could be disastrous.

What some diplomats fear is a repetition of Sarajevo, the little Balkan city which the Archduke Franz Ferdinand, heir apparent to the Austro-Hungarian throne, visited in 1914. The bomb that killed him at Sarajevo started World War I.

(Another Pearson column on the problems, hopes and objectives of the Khrushchev-Eisenhower exchange follows tomorrow.)

West Must Take Care Not To Appease Reds

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—On the eve of Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States, he brazenly gives support to a war designed to conquer the remainder of Asian territory not yet controlled by Communists.

Along a front of approximately 3,000 miles, Communist armies and munitions now have been mobilized and small bands of troops have already crossed over to invade various free countries, including Laos, Burma and India.

Americans are unfamiliar with the names of the places where the war is taking place or with the geography of the area. But what has just happened is about the same thing as if the Communists held all of Canada and sent troops across into Idaho, Minnesota, Michigan and New York. Since the military operations are widely separated, the plot is not so readily apparent. But the whole movement is a concerted one and it is aimed at conquering all of the continent of Asia. Presumably as soon as the conquest of the Mainland is completed, the way will be open for the invasion of the Philippines, Japan and Formosa.

This military action, coming as it does in the midst of Khrushchev's protestation of peaceful intent and his advocacy of "peaceful co-existence," is truly startling. For evidently he thinks Americans and the free world generally will acquiesce rather than risk giving any military support to the victims of aggression. This is precisely the view Hitler had when he invaded the Rhineland and Czechoslovakia and when he finally attacked Poland in 1939. He was convinced that the West wouldn't fight.

The facts about the war in Asia have been plainly set forth in an official statement issued on Saturday by the United States government. It says in part:

"It is now clear that the Communist bloc does not intend to permit the sovereign Lao government to remain at peace. The Communist bloc apparently intends to foment and direct a rebellion within Laos and to give extensive support to the attempt to seize important areas and otherwise to prevent the establishment of those peaceful conditions necessary to implement basic economic and social programs. . . .

"That outside Communist intervention exists is demonstrated by the assistance evidently being received by the Communist forces within Laos, including supplies and military weapons that could be provided only from Communist territory. . . . and by the fact that the military outbreak in Laos has followed conferences in Moscow and Peiping between Ho Chi-minh and Soviet and Chinese Communist leaders and also conferences in Moscow between two members of the North Vietnam Politburo and Deputy Prime Minister Anastas Mikoyan. . . . It is appropriate that this matter be thus brought to the world's attention."

The United States is joining with other nations to bring the situation before the United Nations Security Council and—if a Soviet veto is interposed there—a request for a United Nations General Assembly meeting will then be forthcoming. In the case of the military action ordered by the U.N. in 1950 in North Korea, the Soviet government had absented itself from the Security Council, so no Soviet veto was registered. But the General Assembly, too, can authorize any group of member nations to take action or the latter can do so without seeking U.N. permission, simply by utilizing the collective formula provided by Article 51 of the U.N. Charter.

The Communist bloc already has infiltrated sufficiently into Afghanistan to set up a Communist-supported regime there, and efforts are also being made to overthrow the existing government in Iran which is next door to Afghanistan on the west.

The Soviet strategy seems to be to move southward from the Asian territory already held by the Communists, including the Mainland of China and Tibet as well as Northern Vietnam. It will be recalled that at the Geneva Conference of 1954, which was supposed to end the Indo-China war, the Communists agreed to withdraw to North Vietnam and to respect the sovereignty of Laos, Cambodia, Thailand and South Vietnam. But in recent months the Communists not only have invaded most of those same areas with marauding bands but also have sent troops into the provinces bordering on Pakistan and into certain states within India's jurisdiction. Also Burma is being stirred up by the Communists, and there are Communist-inspired riots in Calcutta and other parts of India. The pattern is the same as has been witnessed heretofore prior to an actual invasion by Communist troops.

Will the members of the free world stand up in the United Nations and take steps to repel aggression just as they did in Korea in 1950? Should President Eisenhower politely advise Khrushchev that, in view of the changed conditions in Southern Asia, perhaps it would be better for the Soviet Premier to "postpone" his visit to the United States? These are the questions arising out of the new crisis that the Communists have fomented. It is not a time for cringing but for resoluteness — otherwise, a greater danger could come from the big war that usually ensues when dictators are appeased.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Khrushchev And Mao

Two views can be taken of the Sino-Indian situation and it is not likely that the truthful explanation will be available for many years. Mao Tze-tung is a complex personality, the product of a mixture of Confucian and orthodox Marxist thinking. He is a pragmatist whose measure of the rightness, the fitness, the propriety of a course of action is its effective implementation.

Obviously, Nikita Khrushchev would not take the trip to the United States and make all the preparations he is making for it, if he anticipated a total failure. It is equally obvious that the support that the United States is giving Laos and the support that Great Britain and the United States must give to India could lead to real trouble. In fact, Nehru fears a war between India and Red China because he would have to call in British and American (or United Nations) protection. India is a member of the Commonwealth of Nations and of the United Nations.

It begins to look as though the troubles in Asia, coming a fortnight before Khrushchev comes to the United States, could spoil the effectiveness of his visit here. The two views on this subject are:

1. That Khrushchev intends to ride into our land with a fanfare of explosion to show his power and his fearlessness. I do not hold to this view because it is self-defeating. It would so stiffen the backs of our people that it would not be long before Khrushchev would discover that we cannot be bullied and Eisenhower would find that his peace program had been defeated not in Moscow or Washington but in the southeast of Asia. Why come at all under such circumstances?

2. The other view is that Mao Tze-tung is making it very tough for Khrushchev. There can be several reasons for this:

First of all, Mao is an orthodox Marxist. He has clearly indicated that he does not approve the middle course (that is, within Marxism) that Khrushchev pursues. Mao was closer to the Kaganovich-Malenkov-Molotov group, which Khrushchev denounced as anti-party and exiled, than he ever was to Khrushchev.

Secondly, in the past Khrushchev's orientation has been eastward and he has supported Mao's empire-building throughout Asia. It will be recalled that Chou En-lai, Mao's Premier, sought to play the leading role at the Bandung Conference (1955). As far back as that Nehru must have suspected that Mao hoped to establish a hegemony over the whole East and South Asia.

What Mao must fear is that Khrushchev will go European on him. He must fear that a prolonged series of Summit meetings, constant personal contacts with heads of Western states, such fraternization as was evident during the Nixon visit, could reorient Khrushchev's position into a westward direction. Without Russian support, Mao could not last in China. He has depended upon Russia since he forsook philosophy for politics sometime about 1925.

Thirdly, it has been a sore point with Mao that despite Russian support, Red China has not been admitted to the United Nations and has not been recognized by the United States. Year after year, the Russians plead with the United Nations to admit Red China, which, as things stand, is an outlaw nation. Just as Khrushchev has recently been advocating two Germanys, so he has been advocating two Chinas, an idea which evoked considerable sympathy among the pro-Russians in the State Department.

Mao understands his own people and he knows that two generations will have to die before the hatred for Russia, long existent in China, dies off. Meanwhile, he is forced to show his dependence upon Russia because he has no voice in international councils. He can only talk through Russian mouths.

And now Khrushchev is coming to Washington and Eisenhower is going to Moscow and one thing can lead to another. Mao is an envious man. I can recall his hatred for Chen Tu-shiu who organized the Chinese Communist Party. Mao disliked in the Peking University such philosophers as Hu Shih and Chiang Monling, his contemporaries. An envious man can only view what Khrushchev is doing with bitterness. He, too, would like to be at a Summit—but how? Only through Khrushchev. It is not good enough.

This is not based on facts. It is a surmise that comes from long residence in China and some experience with Chinese habits of thought.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

The steel strike is now beginning to pinch and that is causing constantly increasing pressure on the Eisenhower administration to take action to settle it.

Strikers plus unemployment due to the shut-down total more than one per cent of the nation's labor force. This could mount to two per cent and more in the few weeks ahead. And there is no sign of a settlement in sight.

A faction in Congress is urging the President to take a personal hand in mediation efforts. This group wants Mr. Eisenhower to call in both management and labor to White House conferences on the issues involved.

Another group, primarily industrialists, are beginning to talk about invoking the Taft-Hartley law, which would provide an 80-day cooling off period, during which the steel mills would be reopened.

Thus far, Mr. Eisenhower has declined to intervene directly. He takes the position that his influence should not be brought to bear until there is a bona fide national emergency. At that time, presumably, he will bring the Taft-Hartley law into play.

In Washington, the impasse is looked upon as probably of long duration. The feeling is that there can be no concrete moves toward a settlement until the pressures on management and labor are more severe than at present.

When steel stocks have been drained to the point of creating a national emergency, one will be declared. Then, and only then, will Eisenhower take a personal try at settling the strike by persuasion and the moral force of his high office.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The scene was sickening. He knew it was coming. He braced himself against it. When it came, Joe Walsh's skin paled, the pegs on his violin nerves tightened, and he shook. He kept pleading with her that it wasn't lack of love; it was only that he didn't have the nerve to get married Saturday. That was all.

Later. Six months maybe. Alice stood in the plain living room, shaking her head. "Six months? Why not six years, Joe? It will give you more time to get your nerve up."

"Please," he said softly. "Please hon. I love you. I want to marry you. I don't care for anybody else. Is six months going to kill us?"

"If you say that once more," she said through locked teeth, "I'll scream. My father is not a rich man, Joe. You know this. You know he took every dime he has and put it into this wedding. Fourteen hundred dollars, Joe. The invitations are out. Holy Trinity Church is ready. It's Saturday, Joe. This is Wednesday."

He shook his head and sat. There was no use talking. She wouldn't understand. She didn't want to understand. It was lucky, in a way, that her mother and father were out. Her old man never thought much of Joe. Kept asking pointed little questions like: "What are you going to do with your life?" "Do you think there's any future in a filling station?" "Alice is my only child, Joe . . ."

Good they were out. The old lady would be hysterical by now. She wouldn't even go to a movie unless she got a good cry out of it. Still, Joe Walsh was sincere in the things he was saying. He did love Alice. He did want to marry her. He had gone through a couple of rehearsals at Holy Trinity and he felt his nerve slipping like a tired garter.

He knew that if he could get Alice to postpone this thing, that he could win her back later. She'd be mad. She'd stay mad for weeks. But she loved him as he loved her. She was talking. He picked up the monologue in mid-flight.

". . . but after six years, what can I tell people? I'm thirty, Joe. Who wants me now? It's you or nobody. What girl gets jilted after six years? Not this one," she said, tapping her chest. "Not me."

Joe talked and talked and talked. If necessary, he said, he would run away, but there was going to be no ceremony Saturday. At that point, Alice quit. She sat, a tired girl, looking older than she was.

"I'll tell you what," Joe said. "Let me take the rap for this. It's not so hard on a man if a girl jilts him. I show up at Holy Trinity Saturday with my best man. We wait. You don't show. You send some girl friend with a note. You have examined your conscience and you just don't love me. You feel mixed up. You're sorry for me and sorry for all the guests and all that stuff."

She listened. And nodded. "Okay," she said softly. "Okay. You're the boss. What do I tell my parents?"

"Anything you please," Joe said brightly. "That's your department."

"How about the gifts upstairs?"

"Send 'em back, hon. They can mail them to us again at Easter."

Alice shook her head. "There will be no Easter wedding," she said. "No wedding, period." She said that she would send a messenger to Holy Trinity on Saturday with a note for Joe. Then she asked him to leave. He wanted to kiss her goodbye, but she shoved him away with a vigor that surprised Joe.

On Saturday, Joe and the best man waited in Holy Trinity sacristy. Through the partly closed door, they could see the relatives and friends coming down the aisle, the women in big hats and bouffant dresses, the men exchanging little jokes with the ushers. "Stop figeting," the best man said. "I got the ring. You got the girl." Joe waited. He felt sorry for all these people; sorry most of all for Alice. He waited and waited. Where the heck was that messenger?

Then he heard the organ break into the crashing notes of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. He looked up the aisle like a trapped animal. Here came the attendants and, behind them, the radiant, triumphant Alice . . .

Workers Can Retire Without Undue Strain

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

At the turn of the century, life expectancy for men was in the neighborhood of 50 years. The average man died while actively employed and few companies had need for retirement plans and policies. Nowadays life expectancy for men is over 68, and retirement age 65 is mandatory in most organizations. No one knows why this age was selected because many men are energetic at 65.

Workers who plan ahead are less likely to be jarred by sudden change in habits, environment, and living conditions caused by retirement. Industry usually retires employes with pensions or a lump payment. It may be just as hard on management as it is for the retiree, as the change involves new personnel and costly adjustments all along the line.

Some companies have reached a happy medium on retirement so that neither party suffers. The worker retires with grace and the firm continues to receive the benefit of his know-how without interruption. The anticipation plan is one of the most popular. It allows the individual to orient himself and plan for the future, usually at age 63.

If the man decides to retire at 65, a company program is available to temper the event when it takes place. He is prepared mentally for retirement while still on the job. These two-year programs vary considerably from lectures to company social functions, more vacation periods and learning hobbies.

On the other hand, he may wish at 63 to continue working after age 65. Here he begins at 65 to be partially active and partially retired. The step to full retirement at 67 or 68 is made smoother because the change is not too abrupt. Meanwhile, his successor is allowed to take the initiative and stand on his own feet, with someone to fall back on if necessary.

TOMORROW: Cancer and intestinal polyps.

SCHOLARLY BOY

Mrs. R. writes: My son—an A high school graduate—expects to enter the university in the fall. What worries me is that he never has made friends. He prefers to spend his time studying. Should anything be done to make him more social minded?

REPLY

Many boys this age are serious minded and not particularly interested in the opposite sex or being sociable. Let him alone. Going away to college may be followed by an immediate change, especially if he lives with other students in a dormitory. There may be no change if he is going to live at home and attend a nearby college.

NONSNEEZER

R. P. writes: Can you tell me why I have not been able to sneeze for about two months?

REPLY

You have nothing to sneeze about. A real sneeze is difficult to produce voluntarily except by tickling the nose with a horse hair or by deliberately irritating your nasal passageways with dust or other allergic agents.

EPILEPSY

M. T. writes: Can an epileptic be operated on if he needs surgery?

REPLY

Yes. Most epileptics keep the convulsions under control with medication and the drugs are administered before and after the operation. Should a convulsion develop after surgery, the nurses and physicians will be on hand.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Chicago Wins Over Kansas City In Ten Innings, 3-2

Wynn Hands A's Eleventh Loss In Row

Sox Take Five-Game Lead; Yankees Bow Out Of Flag Chase

CHICAGO (UPI) — Luis Aparicio drove in Jim Rivera with a single in the 10th inning Tuesday night to give Early Wynn and the White Sox a 3-2 victory over the Kansas City Athletics and increase Chicago's American League lead to five games.

The victory was Wynn's 19th of the season and his first over the A's this year. The loss stretched the A's losing streak to 11 games and also had the effect of mathematically eliminating the fourth-place New York Yankees from the pennant race.

The White Sox, who led 1-0 on the three-hit pitching performance of Wynn going into the ninth were tagged for two runs.

They tied the score on Sherm Lollar's pinch single, John Romano's sacrifice and Al Smith's double. Wynn retired the side in order in the 10th and Rivera opened the White Sox half of the frame with a bloop double to center field.

Wynn was out bunting on a third strike and Aparicio lined his game-winning single to left field to score Rivera. Wynn, who was coasting to his first victory in four tries against the A's committed an error in the two-run ninth for Kansas City.

Russ Snyder singled, moved to third on Dick Williams' single and scored when Wynn's pitch eluded Romano. Snyder scored on the passed ball and Williams moved around to third when Wynn backed up the play but threw wildly to second base.

Bob Cerv's sacrifice fly scored Williams to put the A's ahead, 2-1 in the ninth.

A paid attendance of 28,238 boosted the White Sox home game total this season to a record 1,340,439, eclipsing the old mark set in 1951.

Four New Teams Enter Shuffleboard League

Men's Loop Opens 13th Race Sept. 17

The Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League will open its 13th season on Thursday, Sept. 17, with 20 teams — ten in the National Division and a like number in the American Division.

Four new clubs in the circuit are the Fort Ashby V.F.W., Cresaptown Firemen, Ruth's Tavern of Cumberland and Art Blank's Tavern of Zihlman.

The four 1958-59 clubs that dropped out are the Frostburg Eagles, Mt. Savage V.F.W., Woodmen of the World and Hann's Tavern.

NATIONAL DIVISION: Frostburg Republican Club, Purple Heart Club, Cresaptown Firemen, Hi-Dee Club, Sweitzer's Restaurant, Cumberland Moose, Ruth's Tavern, Fort Ashby V.F.W., Fisher and Robinette and Golden Nugget.

AMERICAN DIVISION: Owls Club, Frostburg American Legion, Southern Bar, Goodfellowship Club, Cumberland Knights of Columbus, Peck's Cafe, Cumberland D.A.V., Art Blank's Tavern, Cumberland Outdoor Club and Cumberland Eagles.

Shaughnessy playoffs will be conducted at the close of the regular schedule in both divisions and the two teams emerging will battle it out for the overall championship.

The next meeting of the league will be held at the Frostburg Republican Club, Wednesday, Sept. 16, at 8:30 p. m. All teams are requested to have a representative present to receive score books and stationery for the coming season.

Officers of the league are: Lynn Tharp, president; Ed Belfoure, vice president, and Paul Stitcher, secretary-treasurer.

U.S. Ryder Cup Team Is Named

Four Newcomers Among 10 Players

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The PGA Tuesday named four newcomers and six veterans to the United States Ryder Cup team which will meet the British Nov. 7-8 in Palm Desert, Calif.

The newcomers to the international cup competition are Julius Boros, Jay Hebert, Bob Rosburg and Mike Souchak.

Veteran of the team will be Sam Snead, who has been elected to the team seven times. Other veterans are Jack Burke Jr., Dow Finsterwald, Doug Ford, Cary Middlecoff and Art Wall Jr.

Brazilians Believe Athlete Gang Victim

NAPERVILLE, Ill. (UPI) — Brazilian athletes told police Tuesday they believe one of their teammates was robbed and murdered by the Chicago underworld while on a secret gun-buying mission.

Police followed up the report by picking up two members of the 200-man Brazilian squad which participated in the Pan American games at Chicago. The wrappings and case of a gun had been found in their room, police said.

The last words of Ronaldo Duncan Araentes, 26, to his teammates on the Brazilian rowing team were:

"I'm going to meet Al Capone and a beautiful girl."

The words were spoken at midnight Sunday on the campus of North Central College in this Chicago suburb. The next morning, Araentes' body was found on the campus, a revolver near his hand. He was shot through the heart and three pockets were ripped from his jacket.

Mesdames Pinto, Prichard Tie In Maplehurst Golf

Mrs. Robert Prichard and Mrs. Charles Pinto tied for first place yesterday in the blind bogey tournament held by the Women's Golf Association at the Maplehurst Country Club.

Mrs. Prichard posted a net 147-70—77 and Mrs. Pinto turned in a net 114-37—77 for the 18 hole event.

Mrs. Boyd Bolyard was the leader of the nine hole group with a net 75-35—40.

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT

Marty Cook defeated Helen Lacy, 3 and 1; Marie Goebel defeated Dolly Dean, 3 and 2; Ruth Wood defeated Eleanor Zehrbach, 3 and 2; Janet Palm defeated Ethel Adams, 6 and 4; Nellie Hilton defeated Mary Cook, 3 and 1; Melva Via defeated Louise Bampton, 4 and 3; Betty Groves defeated Dru Shriner, 4 and 3; Betty Hanna defeated Mary Pinto, 6 and 4.

(Eight losers make up the first flight.)

SECOND FLIGHT

Mary Peretti defeated Mamie Evans, 1 up, 19th; Janet Fearer defeated Mary Reidler, 1 up, 18th; Nadine Anthony defeated Jean Gracie, 6 and 4; Gwen King defeated Willa Griffith, 6 and 4.

Odds Makers Favor Giants And Chicago

Frisco 3-1 Choices And White Sox 10-1

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Chicago White Sox and San Francisco Giants have statistics and the oddsmakers on their side in their stretch drives for the major league pennants.

The White Sox went into Tuesday night's game against the Kansas City Athletics leading the second-place Cleveland Indians by 4½ games in the American League race. The Giants, idle Tuesday, lead the second-place Milwaukee Braves and Los Angeles Dodgers by three games in the National League.

In the last 10 years, only one American League team, the 1955 Cleveland Indians, lost first place after holding it on Labor Day. The National League pacesetter on Labor Day has appeared in the World Series seven times in the last 10 season. The three National League outfits that failed to make the series after leading on Labor Day were the 1956 Braves, the 1951 Dodgers and the 1949 St. Louis Cardinals.

And the Broadway oddsmakers, who never allow sentiment to obscure the dollar sign, also feel certain the 1959 series will be decided in Chicago and San Francisco.

In their revised quotations Tuesday, the odds makers made manager Al Lopez's White Sox whopping 10-1 favorites to win the American League pennant. They made manager Bill Rigney's Giants 3-1 choices. They listed the odds against the Braves or Dodgers catching the Giants as 5-1.

Both first-place clubs have 17 more games. Cleveland has 18 more games while Milwaukee and Los Angeles have 17 each.

The Giants have 12 games to go on an 18-game home stand, opening a two-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday. After Tuesday night's home game, the only contest scheduled Tuesday in the majors, the White Sox start an eight - game road swing through the east Wednesday night at Washington.

Aussies Reach Quarter Finals At Forest Hills

Laver And Emerson Defeat Reed, Bond

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Two of Australia's Davis Cup siege guns, Rod Laver and Roy Emerson, shot into the men's quarter-finals and upsets continued to shake the women's division Tuesday in the National Tennis Championships.

Laver, playing with a strained groin muscle and a bruised heel, erased Whitney Reed, the national college champion from Alameda, Calif., 6-1, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

Emerson got a teen-age tiger by the tail in skinny Bill Bond of La Jolla, Calif., and had to call upon all his vast experience and court acumen to beat the 17-year-old youngster, 6-2, 13-11, 6-2.

In the only other fourth-round match in the men's division, Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn, conqueror Monday of former Wimbledon champion Dick Savitt, led seventh-seeded Earl Buchholz of St. Louis 6-3, 7-5, 8-10 in a dramatic battle halted by darkness.

Buchholz, U. S. Davis Cup member and rated one of America's brightest young stars, fought off two match points in the 10th game of the third set and two more in the 12th, then finally broke Holmberg in the 17th.

Sally Moore Loses

Meanwhile, Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode of Forest Hills provided the third break in women's seeded ranks by eliminating virus-ridden Sally Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., seeded No. 8. The score was 6-2, 6-2.

Third-seeded Christine Truman of Britain defeated Karol Fageros of Miami 6-1, 6-4 after Miss Fageros led 4-1 and 40-15 on service in the second set.

Sandra Reynolds of South Africa, No. 2, and Ann Haydon of Britain, No. 6, also survived.

Miss Reynolds Scores

Miss Reynolds hitting the back corners with a shotgun forehand, fought off two set points in the second set for a 6-3, 10-8 victory over Donna Floyd of Arlington, Va. Miss Haydon, seeded sixth, whipped past 16-year-old Justina Bricka of St. Louis, 6-0, 6-1.

Chisox Purchase Rookie-Of-Year

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago White Sox announced Tuesday night the purchase of Camilio Carreon of the Indianapolis Indians, this season's rookie of the year in the American Association.

Carreon, a long - ball hitting catcher, will join the White Sox in Washington Sept. 11 or in Baltimore Sept. 17, a club spokesman said.

Carreon, a resident of Colton, Calif., is 22, weighs 200 pounds and is 6-feet tall. In 142 games with Indianapolis, he batted .312, driving in 90 runs with 21 doubles, 5 triples and 10 homers.

Navy crew coach Russell (Rusty) Callow is in his 37th year of coaching. He was born in Olympia, Wash., 68 years ago.

Hemmis, Krantz And Mitzel Score In Cycle Hill Climb

Local Rider Sweeps Both Pro Contests

Win Streak Reaches Ten; 1,500 Witness Holiday Program

Joseph W. Hemmis, Cumberland's 1959 national champion, swept both professional events, while Carlton Krantz, of North Tonowanda, N.Y., and Gordon Mitzel, York, Pa., shared amateur honors in the motorcycle hill climb program staged on Labor Day on the Oldtown Road 19 miles from Cumberland before a gathering of approximately 1,500 persons.

Hemmis, national point scoring champion, who won the national pro title at Muskegon, Mich., in August, won the first event in 6.18 seconds and came back to take the second contest in 5.97 seconds.

Wins Ten In Row

Riding his English Triumph, the Cumberlander extended his number of consecutive wins to ten. In 31 outings this year Joe has finished first 26 times. Points scored in yesterday's events count in the 1959-60 national race that ends prior to the championship events at Muskegon.

Krantz copped the first of the two amateur tests in 7.84 seconds, defeating Harold Werner, of Easton, Pa., who copped the national amateur crown at Muskegon, Mich., last month. Gordon Mitzel, son of the veteran Howard Mitzel, captured the second amateur event in 8.18 seconds.

"Red" Mosser of Altoona, Pa., was the official referee of the program which was run off in good time without any injuries. It was the first hill climb staged in the tri-state area since June, 1957. Thirteen professionals and eleven amateur riders participated.

1,000 Paying Patrons

One thousand persons paid to witness the slant riders perform.

The results:

FIRST AMATEUR EVENT:
1. Carlton Krantz, North Tonowanda, N. Y., 7.84.

LASALLE PREPS FOR OPENER — LaSalle High School's Explorers will try for the 27th time to defeat Fort Hill's Sentinels in a football game when the teams launch the 1959 Cumberland season Friday night at the stadium. In the 26 games played by the teams Fort Hill has won 25 and boasts a 23-game winning streak over the Explorer since the scoreless tie of 1938. Both schools have new head coaches this year. Shown above left to right, are: Harold "Buck" Shober, assistant coach, and Don Harden, head coach, of LaSalle. Four LaSalle players expected to see action in the opener shown above standing are: Carl Blake, senior tackle; Carroll Wilt, junior quarterback; Roger Saliga, senior guard, and Ray Mewshaw, senior center. Fort Hill's new head coach this year is Charles E. Lattimer. His assistant is Paul Flick.

Round Table's Next Outing Is Atlantic City

Millionaire Enters U.N. 'Cap, Sept. 19

MAYS LANDING, N. J. (UPI) —Kerr Stable's Round Table, the world's leading money winner who has amassed $1,614,539, heads east Wednesday for the toughest assignment of his illustrious career.

The brilliant four-year - old is scheduled to arrive from Chicago to prepare the Sept. 19 running of the $100,000 added United Nations Handicap in which he must carry 136 pounds, the highest of his career.

Round Table will be making his third appearance in the mile and three-sixteenth race over a grass course at the Atlantic City Race Track. He scored by a nose over Tudor Era in 1957 and last year was second by half a length to Clem.

During the weekend two owners accepted invitations to send their horses against Round Table, who on Labor Day set the 10th track record of his career in winning the Washington Park Handicap.

Crabgrass Stable elected to start Noureddin, winner of the Olympic Handicap and W. Cam Partee agreed to run Babu, the Brooklyn Handicap winner. Also scheduled to start are Tern, an Irish-bred colt, Amerigo, Grey Monarch and Terra Firma.

Vic Power of the Cleveland Indians and Hector Lopez of the New York Yankees were roommates when they played for the Kansas City Athletics.

William C. Day Retains County Singles Crown

William C. Day Jr., successfully defended his title on Labor Day by defeating Maurice Bernstein, 6-2, 6-3 and 6-1 on the Garlitz courts in the finals of the men's singles division in the Allegany County Tennis Tournament.

The win gave Day a second leg on the S. T. Little Jewelry Company trophy.

Finals in the mixed doubles between Mrs. Gordon L. Bowie and Calvin Hadidian and Betty Flake and Donald Hanekamp, originally set for today, has been postponed until later in the week.

American League managers Casey Stengel of the Yankees and Harry Craft of the Athletics played the outfield for National League teams.

Heavies Matched

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI) — Heavyweight Mike De John of Syracuse and Charlie Powell of San Diego will meet in a scheduled 10-round fight in the War Memorial Friday Sept. 25.

The bout will be televised nationally.

CCC To Host Maplehurst Club Sunday

Ponton Cops Peskin Memorial Tourney

Thirty-eight members of the Men's Golf Association at the Cumberland Country Club have been named for the return match with the Maplehurst Country Club of Frostburg which is scheduled for the local course on Sunday at 10 a. m.

The CCC team has won seven of eight matches and will be concluding its season on Sunday.

Locals Lead 5-0

The CCC-Frostburg series opened in 1957 and Cumberland has won five straight matches played to date. The scores in 1957 were 33½ to 14½ and 25½ to 13½. Last year the Christie Road linksmen won by scores of 50 to 13½ and 29½ to 24½. Maplehurst made its best showing on June 21 when it lost by only four points on its home course, 30½ to 26½ points.

Cumberland is 3-0 at home and 4-1 away this season.

Ponton Is Victor

Russell Ponton won the Morton Peskin Memorial Golf Tournament, a 36-hole handicap test, staged Sunday and Monday with a net 149-10—139. Ben LaNeve, 1958 winner, finished in the runner-up spot with 153-10—143. Third place went to Steve Johnson with a 149-4—145.

Steve Johnson won the Point Tournament with 36 tallies.

Results of first round matches played in the men's fall tournament were as follows:

Championship flight — Jerome Ellenson defeated Henry A. Johnson, 2 and 1.

Second Flight — Bert Mason defeated Ray Cannon, 2 and 1.

Fifth Flight — Merrill Barnes defeated Lester Deneen, 1 up, 18th, and Dr. Jack Arch defeated Bud Freedman, 1 up on the 18th.

Brown, Kerwin Fight Tonight

Columbus Is Scene Of Non-Title Bout

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Lightweight champion Joe Brown called by many the best fighter pound for pound in the ring and by others an aging veteran, meets Canadian welterweight champion Gale Kerwin in a 10-round non-title fight here Wednesday night.

The over-the-weight bout will be televised nationally by ABC at 10 p.m. e.d.t. The Columbus area will not be blacked out.

Brown, who won the 135-pound title by beating Bud Smith in August, 1956, ruled as a 4-1 favorite to defeat Kerwin, making his first start in a year due to illness.

Promotion adviser Ben Cowall said "if ticket sales keep going the way they have up until now it will be a sellout—or at least we hope so." It will be the first major fight in Columbus in many years.

Each fighter gets a guarantee of $4,000 from the television money. Brown will receive 30 per cent of the gate and Kerwin 25 per cent.

Yankees' Owned Plane Crashes

SOUTHAMPTON, L.I. (UPI)— A two-engine seaplane, flying to pick up Dan Topping, president and co-owner of the New York Yankees baseball team, crashed Tuesday about two miles west of Southampton.

The state police reported that the pilot and co-pilot were slightly injured. The plane, a Grumman Goose, carried no passengers.

The two injured men were taken to Southampton Hospital in a police car. The pilot, John Wagner, 46, of Huntington, N.Y., was reported in fair condition with lacerations and a chest injury.

The co-pilot, Michael Serriter, 35, of Sayville, N.Y., was treated for a nose injury and released.

Police said one of the aircraft's two engines failed and it crashed on the Shinnecock Indian Reservation about 2:45 p.m.

The plane was owned by the Yankees and was scheduled to pick up Topping, who had been vacationing in Southampton.

Old Exports Score Over Maple Inn

Brelsford Posts 13th Shutout, 4-0

Junior Brelsford recorded his thirteenth shutout victory of the season yesterday as the Homewood Tavern Old Exports defeated Maple Inn by the score of 4-0 and took a 2-1 lead in the best-of-five final playoff series in the County Softball League.

Homewood won the series opener, 5-0, and Maple Inn took the second game, 13-11.

The fourth game is billed for Friday at 6 p. m., at Wellersburg.

Brelsford, winningest pitcher in the league this season, notched his 26th victory against four losses, limited the opposition to two hits and struck out nine. Aided by two snappy double plays, the Homewood ace faced only 21 batsmen in the 7-inning contest.

Walter Basilio accounted for two of the eight hits credited to Homewood and batted in three runs. Brelsford batted in the other run with a sacrifice fly. "Tag" Often excelled at second base and Basilio made a sensational catch in right field.

Maple Inn's hits were credited to Dick Robeson and Darrell Glass. The latter featured in left field. Score:

Maple Inn	000 000 0	0	2 1

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — There hasn't been anyone on the MGM lot as glamorous as George Hamilton in many a year. I hate to use the word "glamorous" in connection with a 20-year-old-all-man star, but George is just that. When he was 17, he was engaged to marry Wendy Vanderbilt, daughter of Alfred Vanderbilt, but she was sent to Europe and he was shipped out to military school.

Now George has been signed for Cherokee Kid, the role Buster Collier created in the original "Cimarron." Glenn Ford, of course, has the lead, and as I told you, it's practically set for Susan Hayward to play opposite him. Sol Siegel has been trying to get John Fobhirector for this tale, which producer Edmund Grainer says will be filmed in its entirety in Oklahoma.

In 1945 before Lerner and Loewe got into a rut writing nothing but hits, they presented a short-lived show on Broadway called "Day Before Srping." Now all these years later with "My Fair Lady" and "Gigi" to their credit, they've taken "Day Before Spring" off the shelf, and Arthur Freed has persuaded them to do some new numbers so he can make it as a motion picture.

Arthur plans to use Luana Patten and other youngsters on the MGM lot.

Mickey Rooney goes into the Moulin Rouge Sept. 10, just about the time his latest wife, the former Barbara Thomas, expects their baby. He'll have associated with him Joey Foreman, and they have the same act they presented at Cal-Neva.

With all the alimony he has to pay, the Mick has to work hard. He says it's all deductible, but the first Mrs. Rooney and her two sons, the second Mrs. Rooney, (Martha Vickers) and that cute Teddy Rooney, and the last Mrs. Rooney all get sizeable checks, so that leaves Mick very little for himself and his fourth wife.

To the victor belongs pretty blonde Diane McBain—and hereby hangs a love story: Young Miss McBain, sent to Alaska by Warner Bros., for scenes in "Ice Palace," met Denny Victor there. Son of the fur king of Fairbanks, Denny was so smitten with Diane, he took her home to meet his parents. Later Diane wrote a letter to Dr. Richard Mani, of San Francisco, a medical student who had planned to enroll in a Los Angeles College just to be near her. She told him not to be too hasty about moving.

What Dr. Mani told her, I have no way of knowing, but certain it is that letters bearing the Alaskan postmark are reaching her daily. I never before heard of a mink-clad Cupid, but this could be the time.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved Mother Sarah A. Mellott who died September 9th, 1958.
Deep in our hearts lies a picture
Of a loved one laid to rest.
In memory's frame we shall keep it,
Because she was one of the best.
More and more each day we miss her;
Friends may think the wound is healed;
But they little know the sorrow
Lies within our hearts concealed.
Her loving children.

HINES — In loving memory of my dear husband and our father, William C. who passed away September 9, 1958.
We miss him there, such a vacant place
Oft we think we hear his footsteps,
And see his smiling face.
Days of sadness still come o'er us
Tears in silence often flow,
Memory keeps him ever near us
Though he left us one year ago.
Sadly missed by
His loving wife ALLIE,
and loving daughters BETTY
WANDA and PATRICIA.

Clarksburg Gridder Is Player-Of-Week

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Clarksburg Notre Dame halfback Steve Rysmus was named Tuesday as United Press International high school player-of-the-week in West Virginia for the first week of the 1959 season.

Rysmus reeled off touchdown jaunts of 17, 14, 30, and three yards as the Irish trounced Huntington High 46-21 last Saturday. He also scored one extra point.

Lightweight braces of titanium, as strong as steel but only half as heavy, are being used by polio victims.

Warriors Sign Beck, Sellari

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Philadelphia Warriors basketball team announced Tuesday that Ernie Beck, five - year veteran from Penn, and Tommy Sellari, backcourt rookie prospect from Lenoir-Rhyne College, have signed for the 1959-60 season.

Beck, a two-way performer in the front and backcourt, scored 369 points in 70 National Basketball Association games last season for a 5.3 average. Sellari, of New Kensington, Pa., averaged 10.9 points a game last season as captain of the Lenoir-Rhyne College team at Hickory, N.C.

The compound microscope was invented about 1590.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND
NOTICE TO DEALERS OF BUSINESS MACHINES

Sealed bids will be received by the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland, until the 25th day of Sept., 1959, at 10:30 a. m. (EDST) by its Clerk, the undersigned, whose address is the Court House, Cumberland, Maryland, for the purchase and installation of the following equipment in the office of the Allegany County Tax Collector:
ONE (1) COMPUTING TYPE TAX BILLING MACHINE
Specifications for said machine are as follows:
1. Adding machine type keyboard.
2. Machine must be able to compute assessments of 2 to 10 figures by multiplying two rates of 3 to 5 figures each and print the two separate answers through original and four copies.
3. Must be able to compute discount or interest of one or both answers and give net total.
4. Must be able to compute these operations at a minimum rate of 250 or more per hour.
5. Individual sheet totals of machine entries and results must be given at option of operator and accumulative totals at option of operator.
6. Must be able to print district number and assign each operation a consecutive number and must print in tax rates.
All bids must specify the complete price for the purchase, delivery and installation of said equipment in the Tax Office and shall indicate the delivery date.
The above bid will include maintenance and service of said machine and component parts thereof for a period of one year following date of complete installation and acceptance.
No bid will be received from any dealer unless the said firm or individual has a service representative competent to service said machine living within the confines of Allegany County.
Dealers submitting bids must furnish a performance bond in the amount of One Thousand Dollars for installation and delivery of said machine by March 1, 1960.
All bids shall be submitted in sealed envelopes marked, "BID FOR COMPUTING TYPE TAX BILLING MACHINE" on the outside of the envelope.
Following the installation of said equipment, the sucessful bidder shall be required to instruct selected personnel in the operation and maintenance of said equipment. Said course of instruction shall be furnished without additional cost to the County Commissioners.
The County Commissioners of Allegany County reserve the right to reject any or all bids, and specifically the right to purchase the equipment most suitable for use in the Tax Office.

New Orleans Seeks Berth In New Continental Loop

Group Is Seeking To Join Founding Cities In Circuit

By JOE SARGIS
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — The city of New Orleans made formal application for a berth in the Continental Baseball League Tuesday in a meeting with league president Branch Rickey and William A. Shea, chairman of the circuit's founders group.

Rickey, named president of the Continental League on Aug. 18, said he was satisfied with the application. He said consideration would be given to it along with those of several other cities which are bidding for the three remaining berths in the new major league.

Meeting with Rickey and Shea were Jack Defee, president of the New Orleans Pelicans of the Southern Association; Henry J. Calngne, Pelicans vice president; and Richard R. Dixon, executive secretary to mayor Delesseps Morrison of New Orleans.

Presentation Called Excellent

"They made an excellent presentation," Rickey said.

The group is seeking to join New York, Houston, Toronto, Minneapolis-St. Paul and Denver, the founding cities, in the Continental League. Shea announced formal organization of the circuit in New York on July 27. At that time, Shea said the league planned to begin its first major league season in 1961 with a minimum of eight cities.

Other cities which have evidenced interest in obtaining franchises include Buffalo, Montreal, Atlanta, Miami, Indianapolis, Dallas-Fort Worth, Seattle, Portland, San Diego and San Juan, P.R.

With a population area of 750,000—well over the minimum set by the heads of the American and National Leagues—New Orleans is the sixth largest city in this group. However, 26,000-seat City Park Stadium is the second largest of the current parks in the cities already in the new league or those under consideration.

Set Seating Capacity

At its organizational meeting, the Continental League set a minimum seating capacity of 35,000 for its parks.

City Park Stadium is the largest in the Southern Association—almost twice as big as Ponce de Leon Park in Atlanta, the southern city most often mentioned as likely to gain a berth in the Continental League.

Shea met on Aug. 19 with an Atlanta group seeking a franchise. The group consisted of Robert Chat and Jack Schaeffer, Chicago lawyers, and Lee Stern, an investor.

This group is said to hold an option on the Atlanta franchise in the Southern Association. Earl Mann, who owns the Atlanta club, is seeking to sell it for a reported $1,200,000.

Shea said at that time that there are "several other parties in Atlanta who have to be considered."

Saverine Put On Orioles' Roster

The 18-year-old shortstop was put on the major league roster to protect him against being drafted. Under a new baseball rule, any first year player in the minors may be drafted by a higher classification club for $15,000.

Saverine, to whom the Orioles gave an estimated $72,000 bonus, played his first season in organized baseball with Bluefield in the Class D Appalachian League for rookies.

Saverine, a native of Norwalk, Conn., led the league in batting with an average of .362. He is a switch hitter.

$968 Raised To Send Haiti Athletes Home

CHICAGO (AP) — A group of Chicago businessmen raised $968 Wednesday to finance the return trip to Haiti of an athletic team that took part in the Pan-American Games. The 49-member team ran short of funds to fly from Miami to Haiti.

Skins Get Stits

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Francisco Forty Niners defensive halfback Bill Stits, 26, was traded to the Washington Redskins Tuesday for an undisclosed draft choice, the Forty Niners announced.

Stits, of UCLA, came to the Forty Niners in a trade for John Henry Johnson after playing three years at Detroit.

ORDINANCE NO. 2117
AN ORDINANCE OF THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND, ENTITLED, "AN ORDINANCE TO RESTRICT HEAVY TRUCKS AND HEAVY EQUIPMENT FROM USING CERTAIN STREETS, ALLEYS AND HIGHWAYS LOCATED WITHIN THE CITY LIMITS OF CUMBERLAND; AND PROVIDING A PENALTY FOR THE VIOLATION THEREOF."

WHEREAS, certain streets, alleys and highways in the City of Cumberland were constructed many years ago; and

WHEREAS, many of said streets, alleys and highways in the City are now used by heavy trucks and equipment, for which use said streets, alleys and highways were not designed and great damage has resulted from such use of said streets, alleys and highways by said trucks and equipment; and

WHEREAS, many of the streets, alleys and highways in the City of Cumberland are narrow and were not designed for use by heavy trucks and equipment, which said streets are now being used by such trucks and equipment and as a result thereof traffic on such streets, alleys and highways has become congested and other hazards have resulted, all of which are a danger to life and property; and

WHEREAS many water and sewer lines were placed under the beds of certain streets, alleys and highways in the City of Cumberland prior to usage of the surface thereof by heavy trucks and equipment, which said streets are now being used by such trucks and equipment and damage to said water and sewer lines has been caused thereby.

NOW, THEREFORE:

SECTION 1. BE IT ORDAINED BY THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, That whenever it is necessary for the protection of any street, alley or highway, or the safety of traffic thereon to avoid congestion and other hazards which cause danger to life and property, the Mayor and City Council shall from time to time, by Order, designate and name streets, alleys or highways, or parts thereof within the City Limits of Cumberland, whereon a limitation of load or weight of vehicles using such streets, alleys or highways, or parts thereof, shall be established. All such orders passed by said Mayor and City Council shall be considered as a part of this Ordinance.

SECTION 2. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That where it is necessary to protect the surface and/or bed of streets, alleys and highways, the Mayor and City Council shall from time to time, by Order, designate and name streets, alleys or highways, or parts thereof within the City Limits, whereon a limitation of load or weight of vehicles using such streets, alleys or highways, or parts thereof, shall be established, and all such Orders shall be considered as a part of this Ordinance.

SECTION 3. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That whenever it is necessary for the protection of water and/or sewer lines located under the streets, alleys or highways, or parts thereof within the City Limits, the Mayor and City Council shall from time to time, by Order, designate and name streets, alleys or highways, or parts thereof, whereon a limitation of load or weight of vehicles using such streets, alleys or highways, or parts thereof, shall be established, and all such Orders shall be considered as a part of this Ordinance.

SECTION 4. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That after the erection of said signs, it shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm or corporation to drive or operate upon said streets, alleys or highways, any vehicle, the weight load of which shall be in excess of the limit set by Order and posted on said streets, alleys or highways.

SECTION 5. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That any person, persons, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance, or any order which is passed in accordance therewith, shall be subject to a fine of not less than Ten Dollars ($10.00) nor more than Fifty Dollars ($50.00) and, in default of payment of any fine imposed under this section, the convicted person shall be confined in the City or County Jail for not less than one (1) day nor more than thirty (30) days.

SECTION 6. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That any Ordinance or parts of Ordinances conflicting with the provisions of this Ordinance be and the same are hereby repealed.

SECTION 7. AND BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED, That this Ordinance shall take effect from the date of its passage.

Passed this 31st day of August, 1959.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

What Is Real Charm?

What is charm? Actually the word comes from the Latin "Carmen" meaning "song." But, you cannot define charm in one word, nor can you measure it with a ruler . . . its scope is too wide. Webster says "To charm means to subdue by secret influence; fascinate; captivate; bewitch." A charming woman is pleasing in the highest degree.

All this is what you want to achieve. And it isn't too difficult, nor is it a complicated matter. To make it easy, we have prepared a guide for you . . . to which you are welcome, free of charge. It will help you fulfill your individual talent for charm. Called "Ten Secrets of Charm," it is a reminder card you will want to refer to often . . . or better yet, memorize. If you do, you won't overlook any of the ways needed to impress all who come in contact with you. Send your request to me, today in care of this newspaper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Here is something very important to remember. A charming woman has not only outward beauty but great inner warmth. She must have a combination of both. Outward or surface beauty is that assemblage of qualities in a woman which give pleasure to the eye—like her costume, face and figure—even her grace. While inner beauty is of the spirit and the mind that shines through and makes even the plainest face attractive (now you know why I think there need be no unattractive women). A charmer has great consideration for those around her. I always remember what Shapespeare said: "A woman's kind heart and not her beauteous looks, shall win my love."

Tomorrow: Be Charming On Paper.

Tri-County Fair Opens Today At Petersburg

PETERSBURG—The annual Tri-County Fair will open here today with the premium list amounting to $6,000.

The West Virginia State sheep show will be a feature, with prospects of a bigger show than last year. Entries have been received for exhibits from 14 prominent purebred flocks and a number of junior show exhibitors. This will require housing in addition to the permanent pen facilities on the grounds.

At least six purebred beef cattle herds will be represented in the cattle show. The entries of feeder calves and baby beeves, always a feature attraction in the junior show, will fill the barns to capacity. Fair officials stated.

Justin Arnold, in charge of concessions, reports that the midway will be bigger than ever. A large array of exhibits also will furnish entertainment, he added.

The grandstand program, featuring five acts, the Honeycombs, rock and roll band; Jim Daring's Chimpanzies; Mable Carlson and her Hollywood Dogs and Ponies; the Skating Regals; and the Donnelly Comedy Act will be presented on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and evenings.

Opening day, as usual, will be Childrens' Day when all youth of school age are admitted free. The climax of the day's program will be a fireworks display by the Keystone Fireworks Manufacturing Company.

Thursday will feature the sheep show and the Tri-County Fair firemen's parade. The judges' stand will be located in front of the grandstand.

A bigger and better horse show is indicated by Clay Post, corresponding secretary. This feature will be presented Friday afternoon and evening.

Saturday afternoon will feature the traditional riding tournament which has attracted large crowds during the past two years. The event is sponsored by the Hardy County Tournament Association and a large number of knights from the area will be riding to exhibit their skill and horsemanship.

The crowning of the queen and maids, in front of the grandstand Saturday evening, will be followed by a country music show to conclude the program.

4-H To Meet

ELLERSLIE — 4-H Club will meet Friday evening September 11 at 7:30 at the home of Miss Linda Porter.

Opening lead: Deuce of ♠.

By yielding to the impulse to take a discard immediately, declarer in today's hand placed himself in a position where he had to guess for his contract and unfortunately went wrong.

South made a take-out double after East's third seat opening, since he had too much just to overcall. North responded with two diamonds and South jumped to three hearts, hoping his partner had some smattering of strength with which to carry on. North was happy to oblige.

West opened the deuce of spades and South ruffed East's continuation. When trumps failed to break, declarer left the high heart outstanding and cashed three rounds of diamonds, discarding a club. He then tried the finesse of the club queen, which went to West's king. Declarer subsequently had to give up a trick to East's jack and suffered a one trick set.

North offered the gratuitous information that the play of the ten of clubs would have won the hand. South in self-defense pointed out that, if East who opened the bidding had held the king and West the jack, the finesse of the ten would have been fatal, that he had made the best guess.

Neither of the disputants thought of the superior play. That the odds favor split honors is clear cut; that is to say, the chances favor the king and jack of clubs being in different hands.

In view of this consideration, it is not good policy to seek a discard of one of South's clubs but rather to retain two entries in the North hand to provide two finesses in that suit. By leading once to the king of diamonds and subsequently overtaking the queen of diamonds, declarer acquires those two entries. He first finesses the ten of clubs, and when this drives out the king he reenters dummy to repeat the finesse by leading the nine and permitting it to ride.

W.Va. Polio Cases Still Increase

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia polio incidence went to 76 last week with the addition of 14 new cases, most of them in Kanawha County, State Health Director N. H. Dyer said Tuesday.

The week's total was one more than the week before but three below the 16 reported during a corresponding week a year ago, Dyer said. At this time last year 79 cases of polio were recorded.

The 14 new cases included nine in Kanawha County, two in Fayette County and one each in Hampshire, McDowell and Marshall Counties.

When Alaska became the 49th state, the geographical center of the U.S. moved 439 miles from Lebanon, Kan., to a spot 11 miles west of Castle Rock, S. D. When Hawaii became the 50th state, however, the center moved only six miles farther west.

City Policemen Will Train School Patrols

Lack Of Women Guards Lamented

The Cumberland Police Department will cooperate with the Allegany County Board of Education in training members of the School Boy Patrol who shoulder the responsibility of assisting children across city streets while they are walking to and from school.

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore F. Fleming wrote a letter to School Superintendent Ralph R. Webster in regards to the women crossing guards, whose jobs were abolished recently.

Financial Problem

Commissioner Fleming pointed out the city was desirous of continuing the service although finances would not permit. Officers will be stationed at most dangerous intersections when possible, according to the commissioner, who said the school boy patrol was very effective.

Mr. Webster, who passed the letter along to the elementary school supervisors to be discussed with the elementary principals, pointed out that the women performed an overall good job and did a "wonderful service" for the children of the city. Personally he is sorry to see the program abandoned.

He said he feels the responsibility of protecting the children falls on the elementary principals who will be expected to step up the protection program.

Arthur G. Ramey, supervisor of transportation for county schools, has written a letter to principals of public and parochial schools reminding them to stress certain points in giving instructions to school boy patrol members.

He requests that maximum safety be afforded to students boarding or leaving a school bus, or at a street intersection or on the open highway.

Patrol Duties

Mr. Ramey stressed among other things that at street intersections and at street crossings within any town, the patrolman is to watch approaching traffic. He is to hold pupils on the sidewalk until he can guide them across the street in safety.

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday approved a contribution of $300 to the School Boy Patrol for public and parochial schools in the county.

Mr. Ramey appeared before the commissioners to request that they approve the expenditure for belts and badges for the several hundred members of the patrol. The belts and badges are purchased through the Automobile Association of America.

New Rotary Club Member

Committee Heads Named For Columbia Street PTA

Appointment of committee chairmen for the 1959-60 school year was made by Mrs. Marshall Sowers, president of the Columbia Street PTA, at a recent meeting of the association's executive board.

PTA officers besides Mrs. Sowers are Mrs. Fred Knippenberg, vice president; Mrs. George A. Flynn, secretary, and Mrs. David LaFon, treasurer. Mrs. Flynn, who had not been installed previously, was installed by Mrs. John Saville, chairman of the budget and finance committee.

Named as committee chairmen were Mrs. Perry Ambrose, magazines; Mrs. Jean T. Staggers, teachers' representative; Mrs. John Saville, budget and finance; Mrs. Jess Baker, hospitality; Mrs. Galen Metzger, membership; Mrs. Edward Eyler, home room mothers'; Mrs. Walter Herath, program; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brotemarkle, ways an dmeans; Mrs. William Williams, county council representative; Mrs. Ronald Chapman, librarian; Mrs. John F. Palmer, publicity, and Henry Sauer, cub pack representative.

"Our Home, Our Schools, Our Community" was agreed upon as the PTA theme for the school year.

The first general membership meeting will be held Thursday, September 17, at 7:30 p.m. at the school. A program of interest to all parents will be presented. The Fun Night program has been scheduled for Friday, October 23.

A letter was sent to the Mayor and Council protesting the elimination of the women crossing guards from busy intersections near schools.

Public Schools Of Maryland Resume Classes

By The Associated Press

Schools in 15 counties and Baltimore City opened their doors for the 1959-60 year Tuesday to about a half-million youngsters.

They joined 15,000 boys and girls already busy with class work in Dorchester, Garrett and Calvert counties, who got an early start last week.

Wednesday, schools in Allegany, Charles, St. Marys and Washington counties start classes for about 48,000 more in grades 1 through 12. Howard County will admit about 7,000 Thursday.

In addition, about 70,000 parochial students return to classes Wednesday in 152 elementary and secondary schools.

State Department of Education statistics show that 27,059 additional children in grade school were expected over the total taught last year.

The reports also added an estimated 2,000 kindergarten pupils to the record enrollment of 561,240 pupils, jumping the total in Baltimore City and the 23 counties to 583,240.

Dorchester, the first to open public schools, enrolled 6,060 a week ago. Garrett County had 4,805 pupils on the opening day last Wednesday. Calvert County had 4,110 pupils reporting on Thursday.

Building Contracts Drop In July

July contracts for future construction in Maryland totalled $69,227,000, a decrease of two per cent compared to July 1958, according to F. W. Dodge Corporation.

A breakdown of contracts by the major construction categories in July, compared to the corresponding 1958 month, showed non - residential at $24,267,000, down five per cent; residential at $31,811,000, up one per cent, and heavy engineering at $13,149,000, down one per cent.

Dodge figures show that contracts for the first seven months of 1959 amounted to $434,594,000, up 11 per cent compared to the corresponding period of 1958.

Local Motorist Fined Following Collision

A local motorist was found guilty of two motor vehicle violations and fined $150 yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court in connection with a collision Saturday afternoon on Thomas Street.

Fred D. Shook, 48, of 449 Columbia Street, was given a suspended $25 on a reckless driving charge and fined $150 on a second count by Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt.

Officers Carl Stouffer and Charles Cubbage arrested Shook following an accident in which he struck a car operated by Paul Martin. Mr. Martin was slightly injured in the crash and was treated at Memorial Hospital.

City Supports VA Loan Plan

The City of Cumberland yesterday backed the campaign being waged by Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, for direct VA home loans here.

The Legion post has asked the VA to conduct a survey leading to the qualification of the city for direct loans.

The action, the Legion said, would enable many veterans to qualify for home loans before the World War II application deadline next July.

The Mayor and Council also gave permission to the County United Fund to erect a banner across Baltimore Street and a scoreboard at City Hall in connection with the $338,781.50 fund campaign.

In routine action, city officials accepted a number of August reports.

Collections at the City Scales totaled $150.91 for the month.

75-Year-Old Widow Does Part Toward CUF Drive

She is in her golden years. She is a widow, living on a $60-a-month pension. She is 75 years old.

Last night, she was doing an act of charity, helping to care for a friend who was injured in a holiday accident. She overheard her friend's husband, a Golden Gifts worker in the current campaign to raise $118,000 in advance gifts for the 1959 County United Fund, talking on the telephone.

He was making a report to William E. Crooks, who, with Lewis J. Ort, is co-chairman of the Golden Gifts division.

When he had completed his report, which will be included with others at a Golden Gifts report meeting at the Fort Cumberland Hotel at noon today, the good lady asked him if there would be a house-to-house solicitation for County United Fund in Cumberland this year.

Informed that no such canvass is planned — since most people give where they work—she handed the CUF worker a $5 bill.

"I want to do my part," she said. "Can you take this now? I wouldn't want to be left out."

CIDC Directors To Be Elected September 15

Membership Lists Are Being Mailed

Members of the Cumberland Industrial Development Company will elect a board of directors at a meeting to be held in the Fort Cumberland Hotel ballroom Tuesday, September 15, at 7:30 p.m.

Five directors will be elected to serve until June, 1962; five, to serve until June, 1961, and five to serve until June, 1960. In addition to recommendations of a nominating committee, nominations will be received from the floor at the meeting.

Within a few days following their election, the directors will meet to organize and elect officers of the corporation.

CIDC membership lists and proxy forms wil be mailed Wednesday to all known voting members of the corporation.

Others who intend to become members of the corporation and who wish to participate in the election of directors must deliver their pledge cards to the Cumberland Industrial Development Company, 610 Liberty Trust Building, by noon, Tuesday, September 15.

Each subscriber is eligible to cast one vote for each $100 pledged, but no subscriber is entitled to more than 10 votes.

At present, 176 subscribing individuals and firms are eligible to attend and cast ballots in next Tuesday's election.

Members will elect a temporary chairman and secretary to conduct the meeting and the election.

37,371 Now Eligible For Vote

Only 13 Signed During August

During the month of August a total of 13 Allegany County residents registered at the office of the Board of Election Supervisors.

And during the same period the names of 31 persons, who died in August, were removed from the registration ledgers.

John R. Kelly, chief clerk, said yesterday the total number of registered voters in the county as of September 1 was 37,371 including 21,092 Republicans, 16,009 Democrats, 258 who declined to give party affiliation, 10 Socialists and two members of other parties.

Of the 13 who registered during August, 11 are Democrats and two are Republicans. In that month 16 of the deceased persons were Republicans while 15 were Democrats.

Mr. Kelly said four party affiliations were changed and the four persons re-registered as Democrats.

Six persons transferred from one district to another, two changed address only and one name was removed by request, he said.

The board's office in the Court House basement is open for registration from 9 a. m. until noon and from 1 until 4 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Salem Council To Confer Degrees

Salem Council No. 11, Royal and Select Masters, will hold a meeting tonight in the Masonic Temple here.

The meeting will begin at 6:45 p. m. by a special dispensation of the Grand Council, and will include the conferring of the Royal and Select Master degrees on about two dozen candidates.

Present for the ceremony will be Grand Thrice Illustrious Master Pgad Morehouse, Baltimore.

A chicken dinner will be served following the conferring of the degrees. All members are urged to attend.

Youth Missing

Frank White, 16-year-old Valley Road youth, has been reported missing to City Police by his father, Roy White. The boy, described as five feet, six inches tall, 130 pounds with light brown hair and blue eyes, was wearing a red shirt and blue jeans. He is believed in the company of another 16-year-old boy.

First School Luncheon Will Be Served Friday

That will be the school lunch menu for children of Allegany County public schools on Friday, the first full day of the 1959-1960 school term which opens this morning at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Gladys M. Eaton, supervisor of cafeterias in county schools, said yesterday that it is not known just how many children will be eating lunch at school cafeterias on Friday.

Last September an average of 9,137 children ate in the cafeterias during that month. The year before 12,366 children ate lunch at the cafeterias during the average September day.

The lunch price will remain the same as last year—25 cents for children of the first three grades and 30 cents for children in other grades.

Cafeteria managers have received menus which will be in effect from the Friday through October 9 and by September 15 the managers will have the October 9-November 6 menus.

This year menus will be the same in all schools with the exception of Allegany, Fort Hill and Beall high schools. Previously each manager made out her menu and it was checked for nutritional content by Mrs. Eaton.

Now the menus for a month will be prepared by Mrs. Eaton and five cafeteria managers. Each manager will be called in twice a year to serve on the board that makes up the meals.

On Saturday, September 26, all school cafeteria managers will attend a demonstration on preparation of various foods by a nationally-known expert in her field.

Miss Gertrude Eckstine, of Standard Brands, will show various ways of using gelatines and puddings in school menus during the demonstration at Columbia Street School.

Md. Commission Will Discuss Nursing Homes

The third meeting of the new State Commission on the Aging will be held on Thursday evening, September 17, in the Baltimore City Hall.

This meeting will be of special interest to all who are concerned with the need of nursing home facilities for the aged, since the major feature of the meeting will be a hearing on the Nursing Home Bill which passed the Maryland Senate last April, but failed of passage in the House of Delegates.

The hearing is scheduled for 8 p. m. in the Baltimore City Council Chamber before the full Commission, with Mrs. Margaret C. Schweinhaut, delegate from Montgomery County and chairman of the Commission, presiding.

The new 16-member Commission, which was created by the first bill signed into law by Governor Tawes, will take a fresh look at the Nursing Home proposal which has been before the last three sessions of the General Assembly without being enacted into law. The Commission is anxious to hear all points of view with reference to the proposal to grant State aid, in addition to Federal aid, toward the construction of public and non-profit nursing homes in Maryland.

The hearing will be open to the public and all who have information on the subject to present to the Commission are invited to be present.

Home Permits Issued Here

Permits for two new homes and an addition to a present dwelling have been issued to Allegany County residents by the assessing department.

Robert L. Dowling, Bedford Road, was issued a permit to build a brick veneer home at a cost of about $7,000. The home which will measure 38 feet by 26 feet, will have a concrete block foundation and a composition shingle roof and a cellar.

Lee W. Hartsock, RD 2, Flintstone, was granted a permit to build a brick veneer dwelling which will measure 26 feet by 48 feet and will cost about $6,500. It will have a concrete block foundation, composition shingle roof and a cellar.

Ray Dom, 912 National Highway, LaVale, was issued a permit to construct a 12 feet by 45 feet addition to his home at a cost of about $3,000. It will be constructed of concrete block with a concrete foundation.

Cancer Society Awards Grant

A grant of $8,750 has been awarded to Dr. Ward B. Allan by the American Cancer Society for research at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine in Baltimore.

The grant will be used for further investigation of "The Methods for the Production of Cough and Sputum in the Early Recognition of Lung Cancer."

Health Workers Await Polio Shot Supply

Vaccine Promised Here By Next Week

Hundreds of persons phoned the Allegany County Health Department yesterday to ask when polio immunization shots will be resumed.

They were told that the shots will be resumed in child health clinics as soon as vaccine supplies, promised by the State Health Department by next Monday, are received.

The Health Department here has kept adequate supplies of vaccine on hand at all times until three weeks ago, when rising polio cases triggered a sudden nationwide demand for the vaccine.

Studies of last year's polio cases indicate that the probability of contracting paralytic polio has been reduced on an average of 75 per cent for those who have received the basic series of three injections of Salk vaccine.

The protection runs as high as 90 per cent for some groups of children, the U. S. Public Health Service reports.

Proof that the protection is not absolute came here Monday with the death here of a 7-year-old Bowman's Addition boy of bulbar poliomyelitis.

When the new vaccine supply arrives, it will be used in child health clinics for the basic course and for booster shots.

The department has no plans at present for polio shots in the schools, which is being discouraged "in favor of immunization of young infants, combined with the efforts of physicians to meet some of the economic obstacles," according to the July bulletin of the Health Department.

Polio Attack Is Fatal To Local Youth

Michael Miller, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Miller, Bowman's Addition, died Monday in Memorial Hospital of bulbar poliomyelitis.

His was the first death of the year in the county attributed to polio.

Young Miller became ill Saturday and was hospitalized Sunday. A portable respirator was brought to the hospital from Altoona and Maryland State Police rushed other equipment here from Baltimore.

The youngster had received three shots of the Salk vaccine and was not yet due for his fourth inoculation.

It was learned through the County Health Department yesterday that only one other death occurred within the county over the last five years. That was Donald Frye, who died at the age of 23 in 1957.

The Miller boy was a first grade student at Northeast Elementary School. He was born June 30, 1952.

His mother was the former Miss Ruth Lee Tucker.

Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers, Mark B. and Robert F. Miller, both at home; his paternal grandfather, Robert W. Miller; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Harry Payne, city, and maternal grandfather, Benjamin Tucker, Moundsville, W. Va.

Services will be conducted today at 12:30 p. m. at the Scarpelli Funeral Home by Rev. Robert Nimon.

Rubber Workers Accept 10 Cent Wage Package

Members of Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, yesterday approved a 10-cent wage package at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant.

A. E. Johnson, president, said the "across the board" wage package was ratified at two membership meetings held yesterday.

Bowling Green Water Meeting Set

Bowling Green representatives will meet with officials of the City of Cumberland September 14 at 7:30 p. m. in the Mayor's Office.

The conference will be one of a series being held with officials of area communities in connection with a new water rate schedule.

Iron Workers To Return To Sugar Grove

Subsistence Issue Will Be Arbitrated

Construction on the big radio telescope being built for the Navy at Sugar Grove, W. Va., will resume today as iron workers report back to the job.

Work on the mammoth project halted last week as a result of a dispute over $5 a day subsistence payments to iron workers employed on the site.

Samuel O. Philip Jr., business agent of Cumberland Local 568, Iron Workers Union, said iron workers were ordered by the International union to resume work while the issue is arbitrated.

He said all 73 members of the local assigned to the project are expected to report to work today with the American Bridge Company and the Penn Southern Construction Company.

The latter firm, he said, has agreed to pay the allowance and negotiations are continuing with the other firm.

Mr. Philip said the dispute erupted last Wednesday and that several meetings were held with contractors on the issue.

The return of the iron workers will be the signal for the resumption of work by Carpenters and Teamster union members, who failed to report for work after the dispute broke out.

The radio telescope, largest of its kind, will have a 600-foot dish antenna and is scheduled for completion in 1962.

Fall Camporee Of Boy Scouts Starts Oct. 2

Polish Mountain Site Selected

Plans have been completed for the fall camporee for Boy Scouts of Nemacolin Trail District which will be held October 2-4 near Flintstone.

The camp site for this year's event is located seven miles east of Flintstone near the eastern slope of Polish Mountain. The exact location will be marked with signs from U.S. Route 40.

The purpose of the camporee is to promote fellowship and for the opportunity for scouts to learn about camping from each other.

Troops from Nemacolin Trail District will report to the camporee site between 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. on Friday, October 2. The event will close at 2 p.m. Sunday, October 4.

A campfire program will be held Saturday, October 3, following the evening meal. Parents of the youths attending the camporee will be invited to the program. Members of troops also may invite their parents to participate in a family picnic style meal on Saturday.

City To Buy Police Uniforms

The Mayor and City Council will receive sealed bids until 10 a. m. Thursday, September 24, at the city clerk's office for 53 patrolmen's uniforms.

Chief Gaffney said the blouse and one pair of trousers will be supplied for each member of the department. Officers who need new caps also may purchase them while being fitted for their new uniforms he said.

The chief noted that the single pair of trousers will be bought at this time as many members of the police force already have been issued new trousers this year. The department will buy additional trousers for the patrolmen as they are needed in the future, Chief Gaffney added.

The uniforms will be furnished in accordance with certain specifications which may be obtained at the office of the city clerk. Each bidder will furnish his own specifications as to workmanship with samples of materials to be used in the uniforms.
